WHALE SCORES LOBSTERMEN.
Put Into Marblehead Harbor When Big Fellow Comes Up. Boston Herald...
Leaving their lobster traps, which were just taking in, and putting on all the power available in their motor boat, Horace Rhodes, Climp Adams and Horace Frost, lobstermen, came into Marblehead bay very much frightened...
They had fled to escape from a whale which, they declare, was sixty feet long, and which spouted a stream forty feet into the air, drenching them to the skin...
They were at Tinker's island, just out of Marblehead harbor, engaged in pulling in their traps, when they noticed that little fish were swimming around excitedly. The three paid no attention to this, when suddenly a large whale rose out of the water within ten feet of their motor boat, and gave them a shower bath...
They were badly frightened and were prepared to jump overboard, when the whale sank again. All the power in the boat was put on and record time made back to shore. All the other motor boats in the vicinity, seeing their great haste and wondering what the trouble was, put in at the same time...
Of late a great many whales have been seen around Marblehead, where they feed on little fish, and it is believed they are increasing in number hereabouts.

STANDARD MUST BE RAISED

BANK EXAMINERS CARELESS

Comptroller of Currency Murray Makes Stinging Speech to Bank Examiners in Conference in Washington, Focusing Out the Needed Reforms in the Methods of the Examiners-Declares That the Present Fee System of Bank Examination is Wrong in Theory-The Conference Will Continue For Several Days, During Which Time Radical Changes Will Probably Be Made in the Service.

Washington, Sept. 21.-Severely arraigning the method of bank examiners, declaring that they failed to discover embezzlements, defalcations and dishonesty and frequently failed to approximately estimate the value of bank securities, Comptroller of the Currency Lawrence O. Murray, before a conference of bank examiners representing the entire territory east of Ohio, delivered a stinging address, pointing out needed reforms.

The conference will continue for several days with a view of radically improving the service. Comptroller Murray said in part: "In some few instances the examiners are not to blame for failing to discover dishonesty, but it is difficult to convince the public of this fact, so that the effect is just the same. But in many instances subsequent investigation has shown that the failure of the examiner in this respect was due wholly to defective methods, hasty or perfunctory examination or absolute incompetency. "One of the most essential features of an examination is the correct valuation of the assets. Upon this estimate the comptroller must wholly rely to determine the solvency of an association or the extent of its losses, if any have been sustained. While an examiner should consult freely with the officers and some of the directors of the bank in respect to its assets, he should by no means accept their statements as conclusive. "If getting fees from the bank is more important to you than getting information for the bank for me, then resign at once.

CARELESS METHODS THING OF THE PAST

"The time for such careless methods has gone by, and it should have gone by long ago, for in the government service a few of us have a single branch where the responsibilities are as great and sometimes rest so slightly as they do on the shoulders of the national bank examiners. Very often the reports submitted here with nothing but the bare figures given.

"Hereafter if a man's work in one district is not up to the standard required, he will be temporarily assigned to another, and if in this second assignment his work still continues to be below par, his resignation will be asked. When an examiner finds a bank unsafe, he should not simply report the facts to the comptroller, and then hurry away to another bank to obtain another fee. He should convene the board of directors, insist upon immediate correction instead of leaving it to the comptroller, as many examiners do, to undertake to accomplish through correspondence what the examiner should endeavor to do on the spot. "There is no use of saying that the present fee system of bank examination is wrong in theory. It is the only system which Congress has given authority under, and we must do the best we can with it. I tell you this morning, in all earnestness, that the standard of the work done must be raised."

HEARST REPLIES TO HASKELL.

Refuses to Accept Challenge of Oklahoma Governor to Have Hearst's Charges Passed Upon by Editorial Board of Association.

New York, Sept. 21.-William R. Hearst, who has been campaigning for the national ticket of the Independence party in the South and middle West, returned to this city to-night and soon afterwards issued a statement concerning the challenge of Gov. C. N. Haskell, of Oklahoma. In his recent speeches Mr. Hearst had charged the Haskell, who is now treasurer of the Democratic national committee, had sought in 1899 to influence Attorney General Frank B. Monnett, of Ohio, to dismiss certain suits then pending against the Standard Oil Company. In a telegram to Mr. Hearst, which he made public last night, Governor Haskell invited Mr. Hearst to publicly present his charges before a committee of editors.

Mr. Hearst refuses to accept the suggestion of an editorial board of "editors" in the following language: "I address this communication to you, as I cannot have the slightest correspondence or controversy with a man of Mr. Haskell's character. "Mr. Haskell's proposition reminds me of the well-known story of the burglar who was caught in the act by the police. When the police burst in upon him, they found him in front of a safe, which had been blown open, with his tools in his pocket, a dark lantern in one hand and his other hand on the valuables in the safe. The police dragged the burglar to the court room and the judge said to the culprit: "Well, what have you to say for yourself?" "The burglar said: 'Loo, a-her, judge, let's arbitrate this case.' "The court records, the complaint of the ex-Attorney General of Ohio, Mr. Monnett, the affidavit of the present assistant of the present Attorney General of Ohio, Mr. Burnett; the court records of the State of Oklahoma in the Prairie Oil and Gas Company case, accuse Mr. Haskell, and not I.

"Mr. Haskell has had many years in which to sue Mr. Monnett, if that gentleman committed the crime of which he accuses me, but he has not done so. Mr. Haskell's proposition to arbitrate the matter is, in my opinion, a senseless and unwarranted insult. "WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST."

GOVERNMENT MAN COMING.

Surgeon General Wyman, Has Agreed to Send a Representative to Mayors' Convention to Speak on Some Phase of Municipal Sanitation.

Washington, Sept. 21.-Surgeon General Walter Wyman, of the United States Department of Health, has agreed to send a representative of the government here to the mayors' convention to address the body on the subject of municipal sanitation, and that man will probably be Assistant Surgeon General J. W. Kerr.

Congressman E. Yates Webb has just received a letter from the fraternal body of the city, which is headed as follows: "Washington, D. C., Sept. 17, 1908. Hon. E. Y. Webb, M. C. Shelby, N. C. Dear Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant forwarding a letter from Mayor Franklin of Charlotte, N. C., and endorsing his request that an officer of the service make an address before the convention of mayors to be held in the above-mentioned city in November next.

In reply, I beg leave to state that, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, I shall be pleased to detail an officer of the service for this purpose, and to be accompanied by the detail Surgeon General J. W. Kerr, who will present a paper on some subject relating to municipal sanitation. Respectfully, WALTER WYMAN, Surgeon General.

SMALL FIRE, BIG CROWD.

South Church Street Lives in the Lull of the Night. A Discarded Mattress Causes an Old mattress lying in the wood house in the rear of the home of Mr. M. H. Simmons, No. 317 South Church street, got into a fire, which means yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock and attracted a crowd which would have been worthy of the occasion had the city hall been burning down by the time the fire started. The mattress, of course, was not the centre of interest. Nobody cared particularly whether or not it departed heavenward in a cloud of smoke and sparks. It was the uncertainty that roused the crowd, and the excitement for some sensation. Both departments rolled out.

The place was but a few hundred yards from the quarters of Department No. 2, on South Church street, and behind the departments dashed the inevitable body guard on wheels. Others followed in automobiles, in carriages and on foot, lining the sidewalks for hundreds of feet.

The departments made quick work of the "conflagration." The wood house did not catch and the loss was under the million mark.

WRIGHT IN BETTER SPIRITS.

Pleased With the News That His Brother, Wilbur, Had Made a Record-Breaking Flight-Arrangements for Lieutenant Selridge's Funeral.

Washington, Sept. 21.-Although suffering from restlessness to-day, Orville Wright's condition to-night is satisfactory. He succeeded in getting several hours' sleep this afternoon and after receiving the news of his brother's record-breaking flight in France he is in better spirits. Miss Catherine Wright, his sister, remained almost constantly at his side during the day.

The father of Lieutenant Selridge will arrive Wednesday night, and the latter's funeral will probably take place at Arlington on Thursday. Tentative arrangements for the funeral are being made. In a set of resolutions adopted at a meeting to-day of the Aerial Experiment Association, high tribute was paid to the memory of Lieutenant Selridge.

The sympathy of the members of the association was extended to Orville Wright in another set of resolutions. Orville Wright, when told by his sister of the record flight made by his brother, Wilbur, said: "That is splendid. Perhaps Wilbur may soon be able to come over."

Burglar Shot and Captured.

Special to the Observer. Greenville, S. C., Sept. 21.-Two young white men attempted to burglarize a drug store in the Brandon Mill village Sunday night. The proprietor of the store was notified by a passerby and he fired upon the two burglars. One of them was shot in the elbow and was captured. The other was shot. It is thought, but not ascertained, that the burglars were from the city.

Has Long Fall, But is Hurt But Little.

Special to the Observer. Winston-Salem, Sept. 21.-Charles Bowling, white, 22 years of age, fell from the roof of the Forsyth Chair Company, thirty feet, and sustained only a fractured hip. His fall was unexplained and the rubbers he wore slid on the floor, causing the fall.

BEES ON A RAMPAGE.

Stung to Death $200 Worth of Dogs and $50 Worth of Pigs.

Harrisburg, Pa., Dispatch. Len Strader lives in the Eagle mountain backwoods, in Sullivan county, Pa. He has always kept several ships of bees in his yard, a number of valuable hunting dogs and a pen or two of pigs.

His dog kennels were not far from where he kept his bees. There had never been any trouble or sign of trouble between the bees and the dogs or pigs, so what caused them to take offense and pitch into one of the dogs the other day nobody knows.

The bees of one hive came out in a body and attacked the dog, covering him completely and soon stinging him to death. The dog was chained to his kennel, and when Strader attempted to untie him the bees turned on him, so that he had to flee to escape them.

His yells and the yells of the dog seemed to arouse the ire of the bees in the other hives, and one swarm after another came out and joined in the attack on the dogs until each one took over by his furious insects. One of the dogs broke his chain and ran, covered with bees, to a creek nearby, into which he quickly sprang. This drove the bees from him, and this dog was the only one that escaped with his life.

The bees seemed to have started out with the intention of cleaning out the whole establishment, for after their work at the dog kennels they turned their attention to the pigs. There were two old hogs in one pen and a sow and three small pigs in another. When the bees came in upon the little pigs the pigs were sagacious enough to bury themselves in the straw and litter of the pen, which saved their lives, for the old hogs were stung to death.

The bees hovered about in an angry mood long after the work of stinging the pigs and then all but one swarm sailed away to the woods. The one swarm returned to its hive and soon settled down to its peaceful work. Strader, however, feeling somewhat fearful, as the bees had killed for him $200 worth of dogs and $50 worth of hogs, turned the fumes of sulphur into the hive and sent those bees to join the dead dogs and hogs.

BRAZIL'S NEW WARSHIPS.

To Have Three New Vessels of High Gun Power.

New York Tribune. At least five naval powers are now fully committed to the policy represented by the Dreadnought, England, Japan, Germany, the United States and Brazil have in commission or are building battleships of which the main batteries consist of guns of a single calibre. The purposes of Italy, Austria and Russia have not been clearly defined, but in the latest edition of Brassey's Naval Annual the belief is expressed that they will follow suit. In France the new type of ship is not yet regarded as an approved type. That country is now building six vessels, each of which will be equipped with four 12-inch breech-loading and twelve 9.4-inch rifles. In six others which may be authorized next year a slight concession is likely to be made in the main batteries, in favor giving them six twelve and only eight of the smaller calibre. As yet France seems to be faithful to the policy of mixed batteries.

Concerning the three battleships of Brazil, now under construction in private yards in England, much has been manifested. From particulars supplied by a recent issue of Engineering and by Mr. Brassey it appears that Brazil is animated by an earnest spirit of progress. Two of the vessels are to be propelled by reciprocating engines, and the third turbines may be employed, but they are expected to develop a speed of 21 knots. In this respect they will equal the Dreadnought and the American battleships Delaware and North Dakota. They will, however, mount 12-inch guns, and more than four more than the Michigan. Just now a battery of that degree of strength is favored by several foreign powers—England, Japan and Germany among them. The system of distribution, too, may be a matter of some importance. M. Bachelet is trying to raise the necessary capital to launch his undertaking, but as yet he has not found anybody to back him.

Poor M. Bachelet! Probably he has not heard of the Vicomte de Botherel, another crank, who also had a mad scheme about buses. This gentleman, who lived in the good year 1810, thought he would benefit mankind by starting omnibus restaurants.

Unlike M. Bachelet, he risked his own money in the affair and constructed twelve omnibuses—immense, cumbersome vehicles with a small bar at the end where refreshments of every kind could be had at a small price. The offices of this strange undertaking were in the Rue Navarin, in Paris. The vicomte lost something like 25,000 francs, but he was not always remained firm in his belief that his idea was in every respect a practical one.

Col. F. H. Fries to Address American Bankers' Association.

Special to the Observer. Winston-Salem, Sept. 21.-Col. and Mrs. Frank H. Fries and their daughter, Miss Eleanor, left to-day for New York where they will go on the "Bankers' Special" to attend the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association from September 28th to October 3d. Colonel Fries will deliver an address before the convention.

Catory That Equals Michigan Variety.

Maxton Scottish Chief. Mrs. F. P. Munn has some very fine celery that will equal the Michigan variety, which is rooted from pieces thrown out of the dining room window. She intends to prove to the truckers of this section that trenching is unnecessary, and that they are throwing away a gold mine when they persist in trying to depend on Kalamazoo for this luxury.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has Always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

As a Seven-Year-Old See It. The building of the Charlotte National Bank on the square is a thing of much interest to a 7-year-old lad from Carolina, who is visiting his uncle, from whose porch the building can be distinctly seen. He went up to the people of the skyscraper to town yesterday, took a good look at the structure, walked around it, measured its height with his youthful eyes and then said soberly to his escort: "That certainly is a skyscraper as it scrapes the sky. Guess you live in a 'skyscraper' then, uncle. Your house escapes the sky." And he was innocent of a pun.

Shot and Killed by Brother-in-Law. Monroe, La., Sept. 21.-A. L. Shelby was to-day shot and instantly killed by his brother-in-law, T. O. Wilder, in a local dry goods store. The tragedy, it is said, was the result of family troubles which have existed for some time. Immediately after the shooting Wilder was arrested.

RHEUMATISM

Several years ago I was a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism and my doctor advised me to go on Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I only took a few bottles, when I was entirely cured. I then commenced to use it in my family for general use, and we depend upon it for breaking up colds, neuralgia and most of the troubles one's family is subjected to. Four years ago, just three months before the birth of one of my children, I was taken down with measles, which weakened me greatly. My stomach would not retain a thing, and I was in a serious condition. I believe I would have died had I not taken it. I do not think there is a medicine its equal, when a tonic is needed to build up the system.
