This opinion ame from one who is somewhat in sensational situations, and when umpire O'Day, of the National League, called the play off on account of darkness most of the 24, 377 speciators signed with relief and went home well satisfied with the outcome.

Overall and Donovan were the opposing pitchers, but the former was taken out when Chicago had tied the acore in the minth inning and had men on bases waiting to score the winning runs. Moran was sent in to bet for him, but before the latter had time to deliver the needed hit, Evers tried to steal home and was out by a narrow margin, retiring the Evers tried to steal home and was out by a narrow margin, retiring the side. Reulbach finished the game and for three innings retired Detroit's heavy hitters without the semblance of a hit. The work of all the pitchers was first-class, but Donovan had a shade on his rivals in that he struck out 12 of the opposing batsmen. His second base on balls was costly, but with good support he would have won his game. The enlarged stands were packed to capacity, while a thin fringe of enthusiasts occupied standing room in deep centre field. Whatever ground rules may have been formulated were not in vidence, as non of the 19 hits rules may have been formulated were not in vidence, as non of the 19 hits went outside the playing space.

The game was called at 2:39 eclock, but four hours before that time long lines of would-be spectators were besigning the gates and good naturedly struggling to be first through the gates so as to secure through the gates so as to secure points of vantage. It was an extremely good-natured crowd, remarkable for its spirit of fair play and courtesy and the half hundred police had no trouble at all in keeping it within bounds.

The game itself was evenly con-tested. Both teams were under fire, Chicago mixing two of its errors with two hits in the eighth inning, when Detroit scored all three of its rans, while the visitors returned the compliment in the next inning, allowing Chicago to tie the score.
Captain Coughlin's error came in this inning and was costly. With runners on first and second he allowed an on first and second he allowed an easy grounder from Evers' bat to get away from him, filling the bases. After that two runs came across, one on a passed ball, Schmidt failing to hold Howard's third strike. While this was going on Overall retired from the game and when the against his curves and shoots such batsmen as Schaefer, Crawford and Cobb were helpless.

The game was scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock, but nearly 19 min-utes were consumed while Cobb, Detroit's right fielder, was presented with a huge gold medal set with diamonds as a reward for leading the American League in batting in the season just closed. A long conference between Managers Chance and Jennings and Umpires O'Day and Sheridan also delayed the start. The tabulated score:

Movements of Politicians Show Plan to Nominate New York stovernor, Heliand, in Philadelphia Press.

In view of the departure of President Roosevelt for a somewhat prolonged excursion through the West. South, anis Mississippl Valley, and the probability that some demonstrations serving to show the intensity and tenacity of the confidence in a and admiration for the President will then be made, one of his true triends in this city was asked this morning what in his opinion is to be the presidential politics of the Republicans, soon to begin in this State through the meeting of the Republican State committee.

This friend frankly confesses that he would, regret the second nomination and election of President Roosevelt to what is practically a third consecutive term, and in great part because, understanding well the temper of the American people, and their peculiar disposition to shift with great suddenness their opinions, as was shown during the time of the second term of Grover Cleveland, President Roosevelt would, if he were to serve a third consecutive term, find himself third consecutive term, find himself constantly in danger of being con-fronted with one of those violent tem-pests of public opinion of which the history of American politics contains so many narratives.

He should appear to follow the crowd, striving in that way to divert the procession or as the cowboys of the plains of the cowboys of the plains. sion, or, as the cowboys of the plains do, by indirection and upon the flank to persuade the stampeding herd to enter the corral.

On the other hand, some who are now disposed to aid what is privately admitted to be the expectation of Gov-ernor Hughes that he may be named one on a passed ball, Schmidt falling to hold Howard's third strike.

The two men are of such utterly different types and their understanding of politics is so unlike that there could be no congeniality between them. Yet the former Governor will them. aid those who are seeking to promote Governor Hughes to the White House. Marconi Experts in-Nova Scotla Claim to Have Picked up Manila Station. Sydney, N. S., Dispatch, 7th.

While Marconi experts were testing new fecelving cones at the top of the tower at the station at Port Morien, an operator was in communication with the wireless station at Manila. The message received was that the American cruiser Philadelphia had arrived there. The Marconi people account for the occurrence by the theory that the cone at Manila must have been in perfect tune with that at Port Morien. the message from Manila was 'picked up" while being sent to some other station on the Pacific or to a war the time by an operator in the receiving room at the Marconi station.

At the time the experts were experimenting in an effort to receive mes-sages from Ireland. They received several messages from the Irish station, and were in the act of making further tests when the instruments recorded the arrival of the Philadelphia at Manila. The Marconi people say that no mistake was made and that the message was undoubtedly sent by the Manfla station, which is about 12,000 miles distant, and that as a result experiments with the stations in the East will shortly be attempted.

Port Morien, where the Marconi station is located, is the most Easterly town in Cape Breton. It is 25 miles east of Sydney.
