

PRINCE LANDS AT QUEBEC

said the return trip was commenced after a short stop there.
KING EDWARD'S TRIP.
Perhaps the most notable of royal visits to Canada was that of King Edward, then the Prince of Wales, in 1860.

His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, who arrived at Quebec yesterday on the cruiser Indomitable and was given a splendid welcome.

entertainment by Parliament for the Prince and his party. On the 21st of August he was received at Quebec by the Governor-General and both houses of Parliament, headed by their Speakers, Messrs. Narcisse F. Belleau and Henry Smith, both of whom were knighted by His Royal Highness.

other unnecessary evil."
These are the sentiments of General Andrea Carceres, the "General" of Peru, once president and now minister to Italy.

Who delivered the address of welcome to the Prince of Wales when he landed on Canadian shores yesterday.

Farm brought the festivities to a close. On September 1st he laid the cornerstone of the Parliament buildings at Ottawa which was attended by notable festivities and afterwards the Prince visited different points in the country.

ESTABLISHED IN 1878.
In 1878, Her Royal Highness, Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, the fourth daughter of Queen Victoria, came to Canada with her husband, the Marquis of Lorne, now Duke of Argyll, when he was appointed Governor General of the Dominion by Lord Beaconsfield's government.

IT CAN'T BE BEAT.
The best of all teachers is experience. C. E. Hadden, of River City, North Carolina, says: "I find Electric Bitters does all that's claimed for it. For stomach, liver and kidney troubles it can't be beat. I have tried it and find it a most excellent medicine."

follow America's example in everything but woman's suffrage. It is our desire to encourage American immigration, and we think that our promise of wealth to the energetic American man is fulfilled by the rich returns our land and enterprises yield.

"That craginess has not penetrated our domain," he said. "The women of Lima are as noted for their fondness for home life as they are famed for their beauty. They are quite as charming and witty as the American women, whom they desire to imitate in everything but suffrage and sheath gowns," he added with a twinkle in the influence of the Spanish customs his eyes.

great rejoicing. Prince Alfred, a brother of the present King, was at that time captain of the warship Black Prince and accompanied the Royal party across the Atlantic. He had previously visited Halifax as a midshipman, as many of the younger members of the royal family had done previously and since. During her stay in Canada the Princess endeared herself to the people and many were the regrets at her departure.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING.

New York Sun.
Mrs. Julia C. Lathrop, of Rockford, Ill., has been made codirector with Prof. Graham Taylor, of the Chicago Institute of Social Science. Besides coming from a family of lawyers, Miss Lathrop has herself taken a course in law.

Clubwomen of Chicago have been aroused over a recent case in the Municipal Court where a woman was fined $20 for wearing "jumpers." The woman was working as a hosiery carrier and explained to the judge that she put on the "jumpers" because they hampered her less than skirts. Her explanation did not suffice for the court and now the clubwomen have come to her assistance. They wish the judge to explain in what respect the wearing of jumpers by a working woman is a greater offence to public morals than the pink tights on a ballet girl.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hayward, of Salt Lake City, who was regularly elected as delegate to the Democratic national convention in Denver, is the mother of nine children and said to have one of the best managed households in that city. She is an ardent advocate of equal suffrage, not because it "broadens" the views of the modern woman, but because it gives them the power to protect and improve their homes.

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker recently sent in a petition to the Denver City council and neglected to name her occupation. A man was sent to supply the deficiency. "What is your business?" "Housekeeper," answered Mrs. Decker. "That ain't no business," declared the man. "Well, I collect my rents, pay all my own bills, am father and mother to my child, and take care of all my business," Mrs. Decker added. "Do you have an office downtown?" asked the man. "No, I do all my business from this desk," Mrs. Decker explained. "Well, that don't count," he informed her. After Mrs. Decker explained that she was the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, composed of 800,000 women, was on all sorts of national committees, in fact one of the busiest women in the country, he closed the argument by telling her, "I'll put you down as not doing nothing."

Mrs. W. S. Peabody, of Denver, has been called "Mother of the Mesa Verde National Park." This park contains the most interesting remains of the cliff dwellers that have been discovered, and Mrs. Peabody is largely instrumental in its being made a national park. Before her marriage to Major W. S. Peabody, a retired army officer, she lived in Washington, where she held a place in the Bureau of Ethnology.

Mrs. Eva Perry Moore, of St. Louis, the newly elected president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is a native of Rockford, Ill., and a Vassar graduate. From 1876 to 1879 she traveled abroad, spending her time in England, Germany, France, Italy, Austria, Holland and Belgium. Since her marriage she has traveled extensively in the United States and Mexico and has lived in Colorado, Kentucky and Missouri. She has been actively interested in the St. Louis training school for nurses, is a member of the board of directors of the Provident Association and has been chairman of its district nurse work since its inception. She is general secretary of the Society of College Alumnae and is one of the three alumnae of

THE DEATH RECORD.

Mrs. Perry, of Wake County.
Correspondence of The Observer.
Durham, July 21.—News reached here to-day of the death in Wake county, near Raleigh, of Mrs. Perry, sister of Sheriff John F. Harward and also a sister of Mrs. E. S. Merritt, both of this city. She died yesterday afternoon. No particulars were given in the message telling of death. She had been afflicted for several years and this was probably the cause of her death. She left a husband, three children, several brothers and sisters and a number of other relatives. During the hour for the funeral this afternoon the office of Sheriff Harward was closed. He went to Wake to attend the funeral.

Crawford O. Gillon, of Cabarrus County.
Special to The Observer.

Concord, July 22.—A message was received here this afternoon stating that Mr. Crawford O. Gillon died at 1:30 o'clock at the Stokes-Whitehead Sanatorium from the effects of appendicitis. He was taken from his home in the country last Thursday morning and had been in a precarious condition since, and at no time has there been any hopes entertained for his recovery. Mr. Gillon is about 45-years of age, and ranks as the most successful farmer in the county. He was a member of the board of county commissioners and a brother of our townsman, Mr. M. M. Gillon. He leaves a family. The remains will probably be brought to his home near Poplar Tent to-morrow morning for interment.

CASTING BRONZE STATUARY.

Few Foundries for the Purpose in This Country—Expensive Process.

Washington Herald.
"Although in the making of bronze statuary the casting is a very important and vitally necessary operation," said Fred H. Knapp, an artist, "there are only seven foundries in the United States where it is done. Perhaps, indeed, it is just because so much depends on the founder, and so great must be his skill and his knowledge of the sculptor's art that the foundries are so few. A great deal of such work is now turned out in this country, and every now and then a foundry is started, only to make a failure because of lack of the peculiar skill needed. It seems hard to get skilled workmen."

"The making of a marble statue is done entirely by the sculptor, or by workmen and students in his studio and under his personal supervision. The bronze statue is not only not made in the sculptor's studio, but it is almost invariably an enlargement of the sculptor's model, which enlargement is made by the casters and through methods of which the sculptor himself may know nothing at all. The making of bronze statuary is expensive. Exclusive of the amount paid to the sculptor the founder's charge for a life size statue runs up from $700. The larger and more intricate the design the greater the cost, but a single life size figure in simple dress and pose may cost as much as $1,200."

INDIGESTION
About two years ago I was taken with an incessant aching and burning of the stomach, which produced inflammation. Nothing would stay on my stomach, neither food, milk or even water. I would vomit everything almost as soon as I would swallow it.

The Essentials Of Successful Advertising
First, the idea—the goods advertised; their merits, value, etc.
Second, the medium. The choice of a medium will depend upon the class of people you desire to reach. It may be a newspaper, magazine, or trade journal, catalog or booklet.
The third essential is the ad. itself—the attractive, forceful, convincing presentation of your goods to the purchaser.
It is right here that careful consideration must be given to the appearance of your printed matter.
If you want your booklet attractive, your catalog distinctive, your stationery serviceable; if you want printing that exhibits every attribute of refinement and good taste; if you want business literature of a kind that constitutes the third essential of successful advertising—ask US to execute your next job.
Samples, suggestions, dummy, etc., on request, if there's a job in prospect.
