d unnetified during to-day's trading in the close easy at a net decline of to 15 points. Sales estimated at 275,000

The market opened firm at an advance of 11 to 17 points on covering by shorts and buil support which was encouraged by better cables than expected, continued figuress in the Livetpool spot market, builish private advices from English houses and cold weather in the bett. There was a good deal of selling from the start, however, and after an irrequiar morning the market broke sharply during the afternoon on reports that cotton was beginning to arrive here for delivery on December contracts and rumors of unfavorable conditions in Wall Street. The close was at practically the lowest level of the day. Private wires from Boston claim that fully 19,000 factory hands have been thrown out of employment in New England recently owing to dull business. It was reported that 100 bules of cotton arrived here from Liverpool to-day, presumably for delivery on contract and there are permistent rumors of large shipments in this direction from the South. On the other hand 5,000 bales have been withdrawn from the local stock for export so far this month and it is reported that freight room for 19,000 bales neore already has been engaged.

Receipts at the ports to-day 71,157 bales against $5,255 lant week and $2,565 last year. For the week 300 on bales against $5,000 bal

OPERATIONS NOT APPROVED. Stock Market Operations Which Be gan Yesterday Not Approved by Conservative Powers—Discontinu-

Nov. 12.—The impression got abroad in the stock market to-day that the kind of operations which began to make themselves felt yesterday were to make themselves felt yesterday were to make themselves felt yesterday were not approved by the conservative financial powers, whose efforts are all bent at the present time to the mending of the situation. There was a discontinuance of the small ventures on margin which came into notice yesterday. This left the market uncertain and poorly supported. There was a disposition to bring into question in a comprehensive way the effect on earning power of corporations and probable dividend payments of the setback to trade which must follow the financial entanglements. Reports the setback to trade which must follow the financial entanglements. Reports from various quarters of reduction of operating forces, by factories, furnished food for the discussion. It has been remarked also that an upward movement in prices of securities leads to an early discontinuance of an important portion of the investment demand for small lots of stocks which has been so influential a factor in the absorption and definite removal from the market of a floating supply of securities. supply of securities.

The demand for currency reflected some additional urgency early in the day but.

the declining premium on currency again indicated an easing of the strain.

THE SERVANT GIRL TYRANT. Pennsylvania Professors Say No One With Less Than, $5,000 Incomp

Should Try to Have Servants.

Philadelphia Press. That the "problem" of the servant girl is something that is not very funny would with difficulty be gleaned from the remarks concerning it by Professor Patten, of the University of Pennsylvarda. The sociologists unconsciously make an uproarious joke out of most of our tribulations which they subject to scientific treatment, and our West Philadelphia authority, whose opinions were published in The Public Ledger yesterday, has suc- on the need of a more elastic currenceeded beyond our most sanguine ex-pectations. Professor Patten says, in effect, that we should have no ser-duced in The Tribune, is in keeping vants unless we are people in the enjoyment of incomes of $5,000 or $10,- cial world. Wives ought to run to their own doors, pare their own potatoes and sweep their own front steps. Instead of a proper spirit, what do we see? Women who read novels and gain false ideats about the dignity of ideness; wives who wish to live like the wealthlest n their ken; mothers who regard household toll as infra dig, for their daughters; ausbands and fathers who have the same ideals for their womenfolk, and try to balance the pyramid on its apex with a result which all see in the present relations, between mistress and maid. What is easier than to believe that What is easier than to believe that reason, in the light of these present if there were no servants there would conditions, an urgent need of putting be no servant problem? It is very every dollar in circulation. Every true, as Professor Patten says, that if dollar taken out of circulation adds the streets were clean there would just that much to the burden the fibe less use for the dust brush, and we might then eliminate one of our troublesome oligarchs. But, as our sociological expert may not have noted, there is dust in the house with the green shutters in the green fields, and in ships which sail the seas. There will be dust in the balloons and all the wireless things of the fu-ture. We do not really see any hope in this direction, therefore, and are in a good deal of despair. Patent dusting machines, automatic dishwashers, beds that are made by pressing a button at the town hall, concentrated food tablets and kindergartens and nurseries administered the State at public expense will help to deliver us from our thrallom to the servant girl; but, after all is said and done, are we willing to live like the creatures of some sociologist's fecund fancy? Why not let the "lady of mere salutation corresponding to the the house" continue to read her custom among the Esquimaux of rubnovel and fill her mind with romantic ideas, even if her husband can bring days, it seemed to many a seemly and home only $1.200 a year?
