

SPOOK STORY REACHES PARIS.

A Lady in Switzerland Writes to Find Out the Strange... of Buncombe's Ghosts... Asheville, May 13.—The alleged visitation of "spooks" at the county jail here resulting in great fright to the unfortunate inmates of the jail, has been noted abroad and this week Sheriff Hunter received a card from a lady, written in Switzerland, relative to the prisoners being "haunted by ghosts." The author of the card has information and addressing the card "To the Honorable Sheriff of the County Prison at Asheville, North Carolina, U. S. A.," says: "Dear Sir—I read in one of the Paris papers that the county prison at Asheville, North Carolina, has been haunted by ghosts, frightening the prisoners in such manner that they had to be transferred to another prison. Would you now kindly answer me by a few lines in order to let me know if this is true or only idle talk or rumor? As I myself believe in the Bible I therefore know that had spirits trouble some times human creatures, but still I should like to know the truth about it by a person that can be believed in every respect. In answering me, Sir, you would greatly oblige me. Yours very truly, "MARIE MEYHAN."

While it is true that the prisoners at the county jail have been badly frightened at times during recent weeks it has not become necessary to remove them to another prison. It is believed that Jailer Mitchell this week solved the "mystery" which had discovered that the moon and a locust tree were responsible for the "visitations" by casting fantastic figures on the windows of the jail. Leastwise this is the explanation which "mystery" and the prisoners—many of them at least—have accepted this solution and their terror is gone. Charles L. Pack, of Cleveland, O., owner of the late George W. Pack, who so liberally donated to Asheville a number of valuable pieces of land and the Vance monument, to-day made a deed transferring to Mayor John A. Campbell and J. G. Merrimon, as trustees, for the Mission Hospital, the Flower Mission and the Henrietta Home, his interest in a long sewer line on Montford and Cumberland avenues. Under the terms of the deed he transfers the proceeds from the rental of this sewer as to go to the three charitable institutions. The city about eight years ago leased from Mr. Pack these sewer lines for the purpose of making a year rental for the period of twenty years with the privilege of purchasing at any time for $4,000. If the city buys the sewer (and it is probable that it will) $4,000 will be divided equally between the hospital, Flower Mission and the Henrietta Home, the latter institution is under the control of the Y. W. C. A.

MINISTER WAS ROBBED.

But He Got His Money Back From the Man Whom He Suspected of Robbing Him. High Point, May 13.—It was learned here yesterday that the Rev. Mr. Swain, of the M. P. Conference, had been robbed while here recently. Mr. Swain came up on the Asheville train to make connection with the noon train and while sitting on No. 26 there was a crowd of people around the depot and he noticed at the time that two or three men were pushing him very closely and very unnecessarily, as he thought. As soon as he got on the train he missed his pocketbook. He was satisfied that these men had got it. He immediately looked them up on the train and demanded that they give him his money back. They pretended to be very much insulted and indignant, but Mr. Swain was persistent in his demands, telling them he knew they got the money. The men indignantly refused and at that time, all showing very much spirit; and all at once, as if dropped from the sky, Mr. Swain's pocketbook fell to the floor of the car and one of the men indignantly called his attention to the fact that his pocketbook was then on the floor. As soon as Mr. Swain got what belonged to him the matter was dropped and no arrests were made. This is one time when the pickpockets met their match.

LEE COUNTY BONDS.

A Split Among the Commissioners as to Selling Them—Closing of Broadway Normal Institute. Sanford, May 13.—The closing exercises of the Broadway Normal Institute will be held on the 14th and 15th of May. Superintendent R. W. Allen will deliver the literary address. The school under the efficient management of Prof. M. McLeod has educated nearly all teachers throughout this section of the county. The number of young men and women in attendance there the past year is above two hundred and fifty. The commissioners of Lee county are wanting to sell county bonds for the purpose of building a court house and jail. There is a great deal of opposition to this at the present time, one of the commissioners is doing all he can legitimately to put off the matter, while the others have decided to sell bonds at once and build the building as soon as possible. Something interesting may grow out of the situation.

NEWS NOTES FROM BOONE.

Fatal Fall From Sugar Tree—New Hotel For Summer Guests—Turnpike Company Declares 5 Per Cent. Dividend to the Observer. Boone, May 13.—John S. Norris, of Meet Camp, fell from a sugar tree recently and fatally injured himself. It is thought that he became paralyzed when he fell, as he fell on his head. He is about 40 years old. A fiddlers' convention is called for Boone on the 22d. Mr. George Robbins, of Shull's Mills, has just completed a hotel for the accommodation of summer guests. The new school building at Valley Creek will be built of concrete blocks. The cost will be $5,000. Rev. E. F. Jones, after an absence of two years in the State of Washington, has returned to Zionsville, where he will make his future home. The Boone and Blowing Rock Turnpike declares an annual dividend of 5 per cent.

To Drive Out Malaria.

And Build Up the System Take the Old Standard GYVES TABLETS. CHARLOTTE, N. C. You know what you are taking. The formula is plainly printed on every bottle, showing it is simply Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form, and the most effective form. For grown people and children. 5c.

A SCANDALOUS CITY JAIL.

Mayor of Columbia Discovers an Outrageous Condition of Affairs, and Sends a Delegation to the State Capitol to Demand a New County Dispensary System. Columbia, S. C., May 13. Having heard disquieting rumors as to the city jail and stockade being in an unsanitary condition, Mayor Reamer and several members of the council this afternoon made a personal inspection and discovered a scandalous and outrageous condition of affairs. They found the place dark, filthy and unsanitary in the extreme, a source of imminent danger—in fact, to every inmate and to residents in the neighborhood. The jail is a small, wretched building, and at any time, and once out would likely result in a high mortality record before the proper remedial measures could be taken. The council will at once be asked to appropriate $1,000 to remedy conditions. The inspection of police headquarters also revealed unsatisfactory conditions. No. 1 in the new county option dispensary system was registered in an order, which is not appealable, from Governor Ansel removing Messrs J. L. Bass and J. M. Parker from the Williamsburg county dispensary board for violation of law in making purchases. These are the men the Governor recently summoned before him to show cause why they should not be removed for the charges preferred against them. They were given a careful hearing, at which they were represented by attorneys. After a careful and painstaking consideration of the evidence and after the explanation of the Governor today announced his decision in the matter, although the order is dated May 11th. He finds the two men guilty of violating the law in three particulars, to-wit: authorizing their clerk to order out goods, making an award for goods without a fresh bid, not purchasing from the lowest bidder on one occasion. A number of those desiring to compete for the second lieutenant's commission in the regular army to be awarded by competitive examination from National Guard of the State is not members of the militia. They are charged with the same violation. An earnest desire to get into the militia, now that a good job is in sight but General Boyd will not allow any of these to enter the contest. He is going to the extent of making this award confined to the militia of not less than two years' service.

REPORTS OF BISHOPS.

Furry About Book Concerns Develops in Methodist Conference—Effort to Have Method of Electing Presiding Elders Made. Baltimore, May 13.—Bishop Earl Cranston, resident bishop of Washington, read his report on the union of the Methodist Church in Japan as the Methodist Conference of the M. E. Church to-day. Bishop I. B. Scott, the only colored bishop, made his report of the work of the church in Africa, especially in Liberia. A committee was appointed to consider means of increasing the salaries of the pastors. A furry about the book concerns which promises to develop when the question of a unification of the New York and Western publishing houses comes up for settlement was caused by the introduction of a motion by B. L. Paine, of Nebraska, calling for a detailed account of the finances and business of the two houses for each of the past 12 years.

FLURRY ABOUT BOOK CONCERNS DEVELOPS.

In the preamble, the resolution stated that the book depositories had been run at a loss for some years past, that it was believed by many that the number should be decreased and that many believed that "the book-depository plan has long since passed its period of usefulness and necessity." He also stated that it was probable the body would be asked to start another depository. These statements aroused Dr. George P. Malna, of the New York book concern, who stated that the book concerns had not been run at a loss. A motion to refer the matter to the committee on book concerns was carried.

REV. DR. JOHN HANDLEY, OF NEW JERSEY.

made an ineffectual attempt to have passed by the Conference a resolution providing for the nomination of a committee by annual conferences. The matter is now before the committee on itinerancy, which will, it is expected, recommend that the bishops continue to appoint the presiding elders, but that hereafter they shall make the selections from lists of three nominees for each presiding eldership, these nominations to be made by the annual conferences by ballot.

A Big Land Sale at Warsaw.

Warsaw, May 13.—Yesterday was a big day in Warsaw. The Southern Realty and Auction Company, of Greensboro, conducted an auction sale of 85 town lots in the north end of town, which, by the way, is the most rapidly growing section of the town. The town is thronged with visitors and prospective purchasers from near and distant points. The Italian Band from St. Helena added much to life and pleasure of the day. The lots sold readily and at satisfactory prices. This sale of lots will mean much for Warsaw in the way of the building of new homes, the increased valuation of taxable property, etc.

Virginia Old Fellows Generous to Orphans and Old Folks.

Lynchburg, Va., May 13.—The Virginia grand lodge of Odd Fellows tonight before adjourning started an endowment fund for the maintenance of the orphanage and old folks home, which are located here, which fund is to be $200,000, money returned from a donation for San Francisco sufferers being used as a nucleus for the endowment. The next meeting will be at Bristol, in May, 1909. The attendance upon the sessions was the largest in the history of the order.

Joseph Logan, Married in Charlotte, Files Suit For Divorce.

Chicago, May 13.—Joseph Logan has filed for divorce in Cook County Circuit Court. He states that he married Della Gillespie, of Winston-Salem, N. C., at Charlotte, N. C., in 1900, and that she left him in 1906, and is now at Winston-Salem. Not Known in Twin City. Winston-Salem, May 13.—Della Gillespie is not known here. A negro family of Gillespie resides here, but none of that name. A Joseph Logan lived here years ago.

One Bond of Sympathy.

The News and Courier will enthusiastically support Mr. Bryan, if he is nominated, on the ground that he is not an Ogdenton.

SETTLE SPEAKS AT DURHAM.

He Has an Audience of Several Thousand, and Makes His Final Points Upon Judge Pritchard's Great Fight on in Durham County. Durham, N. C., May 13.—The Academy of Music here to-night would not hold the audience, incomparably the greatest ever hearing a political speech, that met Hon. Thomas Settle in his campaign against the prohibition bill. Not a girl or boy was present. Two thousand voters sat under the fierce electric lights with coats off and yells hoarsely when Settle pounded the bill with all of his bludgeon power and then appealed in classic speech to the manhood of the men "To go home and vote so as to teach these men (the Legislature) that they shall respect our rights." Upon the rostrum sat Mayor Boyden, of Salisbury, manager of the anti-prohibition campaign, who said this was the greatest audience he had seen here since the great fight of 1892. The crowd was so packed that it was necessary to have a special force of police to guard the speaker and his family. The speaker made his final points upon Judge Pritchard's great fight on in Durham County. He said that he was not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. "But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have been. We know that prohibition will not diminish the sale, the consumption, the manufacture, the perjury nor the crime of our land. And we call our Creator to witness that we are not object to that treatment of it if the prohibitionists would accept of the anti in their other treatments of it. But file no complaint against any man if he is sincere," he said. "All I ask is that he go home and with his bended knee ask his Creator if the prohibitionists have been any more sincere in their desire to settle this question than we have