MRS. J. A. PICKARD DEAD.

tesident in Seversville Stricken With Sudden Illness Yesterday Morning About 1 O'clock—Was From Prom-hent Orange County Family— Funeral This Morning at 10

An unusually sad death occurre yesterday morning in the passing of Mrs. Saille Stroud Pickard, wife of Mr. J. A. Pickard, at his home in Seversville. The end came almost without warning, for Mrs. Pickard died in something like an hour after it was found that she was sick. Heart fallure was the direct cause of her it was found that she was sick. Heart failure was the direct cause of her death. She had been a sufferer for several years with that trouble. Mr. Pickard was awakened about 1 o'clock by her coughing, and upon inquiry found her very ill. He gave her what relief he could, but by the time her physician reached her she was beyond help.

Seldom has a death occurred in Charlotte that affected a larger circle of friends. Mrs. Pickard came to Charlotte with her husband and family in 1895, and had been here continuously since. In all those years tinuously since. In all those years none ever knew her but to love her. Endowed with all the noble instincts of a well-bred womanhood, she also possessed more than an ordinary share of the characteristics of a good and loring mather, and as such she and loving mother, and as such she adorned her fireside, ruling with all the love and gentleness known to a tender, forbearing mother of a fam-ily. No children ever had a more faithful mother than did hers. If she had a fault it was in her selfsacrificing goodness to those about

Mrs. Pickard would have been 54 years of age next January, and had been married 32 years last July. To her were born eleven children, four of whom have died. The living are: Misses Lillie, Murl and Alma; Messrs. Gales and Paul and Masters Eugene and Charlie. Besides these she leaves

The matter heretofore has held was attested yesterday by the never been pushed, owing, doubtless constant stream of callers at the to the belief that the cost would be to the belief that the cost would be great to compensate for the benefits accruing therefrom. New life was recently injected into the movement by the proposition of the 4C's Company, which owns the block extending from Tryon to Church, 400 feet along First. The 4C's has offered to give the city 25 feet off of what is known as the Carson property, thus making the street from Tryon to Church 50 feet wide, on conditions the city would see to the widening of the street from Church to Mint, a distance of 600 feet. Of this distance, it will be necessary for the city to secure a strip 20 feet wide and rang there for it to stop, crossing along First and then a strip but six the street and following them feet wide for the remaining 400 feet No estimate of the cost of this work an unknown negro near midnight to the city can be made, for the reason Saturday robbed Miss Annie Patter- that no figures are now available to the city can be made, for the reason It is not believed, however, that it would require any great sum.

The proposition, all things consider-standpoint, as the Carson property is a very valuable one and the city the opportunity of getting a 50-foot street along First at small cost. It is furthermore generally understood that the widening of this street will insure the 4C's its extension to the river from the present terminus of the Hoskins line west.
