

AMUSEMENTS

A Coming Attraction. Charles Frohman's "The Rollicking Girl," that successful musical production which established the phenomenal record of a two hundred and fifty nights' run at the Herald Square Theatre, New York, will be at the Academy next Thursday.

Snitz Edwards, in "The Rollicking Girl."

entertainment famous in New York. In the principal comedy role of "Schmaltz," the wig-maker, Snitz Edwards has scored the particular bit of his career and has been surrounded by a cast of comedians, singers and dancers; and most particularly a beauty chorus that is conceded to be second to none.

The song hits in "The Rollicking Girl" have gained great favor for the country over, and among them are "Indians on Broadway," "Tricks," "Love-Dovey," "Susan," "Friends That Are Good and True," and the sensational swing song. Also a small army of the nimblest dancers that ever twinkled their toes on a stage, make "The Rollicking Girl" a delightful entertainment that will ever remain in popular favor.

A HAPPY DELUSION.

Tourists See Kenilworth Inn. An Imposing Hotel, and Mistake It for Vanderbilt's Fine Mansion. "An interesting incident occurred on an eastbound train out of Asheville the other day," said Mr. Samuel L. Rogers, of Raleigh, at the Selwyn yesterday. "I saw a long-faced, intelligent lady in the seat in front of me and was studying her features for the pleasure of the thing when an entire family of tourists come in and occupied seats on the opposite side of the aisle. I turned my attention to the newcomers.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.

Pipe Bending Company Advertising Notice of Dissolution. Where, it appears to my satisfaction, he duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Pipe Bending Machine Company, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated at No. ... street, in the City of Charlotte, County of Mecklenburg, State of North Carolina, J. W. Conway being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served, has complied with the requirements of Chapter 21, Revised of 1905, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution.

Merchants Are to Blame. Many ladies of the city are complaining of the dirty sidewalks, which soil and ruin their skirts. They blame the merchants for not sweeping in front of their stores as often as they should do.

A TRUCKING SECTION.

Humboldt, Tennessee, a City That is Growing Rich From the Trucking Industry. Humboldt, Tennessee, Mecklenburg County Should Follow Suit. "I have just returned from a trip through west Tennessee," remarked a well informed citizen to an Observer yesterday, "and I was struck with the fact that Humboldt should have a section that is reaping the harvest of gold from the soil by trucking."

"The truckers have an association and pay an agent so much per crate to sell their output. The agent makes a fine thing out of it and gives him entire time in its development. He is on the watch for new and fresh markets all the while and is the brains of the enterprise. The crops are shipped to the Northern and Western centers and even to Canada. The industry was commenced about 15 years ago in a small way and has grown steadily ever since. The above figures give little idea of its magnitude.

"I am sure that they can if they only will. The soil here is just as fertile as that of west Tennessee. The country is just as well watered and possesses as many natural advantages. In many respects Mecklenburg is better suited for trucking. The roads are finer and the crop

MARRIAGES.

Orphans Sing at Statesville. Special to The Observer. Statesville Aug. 23.—Sixteen children and their teacher, Miss Sattie Marier, from the Masonic Orphanage at Oxford, gave their annual concert at the courthouse Wednesday night. The large auditorium of the handsome building was filled to overflowing and the concert has been pronounced by many as the best ever given by the class from the orphanage. The children are trained almost to perfection and a lengthy programme was rendered in such a manner as to win much praise for the children, their teacher and the institution which they represented. Every number on the programme was heartily applauded by Mr. and Mrs. James A. Uphart. Arrive at Salisbury. Correspondence of The Observer. Salisbury, Aug. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. James A. Uphart, of Rowan now, but the bride formerly Miss Jennie Schloss of Chicago have arrived in Salisbury after their marriage in Chicago last Thursday. The union was the result of a friendly matchmaker who paved the way for a correspondence that evolved into a love affair that ended last week as a courtship. Mrs. Uphart is a good-looking German and has married a good old Rowan man. Hines-Nunn Nuptials Announced. Special to The Observer. Winston-Salem, Aug. 23.—Invitations to the approaching marriage of Miss Susie Nunn and Mr. J. R. Hines have been received in the Twin City. Miss Nunn is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nunn, of Highway, Va., and a graduate of Salem Academy and College. Mr. Hines is a well-known young business man of Mount Airy. Both have a large number of friends in Winston-Salem. Mebane-Clark at Greensboro. Special to The Observer. Greensboro, Aug. 23.—The marriage of Mr. Cornelius Mebane Jr. and Miss Minnie H. Clark was celebrated here last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. W. Clark, on Third street. Only a few invited guests were present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Murphy Williams, pastor of Walker Avenue Presbyterian church. After the wedding the couple left for a bridal tour. Mr. Mebane holds a position with Harns-Balk, a real estate company. His bride is an attractive young woman, who has previously taught school in the city.

MISS WOODLEY'S SAD DEATH.

A Young Woman of Unselfish Christian Character Suddenly Called Away—A Successful Teacher and Recently Elected to a Chair at Her Alma Mater, Guilford College—Funeral Services This Morning. The funeral services of Miss Isabel Woodley, who died early yesterday morning, will be held this morning in St. Peter's Episcopal church. Rev. Harris Mallinckrodt will conduct the services, and the vestrymen of the church will act as pall-bearers. In the death of Miss Woodley Charlotte loses one of her noblest and best young women. She was of that high type of Christian womanhood which is exemplified by strong faith in God, and unselfishness of life. She found her chief pleasure in giving help and happiness to others. Much of her time for the past several years she has devoted to teaching, and here she displays the same unselfish spirit, for she taught much of the time in schools established for the poor, especially when by going elsewhere she could have received a much larger salary. She was a young woman of brilliant intellect and thorough education. She was a graduate of Guilford College, and had been elected a member of the faculty of that institution for the coming year. She looked forward with pleasure to her work as teacher at her alma mater, and was busily engaged in preparation for going there at the opening of the school year when the summons came which called her to her eternal home. Her illness was of short duration, and her death came as a great shock to her family and friends, none of whom had any intimation of it until within a few hours of the end. When the sudden loss of this young woman she realized the seriousness of her condition, and while she had much for which to live, yet death had no fear to her and her going away meant but a step from earth to heaven. She is survived by her father, Dr. W. T. Woodley, Mrs. Woodley, a sister, Mrs. W. A. Cook, of Pinehurst, and one brother. Mrs. Cook came several days ago to be with her sister.
