COTTON MARKET.

New York, Sept. 22.—The cotton mar-ket was quiet to-day and fluctuations, while irregular, were narrow. The close was steady; net unchanged to 5 points was steady; net unchanged to 5 points. New Orleans, tone quiet; middling lower. Sales were estimated at 125,000 8 1-16; net receipts 5,917; gross receipts 5,- bales.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 6 points with the active mouths selling 4 to 6 points lower on or immediately following the call owing to lower cables, the continuation of the lockout in Manchester and local bear pressure. The weather man was good and receipts ran was good and receipts range ran Manchester and local bear pressure. The weather map was good and receipts ran heavier but offerings here were not agreeable owing to a fear that the Einglish labor troubles might be suddenly settled or that there might be another spell of unsettled weather in the South. Spot houses seem to be supporting October 1978. houses seem to be supporting October and after the initial decline the market ruled generally steady with Oc-tober at one time showing a net advance of one point while later months were net unchanged to 1 point lower. The close was a shade off from the best under realizing by early buyers. Southern spot markets officially reported were %c. lower to 1-16 cent higher. Most private re-ports from the interior indicated steady holders and advices from the Southwest said that there was a demand for end of September and first half of October the local stock will be shipped out domestic mills in the near future. One to domestic mills in the near future. One

STOCK MARKET.

New York, Sept. 22.-The disorder of the transactions at the stock exchange to-day during the demoralized break in prices was not greater than the excessive confusion and contradiction of the opinions held as to the causes of the collapse. That it was proof amounting to a demonstration of the fictitous and excessive nature of the previous advance was agreed to without dispute. The sensational collapse which prices have undergone has not altered the conviction as to the source of the operations which advanced them previously but the motives which prompt the abandonment of the previous position offer a subject for the most divergent opinions. Nothing indicates urnecessity for liquidation, with surplus feserves of the banks still above $50,000,000, in spite of the inroads made upon them and with call loans easily procurable at 1 per cent. or slightly above. This strengthens a conviction that the leaders of the recent speculation must have been entrenched with supplies of credits which would have protected them from pressure of lenders which would precipitate any such urgent selling market as is now seen. The rise in prices had the growing effect of bringing to market holdings of an investment or partly investment character, both from home and foreign sources. The necessity of accepting these offerings in order to maintain prices proved a growing burden to the efforts of the supporters of the market. There was the openly expressed suspicion on the stock exchange floor that the cion on the stock exchange noor that the disorder in the market was a deliberate burpose of forces which had fostered the purpose of forces which had fostered the previous advance, with the object of previous advance, which is the object of the o apprehended from revival of political activity against corporations and wealth. Sales of upwards of a hundred thousand shares in to-day's market were ascribed to brokers who have had the largest share in executing the orders which carried forward the long advance in prices. Blocks of stocks were hurled upon the market to-day from such sources time after time when prices showed any dispo-sition to rally. With the market seemingly lacking all support the bears operatcover shorts towards the end of the day was on an ernormous scale. The violent recovery thus caused left gains for the day in not a few instances and material- were quiet and unchanged. Middling CORNly altered the whole appearance of ear-lier losses.
