SOUTHERN PUBLISHERS NEXT.

The next public event in the life of Charlotte will be the meeting on the 19th and 20th of May of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association, which will come here on these dates by invitation of the Greater Charlotte Club, extended to it at its meeting in Richmond a year ago this month.

THE GREATEST BENEFIT OF ALL

While Charlotte was delighted to have the editors come last week and have them stay, and sorry to see them go, it is apparent from the columns of their papers that the chief benefit to accrue from their visit will be to North Carolina in general.

THE PASSING OF RAISULI.

The cables bring the news that our old friend Raisuli is dead. It will be remembered that whenever this interesting Moroccan wished to replenish his finances he would swoop down from his fastness in the hills and carry off some foreign resident as a subject for ransom; and if Morocco had to pay the bill he was especially pleased.

The Wild Man from Horno, otherwise the Low Combed Hooster of the Ozarks, was as fine in his second seasonal performance, Wednesday, as he was in his first, several weeks ago. It is a joy to see that beating him up in Arkansas and chasing him around the streets does not hurt him.

A VERY ERRONEOUS REPORT.

A story sent out from Spartanburg, S. C., some days ago, made the impression that at a representative meeting of cotton manufacturers of North and South Carolina, held in that city, it had been decided that the mills of these States should shut down, and that the understanding to this effect was general.

Certainly no such understanding as that indicated obtains in North Carolina and we do not suppose that one mill in this State will shut down as a result of the Spartanburg meeting.

NETS IN THE SOUTH'S SIGHT.

That "social equality" demonstration in New York a few days ago was, of course, intended primarily to stir up the South. Very likely, most of the white participants were animated by a spirit of mischief and nothing more.

ONE OF THE WORST POSSIBILITIES OF HAIN

For Theansons, The Daily Orizon Sweet Marden, in Success Magazine.

We are glad to read that Innocent Bystander McCleary, who was hit by one of Representative Hefflin's wild bullets on Pennsylvania avenue, now has an assured prospect of recovery.

Before and for one presidential election after Mr. Bryan became the Democratic party his own State of Nebraska went Democratic. We do not hear anybody claiming that he can carry it to-day.

The result of the Republican State convention yesterday was as expected—Taffite from top to bottom and through and through, scant courtesy to the opposition and the devil take the hindmost.

It is a pleasure to note that the league baseball season in Charlotte got off on both feet yesterday. But still it didn't get off right for Charlotte.

Thanks to Pennsylvania's endorsement, Senator Knox now gets in the also-running class.

J. W. G. Must Be on His Ticket. To the Editor of The Observer: With the present outlook, would it not be safer for you to accept the second place on the ticket, John W. Graham on top? Elect that ticket, let J. W. G. go by Raleigh to United States Senate. I would be willing to see several nights working for that ticket. J. W. G. has got to be on mine. JESSE W. COLE, Millsboro, April 27th.

LIVE QUESTION IN ALAMANCE

Political and Other Topics Overlooked in the Discussion For Good Highways. All the People Being Determined to Have Them and Road Excavation is Likely to Be Voted.

Parker, Jr., secretary and treasurer; T. F. McCreary, vice president, and J. A. Long, J. Z. Walker, C. A. Scott and W. H. Holt, executive committee.

A HUGE WALNUT LOG.

The circumference of the log at a point midway from ends was 11-1/2 feet in the first 18-foot cut there are more than 2,000 feet of lumber, and more than 20 horses were required to pull it to town.

TRAMMEN REINSTATE.

Engineer W. W. Rippey, of this place, whose failure to observe orders caused the wreck of the Southern passenger train at Auburn some time ago, and who was recently sentenced to the State Prison for negligence by the court at Raleigh, has been reinstated, taking his old standing and his conductor, Mr. Oakley, upon Mr. Rippey's recommendation, was also reinstated.

THE REPUBLICAN POLICY.

Petersburg Index Appeal. Speaker Cameron is opposed to free press. But he is not opposed to investigating it. In other words, he might be induced to favor a free bill "after the election," and in his own good time the Republican policy of revising the tariff.
