The moonlight dance given at Electric Park last night was quite a success. About 50 couples took part and there were 150 onlookers. Excellent music was furnished by Richardson's Orchestra, led by Mr. E. Gaskel, violinist. Two prizes were given: Mrs. John C. Leslie winning the large gold stick pin and Miss Lillian Nash, a set of stick pins. Mrs. Brook Todd and Mr. John Tate led the figure in the grand march for the drawing. Mrs. J. B. Harty held the hat containing the numbers.

The dance was under supervision of Misses Norma Vay, Landingham, Edna Hirschinger and Mesdames C. W. Butt and Brook Todd.

The hall was entirely dark at times and a search light was used to represent the moon. The patrons of the dances at the park have prevailed on Professor Richardson to give a trolley dance Tuesday night. Prizes will be given to the tuckiest gentleman and the tuckiest lady.

Mrs. W. C. Hardison and children, J. H., Harriet E. and Hugh B. Hardison, of Wadesboro, were at the Central last night on their way home from the mountains.

The moonlight dance to be given this evening at the pavilion of New Electric Park promises to eclipse anything of that nature ever undertaken here. An admission fee of 50 cents will be charged those dancing, while the general audience will be charged only 25 cents for their privileges. The place will be beautifully adorned to greet the fine crowd that will attend. Dainty favors will be bestowed and several features of pleasing speculation will also be indulged in by the young dancers of each sex.
