Chester 2: Rock Hill 1. Special to The Observer.

Chester, S. C., Aug. 16 .- The aggregation of ball players from Rock Hill went down in defeat for another time this season before Chester this afternoon in a lively and fast game. Anderson was hit hard, while the visitors succeeded in getting only two little bingles off Matthews. A fair-sized crowd saw the game, but the attendance to-morrow promises to be much better. It will no doubt be a hard fight, but Chester will do her best to win the game, which will probably be the last on the local

GRAND CIRCUIT RACE MEET ENDS

Top-Heavy Favorites Winn All Three

Final Day Events.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Topheavy favorites won all three races on the last day of the Grand Circuit meeting. Lillian R., an almost prohibitive favorite, won the 2:09 trot easily. Wilkes Hart, winner of the 2:12 trot in straightheats, was favorite. Byron Kay broke at the three quarters in the first heat of the 2:16 pare and finished tenth. Geers neatly drove Byron Kay out of a pocket in the second heat and going around the bunch won with comparative ease. He had the third and fourth heats all his own way. Summary: Final Day Events.

Mrs. D. W. Kesler Regains Rationality.

Special to The Observer. Salisbury, Aug. 16.-Mrs. D. W. Kesler, the victim of a brute Wednesday afternoon, was brought to Salisbury this afternoon from her home nine miles in the country and is now with her Salisbury relatives. She has entirely regained rationality and is in good spirits, but the past is still almost a dream. The community in which Mrs. Kesler was living at the time is still in search of the man, but there is small likelihood of ever catching anybody, as the clue to him is necessarily indefinite. There is no danger that Mrs. Kesler will not recover entire possession of herself.

You're too old to fool with patent medicines, though advertised in religious papers. The Mutual B. & L. is not exactly a panaces, but it cures love-sickness, home-sickness and lonesomeness in the pocketbook. It aids digestion by providing safe investment for the rich, relieves poverty by helping to save and accumulate, dissipates despondency by practical and speedy methods, supplants indifference with laudable ambition, which, in time, it gratifies; prevents suicide by creating self-respect, prevents drunkenness by using your spars money for noble purposes.

It can't cure fools, however, and doesn't pretend to; so if you're
