

IN THE DREAM

HIGH POINT.

Correspondence of The Observer. High Point, Nov. 22.—There was a special meeting of the Entira-Nova Club Thursday afternoon at the residence of the president, Mrs. Chas. F. Long.

Although not given out to the public in general, all arrangements for the lovely church wedding of Miss Winifred Alice Snow, the popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Snow, to Mr. Alvin D. Barnes, which will be solemnized in the early evening hour on the first day of January, are nearing completion. It will be a pretty wedding with bridesmaids and groomsmen and all the accompaniments of a 6 o'clock wedding after which the bride and groom will leave for an extended Southern wedding tour, spending several months in warm, sunny Florida, before returning to Atlanta, their future home. The bride and groom-to-be both being so popular and belonging to well known and widely connected families, there will be a large number of out-of-town people at the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Farris and son have returned from Durham, where they attended the marriage of their niece, Miss Ellis, to Mr. Fisher. Mr. Davis Arnsfeldt and bride, Mrs. Annie English Ragan, of High Point, stopped over a few days with Mrs. Amos Ragan, on their way home from their wedding trip North and then left for Monroe, their future home.

The W. O. T. Club, the oldest and one of the most popular clubs in town, will be entertained next Tuesday afternoon in the residence of Mrs. James Joseph Farris on South Main street.

Miss Mary Alice Benton, who has been spending several months with her sister, Mrs. Edwin Hutchison, in Baltimore, returned home last week.

Mr. Alvin D. Barnes, of Atlanta, Ga., spent part of last week in town. Mr. Barnes will wed Miss Winifred Snow, Wednesday, January 1st, 1908.

Next week's social calendar is full. Besides the many club meetings and other social functions, there will be several anti-nuptial functions given the young, pretty and much loved winter bride, Miss Winifred Alice Snow, whose engagement to Mr. Alvin D. Barnes was announced by her friend, Miss Blanche Lucy Bradshaw, some weeks ago. Among those who will entertain in Miss Snow's honor are: The Misses Burton, and Messadames Thomas Jackson Gold, Cyrus Wheeler, and William E. Snow. Later there will be a party given by her friends and small given to the delightfully charming young woman by her many friends with whom she is so popular.

Miss Edna McCubbins, one of Salisbury's popular young society set, is the guest of Mrs. Charles Murmons Hauser at her residence on Virginia Avenue. Miss McCubbins has visited High Point before, and has many admirers, whom she knew during her first visit when she came as bride's maid to Mrs. Fausner, nee Miss Annie Tomlinson.

Mrs. Chas. Merrimon Fausner with her guest, Miss Edna McCubbins, of Salisbury, and Miss Bertha Louise Ragan, attended the Thanksgiving party at the home of Mrs. Fausner, nee Miss Annie Tomlinson, last Wednesday. Mrs. Leak, who was Miss Connie Lindsey, has often visited High Point, and is very popular with all who know her.

Mrs. Cyrus Wheeler spent part of last week in Salisbury.—Miss Minnie J. Alexander spent Friday at Winston-Salem.—Misses Bessie Josephine Sterrett and Ethel Pickett will spend Thanksgiving and the week following with a party given by Mrs. Wheeler at Jamestown and Richmond.—Mrs. Joseph Lindsey and little daughter, Anna Burton Lindsey, who have been on a visit to the family of Dr. J. W. Burton, returned to their home at Reidsville, the first of the week.

There was an interesting meeting of the U. D. C. Saturday afternoon at the Manufacturers' Club.

Reverend and Mrs. Thomas J. Ogburn request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Alice Carey to Mr. William C. Jones, on the evening of Wednesday, the twenty-seventh of November, at five o'clock, at their residence, West Lafayette, Ohio.

After the first of December, High Point, North Carolina. The above cards which have been received by friends of the two families have awakened much interest in High Point, where the contracting parties are so well known. The bride-to-be spent several years here as teacher in the city school and it was during that period she founded friendships which through her strong and fearless character, hold in the city and are of great value to the church and social affairs, where she is very popular. She is a loved member of the W. O. T. Club, one of the oldest and strictest of High Point clubs, and they rejoice that she will be so soon mingling with them. It will be a very quiet home affair with none present, except those of kindred ties and immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom will come to High Point, their future home, and occupy the new home, corner English and Main streets, which for weeks past the decorators and furnishers have been adding the latest touches of comfort, ease and beauty. The groom-to-be is a son of Dr. W. C. Jones and is a member of the Episcopal church of the late John A. Lindsey. Belonging to two of the oldest and wealthiest High Point families and being a promising business man who has met with great success in all his financial undertakings, it is not surprising that he has been so widely known to need an introduction either in the State, or several States where he has business interests and has mingled socially. He has filed several important city offices and at present is one of the honored school board.

One of the dearest and prettiest, as well as most interesting W. O. T. meetings was last Tuesday afternoon, when at her pretty, cozy home on North Main street, Mrs. S. H. Haines Tomlinson, the club's secretary, was hostess. It was an incident afternoon, but the very moment the broad door was opened wide and the open grate with their wealth of warmth and light and the decorations, color schemes of yellow and white, which looked all the more beautiful with the settings of wide-spreading feathery ferns were visible, all gloom was dispelled, and just here the hostess, with that splendid flow of spirits which at once makes a place with bright cheer, gave each one the most cordial of greetings. The hostess' costume of cream chiffon panama, with figured net waist over satin and with belt and Crowder, who had received the value's prize, a well-planned in the serving of refreshments. Miss Maudie presided at the punch bowl, which was in the hall, picturesquely lighted by Japanese lanterns. Refreshments were served by Mrs. B. H. Crowder, Mrs. Rebecca Ward and Mr. F. P. Gray. Miss Mamie Ament and Mr. C. H. Morrow, Miss Minnie Lennon and Mr. W. H. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McLean, Prof. and Mrs. R. B. Senterly, Messadames D. H. Dyer, R. C. Lawrence and W. D. Nevers, Messadames R. R. Carlyle, J. P. Stensell and J. A. Sharpe.

Little Miss Margaret Pope entertained a number of her little friends at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Pope, on Third street, Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5:30 o'clock the occasion being her 8th birthday. Various games, dear to the hearts of all children, were much enjoyed, both on the lawn, and in the dining room. An elegant birthday dinner was served in the dining room, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Little Miss Margaret is a charming little lady and her young guests were enthusiastic in their praises of the enjoyable afternoon. Those present were: Misses Carrie May and Drena Hedgpeth, Emma Higley, Marian Allen, Lillian McLintyre, Sallie Stephens, Vivian McNeill, Wilbur and Margaret Durham, Ruth Thompson, Ruth and Sarah Jones, Katie Bullock, Jennie Edens, Childa Weinstein, Hazel and Sarah Hilde, Annie Burt Stainback, Ethel Sledge and Lina Gough; Messadames Frank Gough, Jr., and Osborna Lee.

Misses Emma Link and Zina Kerr entertained a number of friends at the home of Dr. B. T. Allen Tuesday evening.—Several of the young people spent Friday evening most pleasantly at the home of Miss Pearl Floyd.—Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Neves have moved to Greenville, S. C., where Mr. Neves is in charge of the position of city engineer.—Mr. R. S. Sledge and family have moved into the cottage on Fifth street, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Neves.—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Byrum, who have been making their home at the Roberts Institute dormitory since their marriage a few months ago, have moved into a cottage on the corner of Eighth and Walnut streets.—Mr. W. G. Allen, superintendent of roads, of Wake county, spent several days here recently.—Miss Maggie McNeil, of Raleigh, spent Wednesday here with relatives.—Miss Ida Aydtette, of Henderson, is visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. G. Aydtette.

MONROE. Correspondence of The Observer. Monroe, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Rufus Armfield was hostess for "The New Century Book Club" Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Davis Armfield, who is to be the new member of this club. A delightful afternoon was spent and Mrs. Armfield served delicious refreshments. Those present were, besides the guest of honor, Mrs. Davis Armfield, Messadames W. A. Lane, George Lee, George Beasley, Frank Laney, E. M. Griffin, J. E. Ashcraft, Estia Griffin, Edna Covington, Henry Greene and Miss Alice Atkinson.

The Jackson Club entertained Friday evening in honor of the two brides, Mrs. O. W. Kochtitzky and Mrs. Davis Armfield. Miss Alice Scales was hostess for "The Van Dyke Club" Tuesday afternoon. The guest of honor was Mrs. O. W. Kochtitzky, who is the new member of this club.

STATESVILLE. Correspondence of The Observer. Statesville, Nov. 22.—There is something about the season of the falling leaf that impresses the soul with a feeling of sadness and a longing for a world where the flowers fade not, but where eternal springtime reigns. The cold and rain take possession of the outside world, we should turn to indoor amusements for our pleasure and recreation.—The Statesville has indeed been gay for the past week. Mrs. P. B. Key entertained on Tuesday afternoon in honor of her guests, Miss Mercer French, of Newport News, Va., and Miss Mabel Patton, of Lynchburg, Va. Mrs. Key's handsome home in its setting of flowers and evergreens is very beautiful in the summer time and attractive even in the wintry season. Inside it is even more interesting, filled with many beautiful articles of vertu, heirlooms of her family and souvenirs of her many friends. The time passed all too quickly for the assembled company engaged in gay chat and laughter. Dainty refreshments of mousse and cake and hot chocolate were served by Mrs. D. M. Colner, Misses Lella and Ahtie Corpening and Miss Elvy McElwee.

Saturday evening Miss Elvy McElwee entertained the Misses French and Patton and a few other friends at bridge whist. After a very interesting game, Miss McElwee served an enjoyable salad course with pickles, coffee, etc.—Miss Lizzie Allison was hostess to the Misses French and Patton and several other guests on last Monday evening. A very enjoyable course of sandwiches and coffee, whipped cream with frozen chocolate and delicious "Lady Baltimore" cakes was served during the evening.

Friday evening Mrs. R. L. Poston entertained in honor of Mrs. J. D. Hill of Winston-Salem, and Mrs. J. D. Stocker, of Jernym, Pa., and a number of their friends, both ladies having formerly been residents of Statesville. Mrs. Poston's pretty home was unusually attractive with its bright lights, bouquets of roses and hand-somely gowned ladies. A game of "peanut jackstraws" amused the guests for quite a while. This game, while apparently so simple, required a clear eye and a steady hand. Mrs. E. L. Pegram won the first prize, an enameled hat pin. Mrs. W. L. Hill received as visitors' prize a tiny silver loving cup, with the Statesville court house and Confederate monument engraved upon it, while the consolation, a lighted candle in a candlestick, fell to the lot of Mrs. Cross Phillips. A delicious salad course with coffee was served and enjoyed. Little Miss Eleanor Stocker and Master Louis Poston assisted in serving and performed their parts with ease and grace.

Misses Bessie and Helen Anderson received the Wednesday afternoon Book Club and a number of other friends on Tuesday evening in honor of their guest, Miss Margaret Marshall, of Decatur. The hostess' home was beautifully decorated with a profusion of bright autumn leaves. Progressive will study Switzerland and Germany with readings from India. A most delightful programme has been arranged and the following papers were read at this meeting: "Switzerland and the Swiss," Mrs. Zeb W. Walker, "Sovereignty of the People," Mrs. W. S. Walker, "India as it is," Mrs. Kemp Alexander. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. Brantley Hillyard Finch and his bride, nee Miss Mary Payne Clinnard, have returned from their bridal tour and are at home at the residence of the groom's mother, Mrs. J. W. Finch, on North Main street. A beautiful but simple wedding was solemnized at the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Clinnard, of Winston on last Tuesday evening, the ceremony being performed by the beloved Bishop Edward Rondthaler, of the Methodist church. Mrs. J. W. Finch, Miss Eliza Hillyard and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Mendenhall attended the marriage from here. Lexington is fortunate indeed in having recently added to her social list several charming and interesting young married couples, and extends cordial greetings to them all.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Tate, of Charlotte, who attended the wedding of Mrs. Tate's cousins, the Misses Holt, of Graham, stopped over in Lexington a few days as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Montcastle. Mrs. Derront Shemwell will leave in a few days for Eufaula, Ala., on a visit to her parents and will be absent for some time.—Mrs. E. G. Buchanan, of Charlotte, is the guest of Mrs. E. J. Buchanan.—Mrs. Frank Lowe and children of Winston-Salem and Miss Talith Robbins are guests at the home of their father, Capt. T. C. Robbins.

RALEIGH. Correspondence of The Observer. Raleigh, Nov. 22.—One of the most enjoyable events of the autumn season was the card party given Thursday afternoon, November 14th, by Mrs. Samuel F. Taylor in honor of Mrs. William Royall. Mrs. Taylor's lovely home was artistically decorated in branches of leaf pine, palms and ferns. The following ladies were present and gave to Mrs. Royall a hearty welcome: Mrs. Samuel F. Taylor, Mrs. B. H. Cameron, Mrs. W. M. Marks, of Montgomery, Ala.; Mrs. A. S. Pendleton, of Henderson; Mrs. C. M. Busebe, Mrs. Ed Chambers Smith, Mrs. E. H. Fallowes, Mrs. W. H. Williamson, Mrs. Ben W. Baker, Mrs. W. B. Jones, Mrs. F. M. Stronach, Mrs. C. B. Wright, Mrs. E. H. Litchford, Mrs. Thomas M. Ashe, Mrs. R. P. Foster, Miss Jane Pescud, Miss Sophy Busebe, Miss Mary Shipp, Miss May F. Jones, Miss Mary Armistead Jones, Miss Sadie Root, Miss Sara Cheshire and Miss Elsie Haywood.

Saturday evening at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. H. Mahler, Miss Blanche Blake entertained most charmingly at bridge whist in honor of Mrs. W. M. Marks, of Montgomery, Ala. After the game Miss Blake and her guests adjourned to the dining room, where a dainty luncheon was served. Her guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Mahler, Mrs. Fred Mahler and Mr. W. E. Manoe.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Max Gardner of Shelby, who spent a few days in town last week on their way home from their wedding tour, were the recipients of much social attention. Mr. Gardner graduated from the A. & T. College several years ago and was one of the most popular men who ever attended that institution. Monday night at Pullen Hall, a delightful hop was given in their honor, in which about thirty couples participated. After the dance, at their home on Hillsboro Road, Dr. and Mrs. L. Stevens gave a charming reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Edith Pouch gave a charming course luncheon in honor of Miss Bessie Albright, of Wilmington, who is visiting Miss Ruby Norris, and Miss Isabel Clark, of Tarboro.

The Alla Podrila Club was charmingly entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Kemp P. Battie.

Miss Mary Armistead Jones gave a charming course luncheon Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock in honor of Miss Sadie Smedes Root, whose marriage to Mr. Watkins Roberts took place Wednesday evening. The table was attractively decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and yellow candles in silver candle-sticks, while dainty yellow hearts marked the places for each guest. The occasion was a most delightful one and all present joined in wishing the "long life and a happy one to the lovely bride-elect. Miss

Mr. Brantley Hillyard Finch and his bride, nee Miss Mary Payne Clinnard, have returned from their bridal tour and are at home at the residence of the groom's mother, Mrs. J. W. Finch, on North Main street. A beautiful but simple wedding was solemnized at the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Clinnard, of Winston on last Tuesday evening, the ceremony being performed by the beloved Bishop Edward Rondthaler, of the Methodist church. Mrs. J. W. Finch, Miss Eliza Hillyard and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Mendenhall attended the marriage from here. Lexington is fortunate indeed in having recently added to her social list several charming and interesting young married couples, and extends cordial greetings to them all.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Tate, of Charlotte, who attended the wedding of Mrs. Tate's cousins, the Misses Holt, of Graham, stopped over in Lexington a few days as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Montcastle. Mrs. Derront Shemwell will leave in a few days for Eufaula, Ala., on a visit to her parents and will be absent for some time.—Mrs. E. G. Buchanan, of Charlotte, is the guest of Mrs. E. J. Buchanan.—Mrs. Frank Lowe and children of Winston-Salem and Miss Talith Robbins are guests at the home of their father, Capt. T. C. Robbins.

RALEIGH. Correspondence of The Observer. Raleigh, Nov. 22.—One of the most enjoyable events of the autumn season was the card party given Thursday afternoon, November 14th, by Mrs. Samuel F. Taylor in honor of Mrs. William Royall. Mrs. Taylor's lovely home was artistically decorated in branches of leaf pine, palms and ferns. The following ladies were present and gave to Mrs. Royall a hearty welcome: Mrs. Samuel F. Taylor, Mrs. B. H. Cameron, Mrs. W. M. Marks, of Montgomery, Ala.; Mrs. A. S. Pendleton, of Henderson; Mrs. C. M. Busebe, Mrs. Ed Chambers Smith, Mrs. E. H. Fallowes, Mrs. W. H. Williamson, Mrs. Ben W. Baker, Mrs. W. B. Jones, Mrs. F. M. Stronach, Mrs. C. B. Wright, Mrs. E. H. Litchford, Mrs. Thomas M. Ashe, Mrs. R. P. Foster, Miss Jane Pescud, Miss Sophy Busebe, Miss Mary Shipp, Miss May F. Jones, Miss Mary Armistead Jones, Miss Sadie Root, Miss Sara Cheshire and Miss Elsie Haywood.

Saturday evening at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. H. Mahler, Miss Blanche Blake entertained most charmingly at bridge whist in honor of Mrs. W. M. Marks, of Montgomery, Ala. After the game Miss Blake and her guests adjourned to the dining room, where a dainty luncheon was served. Her guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Mahler, Mrs. Fred Mahler and Mr. W. E. Manoe.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Max Gardner of Shelby, who spent a few days in town last week on their way home from their wedding tour, were the recipients of much social attention. Mr. Gardner graduated from the A. & T. College several years ago and was one of the most popular men who ever attended that institution. Monday night at Pullen Hall, a delightful hop was given in their honor, in which about thirty couples participated. After the dance, at their home on Hillsboro Road, Dr. and Mrs. L. Stevens gave a charming reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Edith Pouch gave a charming course luncheon in honor of Miss Bessie Albright, of Wilmington, who is visiting Miss Ruby Norris, and Miss Isabel Clark, of Tarboro.

The Alla Podrila Club was charmingly entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Kemp P. Battie.

Miss Mary Armistead Jones gave a charming course luncheon Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock in honor of Miss Sadie Smedes Root, whose marriage to Mr. Watkins Roberts took place Wednesday evening. The table was attractively decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and yellow candles in silver candle-sticks, while dainty yellow hearts marked the places for each guest. The occasion was a most delightful one and all present joined in wishing the "long life and a happy one to the lovely bride-elect. Miss Music was furnished by an Italian band.
