Misses Lillian and Birdie Clineard leave Monday for a visit to the Jamestown Exposition. After spending a while with their aunt, Miss Julia Smith, in Norfolk, they go to Washington and New York for short stay.

The Aristocrats Gasoline-less. The automobiles of the aristocrats of Charlotte were too weak to sputter Friday afternoon on account of the scarcity of gasoline.

The Standard Oil Company, which usually has everything but information needed in a witness stand, was entirely out of fuel, and the automobile establishment of Mr. A. Burwell, Jr. had not a single drop, while the garage of Mr. O. L. Barringer could answer questions only to the extent of six gallons.

The chauffeurs of the elite sped along Friday night, thinking that they would get a rest for several days, but the Standard received a supply yesterday morning and furnished it to the hungry machines without increasing the price on account of the heavy demand.

The automobilists scorched last night as usual.

George Spittle Exonerated. The fire committee of the board of safety met yesterday afternoon and investigated the gossip about George Spittle in connection with the Powers affair, and after having examined six witnesses, exonerated him.

Harry Taylor, the boy who clerked for Harry Powers, was the only witness that said he saw Mr. Spittle take a drink, and he was not certain.

George Spittle admitted that he took one drink with Powers, but that was all. The committee believed that it was due to look into the charges which were in the air but never reduced to paper.

At the Park. In conjunction with the regular play next week Colonel Peters has secured Prof. Rand's indoor dog circus. The play will be "Rip Van Winkle."

This is the first time that "Rip Van Winkle" has ever been played by a popular-priced company in Charlotte, and the first three nights of this week should witness large crowds at the park.

Nasal Catarrh Cured. My little girl was a sufferer from Nasal Catarrh for six months. The trouble was in her nose, which discharged freely, a discharge which was offensive, and wherever it would touch the lips or face it would make a sore. Her general health gave way, she became weak and lost her appetite. We tried doctors' treatment for two months without any benefit or relief. We then tried Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and one bottle and a half of the Remedy and one of the Wash packages made a perfect cure. She was cured two years ago and has never had a touch of the trouble since. MRS. L. H. LEARY, Ahsoskie, N. C., April 31, 1906.
