THREE MAIN QUESTIONS

There were three of the questions embraced in the hypothetical question which were only propounded after Judge Powers had presented a complete analysis of the case, bringing out especially the points indicative of mental unsoundness on the part of the defendant. The questions were as follows:
1. Assuming all these facts to be true, what do you say as to whether or not at the time the fatal shot was fired the patient understood the nature of her act, was able to choose and distinguish right from wrong, and was able to control herself to choose the right and avoid the wrong?

ACT NOT WARRANTED

Washington, Nov. 25.—An opinion of the judge advocate general of the army, George B. Davis, approved by Acting Secretary Oliver, was made public today holding that having regard to the mandatory provisions of law the use of troops from Jefferson Barracks at the recent balloon competitions at St. Louis was not warranted by law. The papers in the case show that the request for the detail of troops to assist in the management and control of the balloons was necessary by the Aero Club and the Business Men's League to the President, who directed Lieutenant-Colonel Evans to render every assistance in his power to the organizations mentioned in conducting the international balloon races.

Avis & Co., custom house brokers, whose complaint the warrant for the arrest was issued. Straus threatened to kill himself.

Observer Bureau, 13 Post Building, Washington, Nov. 25.—Ex-Mayor S. S. McNinch, of Charlotte, to-day called on President Roosevelt and had a few minutes talk with him upon the present situation. The ex-mayor says he never comes to Washington without calling on the President, whom he considers a big man. Finance was, of course, mentioned in the conversation, and the President said a visitor that he had a great deal to say about it, while he did not pretend to know everything, he believed that the crisis had passed and that the general outlook for business resumption was not only bright but was such as to make him feel assured of the future.

COMPLEX LEAVES NORFOLK

Convention Over and Delegates and Officers Leave For Home—New Orleans Case Settled
Norfolk, Va., Nov. 25.—President Gompers, the executive council, and many others of the American Federation of Labor, which concluded its seventh annual convention here Saturday night, left to-night for Washington. At a meeting of the executive council Sunday a large number of matters referred to it by the convention were taken up and disposed of. Important questions considered grew out of complications arising over the return by the convention of the revoked brewery workers charter. The most difficult situation to deal with was that in New Orleans, where the teamsters recognized by the brewery workers at once strike against the new organization of teamsters resulting from the revocation of the brewery workers' charter. The new teamsters' organization, which has a membership of five hundred, will have to give way to the old teamsters working under the brewery workers' charter.

FRENCH TROOP ATTACKED

Army of France Benis Swoop Down on French Camp and a Bloody Fight Ensues—1,200 Dead on Field—Brilliant Charge of Spahis Saves Infantry
Lilla Magna, Algeria, Nov. 25.—Ten thousand of the fiercest Benis, Naxen tribesmen swooped down upon the French camp yesterday and were beaten off with a loss of 1,200 killed. The fighting continued for a long time and was conducted on the part of the tribesmen apparently with total disregard for their lives. At one time the French infantry were in danger of being surrounded, but they finally disengaged themselves from their perilous position by a brilliant charge of the Spahis (the Arabs) was completed by vigorous shelling by the artillery. The French loss was 8 killed. The Arabs were not discouraged by their severe defeat, but reformed their forces and in addition threatened their efforts to rouse other tribes. The fighting was resumed to-day. During the pursuit of the enemy the Spahis were drawn into ambush and Lieutenant Ross, who was riding in front, fell victim to bullets. The troops rallied and drove themselves upon the Arabs in ambush, cutting them to pieces. The French forces followed up their advance and scouring the country killed many of the fugitives. The artillery bombardment of the mountain slopes, where the remainder of the tribesmen had taken refuge.

DR. BARTON GOOD WITNESS

Specialist in Nervous Diseases Testifies That Mrs. Bradley Was Insane at Time of Shooting—Diagnosis Altered as Being Puerperal Insanity Caused by Continued Assault Upon Her Nervous System—Being Seconded by Political Club as Evidence of Defendant's Abnormality—Severe Cross-Examination by District Attorney and Insanity Experts—Mrs. Bradley Pale and Haggard—Defendant's Name Not Mentioned in Statement of Case
Washington, Nov. 25.—That Mrs. Annie M. Bradley was insane at the time she shot former Senator Arthur Brown, of Utah, in this city, on December 8th, last, was the opinion of Dr. Wilfred M. Barton, of the medical department of Georgetown University, and a specialist in nervous diseases, expressed at the trial of Mrs. Bradley to-day. Dr. Barton's testimony followed the reading to him of a hypothetical question of 13,000 words covering the history of Mrs. Bradley's relations with Senator Brown, from the day she met him to the day of the tragedy. Dr. Barton diagnosed Mrs. Bradley's ailment as being puerperal insanity caused by what he described as the continued assaults upon her nervous system due to the abortions which she had performed upon her. In explaining why he looked upon her as an abnormal woman, he said she was interested in things that do not usually attract women and insisted that she was a member of a political club as an evidence of her abnormality. Dr. Barton was on the stand practically the entire day, and was subjected to a severe cross-examination by the district attorney, aided by the government insanity experts, Dr. Smith E. Jelliffe, of New York, and Dr. Edward S. Brush, of Baltimore. Dr. Barton proved to be a good witness for the defense. His testimony showing his conclusions as to Mrs. Bradley's insanity was unshaken.

LEAVES SUBSCRIPTION

In addition to the discussion of cash resumption Mr. Forgan left tangible evidence of his visit in a subscription by the Chicago clearing house banks for $2,500,000 of the new one-year certificates. Additional amounts of these certificates are steadily coming to the Treasury as security for bank note circulation. These subscriptions are being received at the Treasury in increasing numbers from individuals as well as from national banks. It is learned that no allotments have thus far been made except to banks that desire to use them for a bank for circulation. All applications received from individuals and from banks whose limit under the law has been reached, are being laid aside for the time being and if allotments are made to them at all, it is believed, it will not be as long as the present strong demand continues for them from banks desiring them for circulation purposes. The declared purpose of Secretary Cortelyou in issuing the certificates was to increase the volume of outstanding currency, and this object, it is said, can best be accomplished through the increased issue of national bank notes and for the present, at least, the efforts of the Treasury officials will be in that direction.
