BRIEFS

A Few Minor Happenings in and About the City.

The annual picnic of the Sharon congregation will be held to-day.

Mr. C. E. Ader, who has malarial fever at St. Peter's Hospital, is doing nicely.

Mr. George Norman has sold for $5,000 a piece of his property to Mr. D. M. Abernathy.

The management of the camera-photograph announces that this is its last week in the city, and hence programmes are being changed daily.

A protracted meeting will begin at Providence church next Tuesday.

Rev. F. Dudley Jones, pastor of Westminster church is to do the preaching.

John Wooten, colored, was arrested yesterday charged with the theft of a pistol from Mary Morehead, and with carrying the weapon concealed.

Mr. Frank R. McNinch was operated on yesterday at the Presbyterian Hospital for appendicitis and his condition was reported last night as entirely favorable.

There will be a Masonic picnic at High Shoals, Lincoln county, tomorrow. A special train for the occasion will be run on the Carolina & Northwestern Railroad.

The next convention to have in sight will be the Republican convention, eleven days in the distance. The indications are that it will be a real live convention, despite the absence of Taft, who lectured it last time. It will not meet in the assembly room of the Selwyn either.

Mr. J. Hampton Rich, advertising manager of The Farmers' Union Guide, of Birmingham, Ala., is in the city in the interest of his paper. Mr. Rich has returned recently from a trip to the Isthmus of Panama and reports an increase in the amount of yardage used in excavations in the month of July.

There was a time when housekeepers felt it necessary to keep half a dozen different kinds of soap on hand.

But that was before Ivory Soap was made.

Such a thing is no longer necessary; or desirable.

For the bath, for the toilet, for fine laundry purposes, Ivory Soap answers every requirement.

Ivory Soap 99 1/100 Per Cent. Pure.

THE ICELESS FOUNTAIN.

Messrs. Woodall and Sheppard Elated Over Their Contract For a Soda Water Fountain.

Messrs. Woodall and Sheppard, who will have the corner in the Charlotte National Bank Building, are proud of their contract for a Becker Iceless Soda Water Fountain, with counter space of thirty-five feet.

In making this purchase they get in the company of such druggists as Riker-Jaynes, of Boston; Riker, of New York; May, of Pittsburgh; Nunnally, of Atlanta; Mealy, of St. Paul; D. R. Dyche, of Chicago; Fedderman, of Kansas City, and Will C. Topping, of San Diego, Cal.

The Becker fountain, invented by L. A. Becker, of Chicago, is the newest thing of the kind on the market, and is just out.

The company making the apparatus controls the original and basic patent for the utilization of ice cream for chilling purposes, as well as other patents connected therewith in the way of improvements, and have others in process.

A soda water fountain operated with this system has been in actual use in Chicago for more than a year and has proven satisfactory to a marked degree.

The system itself comprises thorough mechanical devices, the proper control of which provides for the usage of the ordinary salt ice surrounding the ice cream container for the purpose of chilling the carbonated water in specially constructed coolers adapted for the specific purpose.

The new fountain will be constructed and ready when the skyscraper is completed.

The Baby Caught the Spirit.

That there are children and children was proven by a little 2-year-old fellow at the academy show last night.

The majority of very young children get frightened and screaming with all the power of their little lungs whenever anything unusual or exciting, even though funny, is thrown upon the canvas.

Not so with this one. The picture was one of those tough and tumble mix-ups, where not only the wicked stand in slippery places, the leading man, perfectly innocent at heart, was being hotly pursued by a mob headed by a woman who looked like an advocate of female suffrage.

The chase continued across a lake of ice. Down would go the hero in a heap. Down imitatively in succession went every one else, the pursued managing each time to roll out of reach.

Through it all the little chap laughed loud and long and crowed in glee. Then the scene shifted and above the bank at which the other side of the lake appeared the head of the escaping man, pulling slowly but surely to safety.

"Goody, goody," shouted the little chap, clapping his hands in unexpressed delight. He added a hundred per cent to the enjoyment of the folks about him.

No Speaking at Belmont.

The political speaking which was postponed on account of the street car's going out of commission just as the hour arrived for the speakers to ride out.

Messrs. J. D. McCall, P. C. Whitlock and D. B. Smith were slated to address the voters of that section. There is a spirit of activity prevalent among the politicians and there is no doubt that a number of speakings will be held by representatives of both parties between now and the election.

IVEY'S

Looking For Taft's Successor.

Since the refusal of Hon William H. Taft to be present at the Republican convention here the latter part of the month, leading men of the party are casting about to find some other distinguished Republican who will be a drawing card at that event.

There is general regret that Mr. Taft found it impossible to come at this time because he would undoubtedly have drawn an enormous crowd to Charlotte.

Success in Clothes

Did you ever see a real successful, up-to-date man have on a shabby suit of clothes? No, you didn't! Why? Because no man that is prosperous is going to look like a scare crow.

Be wise enough to have your clothes work for you and not against you. Buy a suit from us, then take a look at yourself in the glass and you will see yourself as you would like others to see you.

Above Everything Else

In your purchase of Printing, Blank Books, and kindred supplies, should be considered the question of QUALITY.

Quality does not mean ornate decoration or elaborate coloring; nor does it necessarily imply a "steep" price.

Quality means taste, discrimination, harmony—in type, paper, and ink.

Quality is just as important—the lack of it just as evident—in a notebook as in a catalog.

We endeavor to give superior quality with every job we send out. It pays!—both you and us.

If you want quality in Blank Books, Loose-Leaf Devices, Engraving, Lithographing, or Printing, send your next order to THE OBSERVER PRINTING HOUSE
