

WITH THE CAROLINA COLEGES

TRINITY.

Correspondence of The Observer.
Durham, May 30.—The final examinations are now being held and will continue until June 6th, next. Saturday, when the work for the year will be over and commencement exercises ready to begin on Sunday. The senior examinations are over now, this work being finished in order to give those graduating time in which to close up their work here for the year and to make preparation for the graduating exercises.

Next Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Craven Memorial Hall the Trinity Park School will hold its commencement with the class day exercises, after which there will be held in the Asbury Building the annual students' reception. These closing exercises of the school will be held Monday evening. The graduating class of Trinity Park School this year is unusually large and the school is closing a most successful year in every respect.

Sunday evening President Kilgo's address to the graduating class will be delivered. A number of the musicians of the city are arranging, under the direction of Dr. H. D. Moore, a most attractive musical program for the occasion and for the sermon on Tuesday morning. The annual commencement exercises have been greatly added to from year to year by the musical programs which are always rendered.

Monday afternoon, June 5th, the first meeting of the board of trustees of the college will be held in the trustee room of the Duke Building. The officers of the board are: James H. Southgate, Durham, president; Rev. Dr. T. F. Marr, Winston-Salem, vice president; Dr. H. D. Moore, secretary. There are thirty-six members of the board.

Tuesday morning, June 6th, the commencement sermon will be preached by Rev. Henry W. Brantley, D. D., pastor of St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church, South, St. Louis, Mo. Dr. Brantley is one of the most prominent and forceful preachers in the Church. His sermon here will be most fortunate in the opportunity to hear him.

Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Angler Duke Gymnasium will take place the annual meeting and dinner of the alumni association. In order to accommodate the very large crowd expected at this dinner the executive committee has arranged to have it in the gymnasium where a large hall on occasion is expected. The officers of the association are: Hon. Lee S. Overman, president; Prof. William H. Peggam, secretary; Prof. Robert H. Flowers, treasurer. The annual address will be delivered this year by Dr. William I. Cranford, professor of philosophy, Trinity College. Dr. Cranford is a member of the class of 1911.

Tuesday evening in Craven Memorial Hall will take place the representative exercises of the senior class. At a preliminary contest held several days ago the following were selected to speak on that occasion: C. C. Barnhardt, Concord; A. W. Horton, West Durham; W. A. Stanbury, Boone; A. L. Winshaw, Durham; T. L. Decker, Gray, Braxton Craven and society medals will be delivered at that time.

Wednesday morning at 10:30, in Craven Memorial Hall, the commencement address will be delivered by Mr. Walter H. Page, editor of The World's Work, New York City. After the address the graduating exercises will be held, after which will take place the university of the Washington Duke statue. The unveiling will be by Miss Mary Washington Stagg, a granddaughter and namesake of Mr. Washington.

Wednesday evening the annual reception will take place in honor of the graduating class. A number of banquets will be held during the week by the various fraternities and social organizations, and the social features of the commencement promise to be very enjoyable and attractive. President John C. Kilgo has gone to South Carolina to attend the annual commencement address at Wintthrop College, Rock Hill.

Dr. Edwin Mims, of the department of English, has returned from Nashville, Tenn., where he delivered Monday evening the literary address at the commencement of Ward Seminary.

Mr. F. C. Perrow, A. B. 1903, A. M. 1904, who has received the degree of doctor of philosophy from Harvard University in June, has been elected assistant professor in English at the University of Mississippi.

Mr. T. B. B. H., the junior class, has been elected by the nine captain of the football team for the coming year. Mr. Butler was captain this year and played second base.

STATE NORMAL.

Correspondence of The Observer.
Greensboro, May 30.—A very enthusiastic meeting, characterized by earnestness and loyalty, was held by the alumnae association of the State Normal and Industrial College on Tuesday afternoon in the department of commencement work. Each of the sixteen classes that have graduated from the college was represented at this meeting, the largest representation being eleven from the class of 1928, twenty-eight from the class of 1927, and the class of 1926, numbering forty-seven. The work undertaken by the alumnae at the meeting last year was that of raising a $50,000 loan fund as a memorial to Dr. Charles D. McIver, the beloved founder and first president of the college. Two field secretaries, Misses E. M. Spier and Lewis Dull, were sent out for about six weeks each during the summer. They organized twenty-five counties. They secured $1,500 in county pledges, Mecklenburg and Cabarrus leading with $1,000 each. A number of these counties has taken up the work with lively interest and sent in already a good per cent. of their pledges. The fund raised in each county is available for aiding students from that county as soon as the collections have been made.

The Students' Building, in which the alumnae meeting was held, was erected at a cost of $50,000. The building was made possible by the determined efforts of the alumnae. In 1922 the alumnae undertook to raise a loan and scholarship fund, which within three years amounted to $15,000. Fifty-one students have been aided by this fund during the past year. By help received from it a large per cent. of the graduating classes for several years have been enabled to complete their course. The funds on hand are not sufficient for aiding all who should be helped.

The association decided to employ a field secretary for all her time during the coming year and to prosecute vigorously the work of organizing county associations and securing pledges for the McIver loan fund.

The officers of the association for the coming year are: President, Miss Mary E. Moore, Greensboro; vice president, Mrs. A. I. Harris, Reidsville; secretary, Miss Laura H. Cot, Greensboro; treasurer, Miss Emily S. Austin, Tarboro; member of the executive committee, Miss Etta R. Spier, Goldsboro.

It was decided to offer a prize for the best college song submitted to a committee appointed for that purpose. Miss Oeland Barnett, of Shelby, was made chairman of the committee.

It was a matter of comment among those present that the spirit which animated the meeting was one of service to the college and to the State; to the college by furnishing means to bright and ambitious young women who could not without aid secure an education, and to the State by training more workers for service to the State. This is fitting since he to whom this memorial is dedicated gave his life in service for others.

If "Spirit" is a substance wherein thinking, knowing, and the power of moving do subsist, then the work undertaken by the association must be speedily accomplished.

UNIVERSITY.

Correspondence of The Observer.

Chapel Hill, May 30.—Bruce Stroud, the 16-year-old son of Mr. R. L. Stroud, is a genius. Others may buy $10,000 automobiles and French chauffeurs to run them, but Bruce Stroud cares not for such things when he can manufacture automobiles for himself. While visiting at Morehead City last summer he bought a small gasoline engine, shipped it to Chapel Hill, and upon his return he proceeded to build for himself an automobile of the most modern pattern. His machine was completed Wednesday night and yesterday he made a triumphant tour of the town, followed by the entire population of small boys, together with some of the students and even some of the gray-headed professors. The little engine puffed as though it were determined to do its full duty, the proud youngster sat in state upon the machine, guiding it by strings attached to the front axle just as a kid guides a sled, and though the machine, just as some of its big brothers do, bumped into a tree or two, ran into several ditches and stopped at some places, it had no opportunity to bump, without serious accident. The young fellow says that this was merely a trial trip, so he speaks that he expects to mount the machine upon a subeet truck and fix it so that the blind wheels do not have to be jacked up every time he wants to start it.

Mr. L. E. Potter, who has filled the place of Mr. George McKie in the public speaking department, is in the city. McKie is absent on leave, left Thursday morning for Barre, Vt., where he will spend the summer. He will spend next year in studying at Boston.

The executive committee of the University Young Men's Christian Association has adopted the following resolutions expressive of their appreciation of the services of Mr. F. H. Frank, secretary of the association for the past two years. Mr. Frank has filled a difficult office with rare ability and success. His knowledge of young men, his sympathy with all their normal interests, his fearlessness in the discharge of duty, his enthusiasm, energy and consecration will have been potent influences for good in the University and will be gratefully remembered by students and faculty.

In the new pastorate to which he goes, he will be followed by the good wishes of numberless friends here and elsewhere who know his services in the past and expect even wider usefulness in the future.

Misses Annie and Sarah Rutledge, of Mount Hope, are visiting their cousin, Miss Kathleen Rankin, Miss Nan Spottswood Strudwick, who has been assisting in the library this year, left for her home at Hillsboro the first of the week.

At the annual meeting of the County Club Wednesday, the president board of governors was re-elected. Also Dr. Archibald Henderson was re-elected secretary and Dr. Charles H. Herty treasurer.

Mr. John Goelen, of Winston-Salem, is on the bill for commencement.—Mr. S. T. Stancell, a senior who graduated Christmas, has returned to the hill to get his diploma.—Mr. J. K. Wilson, of Elizabeth City, arrived on the hill Wednesday to spend commencement.—Miss May Hume left recently for Washington, D. C., where she will join a party of friends for an extended tour of Germany, Sweden, and Italy.—Mrs. Cramer, of Raleigh, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Archer.

Rickard's Hotel was opened for guests Wednesday. The building is practically completed and arrangements have been made for the comfort of guests during commencement. The Chapel Hill Hotel, under the management of Mr. Addison Lamb, both of Fayetteville, has also been recently opened.

Rev. LeRoy Graham and wife left Tuesday for Raleigh. Mr. T. W. L. Moore, of Greensboro, will return in a few days, but Mrs. Graham will spend the summer there with her mother, Mrs. Reid.—Dr. J. C. Mills, of the department of chemistry, left the first of the week for his home in South Carolina.—Dr. Dolley, of the medical department, left Tuesday for Cleveland, O. He was accompanied by his mother.

DAVIDSON.

Correspondence of The Observer.

Davidson, May 30.—The May number of The Davidson College Magazine was issued from the press a few days ago. This number is more especially a senior issue, being the last work of the graduating class for The Magazine. Articles are contributed among others by J. W. Pratt, L. T. Newland, L. R. Taylor, L. Moore, W. Reed, J. K. Parker. Poetry, fiction and papers of a more serious or practical nature are all to be found here. J. W. Pratt, the valedictorian of the class as he turns out to be, proves the acquisition of knowledge and the mastery of subjects of a solid character. This issue bursts forth as a full-fledged poet, able to hit his pinnacles in airy and imaginative flight. He describes the "First Thunder Storm," pictures "Camp Fires" and then stops to whisper in soft notes of "Love You." In poetry "What's the Matter with the Philosopher" had to say in praise and adoration, "The Pictures 'Love and Prize' Editor-McClintock J. K. Parker establishes his claim to the position he has filled so well during the session just closed by having won the medal offered for the best piece of fiction contributed to The Magazine during the year. Some of the leading papers of the current issue are: "National Personality and Spiritual Life," "Sidney Lanier," "The Fresh School Teacher" (T. C. Merchant, '07). The issue is a good one and is a credit rather than otherwise to '28.

GULFORD.

Correspondence of The Observer.

Gulford College, May 31.—Commencement being now over, the activities have turned to clearing out the oldest building on the premises, namely, Friend's Hall, which was erected in 1835-36. It is almost a matter of surprise to find the structure of this building so substantial after it has stood here for about three-quarters of a century. Its condition is another proof of the substantial character of our forefathers, who built even better than they knew. Those who in the early days saw the structure rise would now, were it possible, regret that this historic building renewed and started on another century of service.

The new internal walls or partitions, maple floor, eastern port-cochere and French chandeliers, will quite modernize the old structure, and be a source of comfort to the inmates, which the founders never knew nor desired.

A pleasing feature of commencement this year was the large attendance of alumni and the genuine interest the association is taking in the welfare of Gulford. The fund established by Mr. Resor during the memory of one of its number, Mr. Marvin Hardin, who died last October, is an example of the concern which the alumni feel in the college. The fund has now accumulated no larger one it raised $1,200 in memory of Mr. Hardin, and intend for the proceeds to be given as a scholarship to the sophomore who makes the highest average during the year, the same to be available in the senior year, and only on condition that the winner spend the junior and senior years at Gulford.

The alumni association gathered a party which it intended to add to the building of the new library; and it is believed that such assistance will enable the trustees to proceed very soon with the erection of the library.

At the annual election of officers of the association, Mr. L. Lea White, of Jamestown, was elected president and Miss Alice Cartland, of Greensboro, secretary. It is interesting to note that Mr. White won the Havard College scholarship of $400 in 1904 and that Miss Cartland won the Mary Mawr scholarship of $400 in the same year.

Among the alumni present may be mentioned Mr. Kearney Hendricks, of Aseboro, a young man of distinction as a civil engineer. Mr. W. C. Hammond, also of Aseboro, the clerk of the court of Randolph county, and Mr. J. H. B. May, superintendent of public instruction of the same county, were present and manifested great pleasure in the commencement exercises. Mr. H. Sinclair Williams, of Concord, is present and served most acceptably as president of the alumni association. Others present were: Mr. Vernon L. Brown, of Greensboro; Miss Susanna Hobbs of Centre; S. Addison Hodgkin and Miss F. E. Petty, Hiram B. Worth and Mrs. David White, of Greensboro, and Mr. Henry A. White, of High Point, who was elected a member of the board of trustees.

The trustees of the college held a meeting in the afternoon of commencement day. The business transacted was mainly with respect to the new buildings and the work of next year.

LOUISBURG.

Correspondence of The Observer.

Louisburg, May 30.—The commencement exercise at Louisburg college came to a close Wednesday night. The exercises were held with the sermon to the graduating class by Rev. T. A. Smoot, of Grace church, Wilmington. The discourse was an inspiring one, holding the interest of the audience to the very last moment of its delivery. Some of the ablest men of the Conference have delivered commencement sermons here, but the one this year ranks with the best.

Monday at 5 o'clock the recital of the junior music class was held. Mrs. Laura Ballard is in charge of the juniors and under the patient care and training of that most excellent lady the pupils showed marked improvement. Monday evening the annual banquet of the alumnae association was held. Mrs. J. S. Barrow is president of the association and delivered the address of welcome. The speakers were as follows: "The Class of 1928," Miss Annie Bagley; "School Days," Mrs. Laura Ballard; "Success Prohibited," Miss May Holmes; "My Girlhood's Home and Friends," Mrs. Anna Lawson; "Our Wives," Mr. W. H. Ruffin; "The College," Mrs. W. B. Bickett.

The toasts were all in happy vein and the utmost good cheer reigned until near the midnight hour. The banquet was a great success and one of the most enjoyable features of this commencement. Refreshments were served by Dugh, of Raleigh. The art exhibit was open to the public from 10 to 5 Tuesday afternoon. The drawings were much admired, many showing real talent.

Tuesday evening at the opera house the class in elocution gave a delightful concert of three acts. It was a marked change from the usual prescribed form of exercises and was much enjoyed by an audience that filled every available seat. There were many amusing situations splendidly portrayed by the class of young ladies who threw life and action into the parts and were not mere automatons on the stage reciting lines.

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock the commencement exercises were held and were opened by the singing of the doxology, after which Rev. George M. Duke led in prayer. The principal feature of the morning was the literary address by Dr. W. R. Ferrill, of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. The speaker discussed books both as beneficial and as baneful. The degree of culture of the inward man marked the outward conduct. He emphasized the necessity of choice in literature and method in reading of books. He said that intellect and of the culture of the intellect and of the culture of the intellect and of the culture of the intellect.

The exercises were interspersed with musical selections and concluded with the presentation of diplomas, medals and Bibles. Rev. A. P. Tyne, chairman of the Conference committee on the taking over of the college, stated that the committee was busy completing the work which was necessarily slow and that the Conference would make such improvements in the college as the increased patronage would justify. He stated and prolonged applause that Mrs. Tyne has been re-elected to the presidency of the institution. The annual concert came off Wednesday evening, closing the commencement of 1928. The town was full of visitors to the occasion, some of them graduates of forty or more years ago.

HORNER MILITARY SCHOOL.

Correspondence of The Observer.

Oxford, May 30.—Commencement exercises began here Wednesday afternoon when Company "A" and Company "B" held their annual track meet. The result was exceedingly close, one company leading for a while and then the other, the final score being: "B" 48; "A" 49. There were thirteen contestants altogether.

Winston and Reinhardt, V., made the most counts for Company "A," each winning 12 points, with Jones a close second for the same company with 11 points to his credit. For Company "B," Homrighill, F., did the best work, having made 15 points, or 3 more than any other contestant in the whole meet. Blacklock did second best for Company "A," with 9 points.

Wednesday morning the exercises of the Franklin and Washington Literary Societies were held in the school auditorium. R. W. Winston, president of the Franklin Society, presided, while W. G. Graham, secretary of the Franklin Society, and J. W. Morris and G. W. Waring, president and secretary, respectively of Washington Society, presided. The participants were: J. W. B. Nimocks and J. P. Fenner; orators, H. M. Stubbs and A. H. Turnage; declaimers, L. N. Mills and Luke Latham; readers, A. E. Mellon and I. R. Williams.

The judges rendered their decision in favor of Fenner for the essayist's, Stubbs for the orator's, Mills for the declaimer's, and Williams for the debutant's. The winners of the exercises won 28 points and Company "B" 24. The commencement exercises came to a close Thursday night. Thursday morning the dumb-bell drill took place between the two companies, Company "A" winning. Olin Jones, leader for "B" in this contest, while M. W. Horton filled the same position for Company "A."

In the afternoon the annual competitive drill occurred between the companies. Captain Paul, of Virginia Military Institute, acted as referee. Company "B" was the first to drill, in charge of Captain Winston and Lieutenants Jones and Ferguson. Company "A" followed, in charge of Captain J. W. Morris as captain and Luke Lamb and Horton as lieutenants. The decision was reserved for that night.

Thursday night the exercises opened with address of welcome from the senior class by R. W. Winston; the class history by A. W. Graham; class poem, by F. H. Dunlap; and class prophecy, by A. H. Turnage. Immediately after the address of welcome a contest was held, those entering being: J. W. Morris, A. W. Graham, Hoke Hemphill, J. M. Emmett, J. B. Watlington, I. R. Williams and Fred Simpson. The judges rendered their decision in favor of J. W. Morris for the declaimer's medal. The certificates of graduation were then presented to fifteen young men.

The manual of arms medal was won by A. W. Graham, with L. N. Mills second. The captain of the team went to A. H. Powell, while the Ashley Horne medal for scholarship was won by Eugene Daniel, of Weldon.

The decision regarding the company drill was then announced, and Company "A" was declared the winner of the company, and for the coming year Company "A" will be designated as the "color" company.

After the exercises at the opera house those so inclined repaired to the barracks to dance. The night's pleasure with dancing. The final ball took place last night and the barracks are now deserted.

MILLER ACCUSES MAE WOOD.

Says Paper She Produced Forgery

Paris Dispatch to New York Sun.
J. Martin Miller called at the Sun office to-day, having just seen in the American newspaper reports of the trial of Mae Wood's suit for divorce against Senator Miller. The alleged typewritten confession, said to be his and produced by the woman in court, which was printed in The Sun of May 26th he pronounced a forgery and a mass of fabrication. He said: "Mae Wood never received any statement from me, written or verbal, involving Loeb or Wynne, nor any scrap of paper bearing my signature. I never wore a secret service badge or represented myself as a secret service man."

Mr. Miller has engaged an American lawyer named Harper to prepare an affidavit for presentation to the New York grand jury, as he will be unable to return to the United States for two months.

UNIONISTS IN SALISBURY.
Another Meeting There Saturday and Another in View.
Salisbury Post, May 30th.

Representatives of the Federation of Labor of North Carolina are in session this afternoon in the hall over the Wachovia Bank and while nothing can be learned of the proceedings it is certain that something interesting will develop from this third meeting held by the unionists within sixty days. The meeting to-day is largely in the nature of a conference and the forerunner of a mass meeting at which a definite policy will be outlined so far as the Federation has concerned in politics. This meeting, it is stated further, will make very plain the position of the union on matters that take first place in its affections. To-day's meeting is attended by several prominent unionists of Charlotte, Greensboro, Raleigh, Asheville and other towns. All participating in the meeting refuse to give out anything for publication.

Will It Be Even So?
Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.
The North Carolina fisherman will no longer use the words "pick" and "nor carry to the 'crick' when angling for suckers a bottle of Dr. Barleycorn's antidote for snake bite. The buccolic Tar Heel, returning home after a hard day's labor, cutting up for himself and gathering huckleberries, will be allowed to sit under his own figtree, but the superannuated vine has lost its glory—why cumbereth it the ground? When the wind shall set from the southward, we really do not see how the righteous people of the Old North State will be able to endure the fumes of the breath of the June 16th. This is the first time I other Carolinians who still live in land flowing with booze and honey.

A GRAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
"It gives me pleasure to speak a good word for Electric Bitters," writes Mr. Frank B. Smith, of Hoveston St., New York. "It's a grand family medicine for dyspepsia and liver complications. It gives me back my appetite, my kidneys it cannot be too highly recommended." Electric Bitters regulate the bowels, give strength, add vigor, impart renewed vigor and vitality to the weak and debilitated of both sexes. Sold under guarantee at all drug stores. See

Should Pay Gagged South Carolina Delegates' Expenses.
Charleston News and Courier.

The Democratic State convention, having denuded the office of delegate to the national convention of its authority and power, and having reduced its functions to that of a messenger boy, ordinary fairness and good sense would suggest that the South Carolina Democracy offer to pay the railroad and hotel expenses of the delegates. From sentiments of false pride, some of the delegates lately elected would decline to accept a tender of money from the State executive committee to cover their expenses, but by this act may, the executive committee should meet and instruct the treasurer to make the tender.

It would not be out of place for the State Democracy to pay the expenses of the delegates even were they not instructed, but the reasons are overwhelming that instructed delegates carrying tokens of homage to Mr. Bryan, of Nebraska, should not be compelled to travel at their own expense.

We move an appropriation from the exchequer of the State Democratic executive committee of $250 for each of the 18 delegates to Denver, the check to be endorsed over to an alternate in the event that a delegate cannot attend.

GOD BLESS THE LIFE-SAVER.

God bless the noble Surfman!
God bless the Keeper, too.
The man who, bravely, leads the men,
And gives them work to do,
Not easy work, nor work that's light,
But hard, and rough, and vital,
And filled with danger all the time—
God bless them, one and all!

II.
God bless the wife that's left at home—
The Surfman's on patrol—
God bless the babe that daddy loves
With all his heart and soul,
Of whom he thinks while out, alone,
For whom, on God, he'll call,
God bless "dad," the wife and babe—
God bless them, one and all!

III.
God bless the noble Service
To which they all belong,
In which they rescue human lives—
And so, I hit my hat
In praise of all the noble crew,
In prayer for loved ones, all,
The Keeper and his dear ones, too—
God bless them, one and all!

A Wonderful Recovery
Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 26, 1927.
Our little daughter had typhoid fever when she was three years old. It settled in her right leg, the leg swelling up just above her knee and burst, and pieces of bone came out. We had three or four doctors attend
