The news conveyed to Salisburians through The Observer this morning of the tragic death of ex-Senator Carmack, at Nashville, Tenn, yesterday afternoon, caused genuine regret here, where the noted Tenuesseean was well known, he having stopped here several times on route to and from Washington. He was intimately known by both ex-Congressman Theo F. Kintta and Senator Lee S. Overman, and both were horrified upon hearing of the tragedy. Mr. Kintta, while in Congress, occupied a seat adjoining that of Mr. Carmack while the latter was serving the tenth Tennessee district in the lower house of Congress.

NO BAIL FOR MORSE, His Case Not Extraditable and Circuit Court of Appeals Denies Him Ball —Will Have to Remain in Tombs Prison Till December 3d.

New York, Nov. 10 .- Bail was denied Charles W. Morse, the financier, who has been sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment at hard labor, at the closing of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals to-day and it now seems certain that the former multi-millionaire must semain in the Tombs prison at least until December 3d next, when argument on the writ of error that has been granted him may come up. One loop hole is left open to Morse's counsel in the decision, and that is that the judges decision, and that is that the judges decided that while ball was denied, it was done so "without prejudice to a renewal of the application after a a renewal of the application after a bill of particulars is filed."

Morse had been hopeful of gaining his release from the Tombs to-day and the denial of ball tame as a hard blow. His wife and son, Harry, encouraged him in the belief that he would be free by nightfall.

While Morse tried to hide his disappointment he felt too cast down to do on." There is one feature of the case that is particularly disagreeable to Morse. That is that no matter how long he is compelled to remain a prisoner in the Tombs the time will not count as part of the fifteen years he must serve in the Federal prison at a new trial.

Judge Hough gave his reason for refusing to admit Morse to hall that the case was not an extraditable one and that it would be easy for Morse to furnish ball through a bonding company, as the prisoner was worth $22,000,000. Morse in an affidavit presented to the judges of the United States Court of Appeals yesterday denied that he was a millionaire.

CANNOT GET A JURY. Court Unable to Select Twelve Men to Try Case Against Alleged Mur-derer of Mrs. Belle Gunness—New Evidence Disclosed.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 10 .- Jury selec

Evidence Disclosed.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 16.—Jury selection in the case of Ray Lamphere, on trial in the Laporte Circuit Court for the alleged murder of Mrs. Belie Gunnese and her three children, came to an abrupt halt late to-day, when the second special venire of 25 men was exhausted without a jury having been obtained. Judge Richter at once ordered a third venire to be ready for examination to-morrow.

At the adjournment of court ten jurymen were accepted tentatively by both the State and defense.

The defense to-day made public some new evidence in the story of Fred Lambright, neighbor of Mrs. Gunness, who says that one night in July as he was driving to town he saw a man and a woman in a buggy, drawn by a gray horse, drive into the Gunness' yard. He watched them and heard the woman say. The money ain't here," after the had jumped out of the rig and walked around the ruins of the burned house. He says that the woman in form locked like Mrs. Gunness, although her five was hidden by a heavy vell. Her voice was similar to that of Mrs. Gunness. The man, he says, he did not recognize. He says he did not recognize, the says he did not recognize. He says he did not recognize, the says he did not recognize, where the did not recognize he was afraid he would be laughed at. This evidence, Attorney Wilson says, will be used to and his two daughters who will tes-tify for the defense that they saw Mrs. Gunness on July 9th. Lambright does not fix a date for his nocturnal vision, but the defense declares that it must have been on July 9th.
