NEGROES SAFE AT COLUMBIA.

Prisoners Which Mob Tried to Take From Jail Carried to State Peni-tentiary-Troops All Dismissed and Town is Normal Again.

Special to The Observer.

Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 12 .- John Irby, colored, who is charged with having attempted to assault Miss Lillie Dempsey near Saxon Mills last Saturday, choking her, she says, until it seemed her eyes would pop out conscious in a dense patch of woods; and Clarence Agnew, who wrecked passenger train No. 40 at Wellford two lives, are now safe within the Richmond. walls of the State penitentiary. The prisoners were spirited out of the county jail to-day at noon by Deputy ton & Western Carolina road, where they boarded the train for Laurens to the end of the war. and made connection with the Attie Coast Line train for Columrrom the jail because it was consider-ed unsafe nor because of any fear that they might fall into the hands of the mob. They were removed in of the mob. They were removed in order that normal conditions might be restored and to save the State the expense of troops being stationed chester, S. THE DEATH RECORD.

Capt. Peter Keys Norris, of Anderson, S., C.

Correspondence of The Observer

Anderson, S. C., Oct. 12.-Capt. Peter Keys Norris, one of the oldest and best-loved men of the county, died Saturday night at 9:30 o'clock at his home on South Main street after a brief illness at the age of 86 years. He had been in rather feeble health for some time, but the immediate cause of death was an affection of the heart.

The funeral was held from the home this morning at 10:30 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. H. Fraser, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Interment was made in Silver Brook Cemetery.

Captain Norris had only been con fined to his bed for a few days. Saturday night, a few minutes before he died, he expressed a desire to walk in the hall, saying he could not breathe his son, Mr. T. W. Norris, and son-inlaw, Mr. L. E. Norryce, supported him as he walked across the hall and back. Soon after he had again taken his bed the end came.

In 1846 Captain Norris married Miss. Caroline Capers Sanders, a daughter of Dr. William Sanders, of Charleston, who had moved with his family to the Rock Mills section of the county, where he practiced his profession. Mrs. Norris, who is now 83 years old, with four daughters and two sons survives. The daughters are: Mrs. J. J. Gilmer, Mrs. L. H. Steel, Mrs. M. L. Willis and Mrs. L. E. Norryce. The sons are Messrs. T. W. and J. J. Norris, all of this city.

During the latter part of 1861 Captain Norris organized a company of volunteers in Anderson county, and reported for duty at Charleston in January, 1862. The company was the seventh to report and was known as Company G in the Second South Carofrom her head and leaving her un- lina Regiment of Rifles under Col. In May, 1862, the John V. Moore. Norris' company took part there in the battles at Frazer's farm and Malvern two weeks ago, causing the loss of Hill in the seven-day fight around

In the latter part of 1863, finding that his health would not admit of in-fantry service. Captain Norris resigned from Company G and became a mem-from Company G and became a mem-Becknell and Capt. S. O that I had taken shares in the Mutual B. & L. years ago! I would have owned a home to-day; I could have met this unexpected debt: I would be able to re-roof our home, to re-paint, to repair the fences, to put in sewerage and water; I could now send my boy off to college, he's no anxious to go.

HEAR ME, SISTER:

If your fool husband hasn't sense enough to take a few shares in the Mutual right now, after all these years of golden opportunity, and of unceasing warning, with a family of children bable at any mo-ment to be deprived of a bread winner, and to be left to the cold charities of humanity, then take a stick and beat him to death. PUT ON HIS TROUSERS and be a man yourself. Let him darn his old socks and wash the dishes and mind the children. You come along to the Mutual, and together we'll make the fight, and we'll win. New series open. E. L. KEESLER, Secretary and Treasurer
