HEAVY TONE IN STOCKS.

Conditions Not Yet Ripe For Securi-ties to Move Definitely Out of the Influences of the Financial Dis-

New York. Nov. 7.—Several important events to-day served as an admonition that conditions are not yet ripe to move definitely out of the influences of the financial disturbance from which the country has suffered. The action of the stock market indicated some disposition to contest the effect of these events but the heavy tone prevailed ultimately. The advance in the official discount rate of the Bank of England to 7 per cent. Las no parallel since the crisis of 1873, although the rate in that year went as high as 9 per cent. In the case of the 4 per cent. Fate of the Bank of France, it seems not to have been touched before since the Franco-Prussian war period.

Additional gold was engaged for New York to-day in spite of these measures which may in fact serve to attract gold to London and Paris from other sources but seem inefficacious to obstruct the withdrawals for New York. The extent to which the money market was affected was a disappointment to those who had looked for prompt relaxation with the first arrivals of gold. Money on call for operations in stocks still remains scarce. The immediate results of the completion of the Tennessee Coal transnetion in the stock market proved rather disconcerting. With the admission to the stock exchange list of the $30,000.071 of United States Steel sinking fund bonds presumably employed in that transaction there was evident liquidation and a decline of 2 points in the bonds. Tennessee Coal fell precipitately from the artifi-clal level at which it has been arbitrarily

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter. Houston

Special to The Observer New York, Nov. 7.-Liverpool cables that the feeling in that market has become bearish in consequence of the con-tinued demand on the Bank of England for gold for America and the high bank for gold for America and the high bank rate. Here the feature is the bearish tone prevading the trade and the heavy selling by outside interests who look for lower prices on cotton as a result of the financial situation. The market railies quickly whenever the selling crases but the local traders see no increase in the investment demand and are improssed by planters. The tendency towards lower crop estimates continues foreshadowing a smaller government estimatt in December. No attention is paid to any factor excepting the financial situation which though improving here, is believed to be serious in other markets.

OREGON'S UNIQUE GAME LAW.

Odd Situation Caused by Feud Between Cportsmen and Ranchmen, St. Paul Dispatch.

The State of Oregon has a unique game law. In fact, no one appeared large personal loans with which he to know of its existence until a few sided in the financing of various days ago, when several ranchers were Westinghouse interests, principally in fined heavily for allowing their dogs to run deer.

The ranchers commenced kicking about the heavy fines, and then some of American commercial and inven-tive development. There have been antiquarian discovered that the last some men whose achievement it was Legislature passed an act making it to perfect apparatus that vastly cheap a misdemeanor for a hunter to kill a deer that was being chased by dogs, as, for instance, that one who-inventable at the same time put in a provise. but at the same time put in a proviso ed apparatus for an economical harthat prevents the ranchers from kill-ing the dogs that chase the deer. vesting of the great grain fields, or that one who is chief among the inventors of apparatus by which the In other words you cannot kill deerthat are being chased nor shoot the dogs that are doing the chasing. It may in every instance, excepting Mr. Westinghouse, these men have been seem queer that any one would think of killing hounds but out in the Pacific Northwest there is always a feud between city sportsmen who invade the country with hounds on one side and as an avocation or recreation spent resident ranchers on the other. Oregon passed this odd law because of the ravages of wild animals upon domestic animals. It is claimed that productive side, as he had already done in the field where his inventive hounds protect the deer by chasing them. This sounds paradoxical, of course, but this is the way it is explained in Oregon: "Hounds will rarely run a deer down and kill it themselves, and unless some hunter shoots it the deer will escape. But while the hounds are loose they will clear the woods of the animals that wildcat will kill nine or ten fawns to feed its kittens, and the number of ness world, meeting and supporting wildcats is so great that they are more deer than hunters do." with serenity and apparently perfect poise of judgment and of action. He G. T. Kelly, a rancher, has the following to say about the law: "The law was passed because the attacks of wild animals entail a loss of $1,000,000 No actuary can estimate the into the farms of Willamette Valley each year. The hounds run these wild animals away saying the farms of the world consequent mals away, saving the farmer's stock.

But under the old law, if the hounds activities of George Westinghouse, were set after wild animals they inAnd in this crisis it is safe to say variably ended by running deer, subjecting their owners to fine and rendering the dogs liable to be killed. The result was that the dogs could extraordinary relation which he has not be used and the wild enimals had not be used and the wild animals had things nearly their own way. "I was put out of the goat and sheep business under the old law be-cause I could not lurn my dogs loose, The hounds would have kept away cougar, lynk, foxes, wildcats, coyotes and wolves, but I did not dare let them go because they might run deer. When I quit I had less than half as many goats and sheep as when I commenced."

the lifst to be compelled to yield, has brought forth tributes of sympathy and admiration, of acknowledgment, at least in this city, comparable in their way to those other tributes that have been paid to the great men of affairs who with resolution and hero-less ment the appalling crisis of last

The Original Lemon Joke. New York Sun.

A member of the Lambs Club believes that he has exhumed the original lemon joke. The other day on re-reading Shakespeare's play "Love's Labour's Lost." for the first time in several years, he was surprised to find in Act V. scene 2, this passage: Armado—The armipotent Mars, of lances the almighty. "Gave Hector a gift..."

Dumain-A gilt nutmeg. Biron—A lemon.
Longaville—Stuffed with cloves.
Dumain—No. cloven.

"No commentator of even second this frenzy of distrust is the man of rate imagination will doubt that a great intellect, the creator of giant gilt nutiment means a wooden nutment, or that the Yankee who claimed overwhelming fury of the storm. to have invented this article was an impostor," said the Lamb.

Apple Cider and Bright's Disease.

An ancient doctor said to me yesterday: "If a man will drink a pint of pure apple cider every day there will be no more Bright's disease." A younger medico said: "All you want is one apple a day—a sour-sweet apple." Yea, yea! Verily. But where are we to find this sour-sweet apple? Most apples are mealy, soft, insipid. They are juiceless—as I have said a hundre.] times—said are devoid of acid. A good apple is full of sulphur, and mark that it is one of the strangest ironies of fate, an experience that carries a most impressive and profound lesson, that this man whose achievements have meant so much to the people of the world should have been compelled through no fault of his to bend his head heroically to the grow and to receive it. It is not his credit that is impaired or his achievements that are pellittled or character Clean, and burns well that is amirched, but it is the credit that has heretofore existed in all good securities. And yet the man and the interests least responsible for we know it will please you.
