The United States of America vs. The American Tobacco-Company, et al. before Lacombe, Coxe, Word ond Noyes, Circuit Judges.

OPINION OF JUDGE LACOMBE. The act of July 2d, 1890, in its first section declares to be illegal every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or con-spiracy, in restraint of trade or com-statute as was the combination condemned in Loewe vs. Lawlor, 208 United States, 274. Relief under the statute tion, ambiguous when enacted, is, as the writer conceives no longer open Great Britain and Ireland, Limited, is to construction in the inferior Federal courts. Disregarding various dicta and following the several propositions which have been approved by succeseive majorities of the Supreme Court, where such contract was a legal and this language is to be construed as proper one. It is apparently the conprohibiting any contract or combina-tion whose direct effect is to prevent acts of the imperial Tobacco Comthe free play of competition, and thus pany in this country practically tend to deprive the country of the ser-amount to the entering into a combivices of any number of independent nation or contract of the sort speci-dealers, however small. As thus con-strued the statute is revolutionary. the only transactions of that com-By this it is not intended to imply that the construction is incorrect. When construction is incorrect. prejudice against large aggregations of capital and the loud outery against combinations which might in one with the popular of any set of purchasing employes; it does not sell its manufactured pro-ducts here—indeed anch combinations which might in one way having to pay both tariff duties and or another interfere to suppress or revenue tax, could not be sold here check the full, free and wholly unrestrained competition which was asrightly or wrongly, to be the sumed, very "life of trade," it would not be surprising to find that Congress had responded to what seemed to be the of a large part, is majority of 11 not the the that it intendamunity and ed to secure such competition against the operation of natural laws. The act may be termed revolutionary beuse, before its passage, the courts had recognized a "restraint of trade" which was held not to be unfair, but permissible, although it operated in e measure to resist competition. By insensible degrees, under the op-oration of many cases, business, manutacturing and trading alike, has more and more developed a tendency towards Aarger and larger aggrega-tions of capital and more extensive combinations of individual enterprise. It is contended that, under existing conditions, in that way only can pro-duction be increased and cheapened, new markets opened and developed, stability in reasonable prices secured and industrial progress assured. But every aggregation of individuals or ns, formerly independent, immediately upon its formation terminates an existing competition: whether or not some other compelition may subsequently arise. The act, as above construed prohibits every contract or combination in restraint of competition. Size is not made the test: two individuals who have been driving rival express wagons between willages in two contiguous States, who enter into a combination to join forces operate a single line restrain an

TOBACCO TRUST DECISION the petition, was a contract and com-bination in restraint of a competition oxisting when it was entered into, and that is sufficient to bring it within that is sufficient to bring it within the base of this drastic statute. A large part of the record is taken based to back of the stock of a competing the Dissents From the Verdict of Majority. the Majority of the stock of a competing pallowing is the full text of the pinion of Judge Lacombe, presiding in the United States Circuit Court of the United States Circuit Court of merican Tobacco Company, in which is defendant company was held to be defendant company was held to be defendent company in which a corporation acting in restraint mutual transactions. Irads and therefore in violation It is contended that the case at bar the Sherman anti-trust act, and the is not within the statute since the senting opinion of Judge Ward. various combinations complained of deal primarily with manufacture, and United States vs. Knight, 156 United States, I. is cited in support of that proposition. It seems to the writer, however, that subsequent decisions of the Supreme Court have modified the opinion in that case, and that the one nerce among the several States, or should be granted against the several foreign nations." That declara- domestic corporations defendant. The Imperial Tobacco Company o one of the defendants. It is a Brit-ish corporation and entered into a contract with The American Tobacco Company in the City of London, pany here are these: It buys leaf tobacco of the American grower in very revenue tax, could not be sold here except at a loss, save in the case of a few fancy high-priced brands. It may be an enlightened public policy to prohibit an alien corporation from buying its raw material in this country unless it sends its products here to compete with American manufacturers; but, if it be, this act seems not to have gone to that extent. The turers; petition should be dismissed as to the Imperial Tobacco Company. A like disposition should be made as to the British-American Company. As to relief. In the main brief t is prayed that the domestic defendants The American Tobacco Company, American Snuff Company and others enumerated should be restrained from carrying on interstate or foreign commerce, until conditions existing before illegal contracts or combinations were entered into are restored. Such relief is certainly drastic enough and should be efficient. In the petition it is prayed that receivers be appointed for the various companies, who, apparently are to conduct a tobacco business and create some sort of artificial competition to take the place of the natural competition which, it is alleged, was destroyed by the combinations. Such a scheme seems impracticable and is wholly unnecessary. I concur with Judge Cox in his reasoning and conclusions touching the United Cigar Stores Company and the R. P. Richardson Company. And also concar in the suspension of injunction pending appeal.

OPINION OF JUDGE WARD, DIS-SENTING

I feel constrained to dissent from existing competition and it would the judgment of the court in this entire sugar output of the United existing competition and it would the judgment of the court in this States. The bill averred that the free make such combination more effective by forming a partnership or and are engaged in an illegal combiand are engaged in an illegal combination to restrain and monopolize that regard as proper for the protection of the vendees. Referring to the combination of 1866, which created the present American Tobacco Company, it is to be remembered that the Consolidated Gompany was a mere holding com-pany, and the American Tobacco Company an diffe Continental Tobacco co Company were in no sense compet-itors, the former being engaged in manufacturing plug and twist tobacco. Their merger was not in restraint of trade unless it could be regarded as an illegal monopoly because it pro-duced from sixty to ninety per cent. of the total output of the United States of the various articles it manufactured.

The profits of the present American Tobacco Company and its con-trolled companies have been and are very large, and their business, excluding cigars, covers not less than sevenly-five per cent. of the whole output of manufactured tobacco in the United States. The government has offered in evidence & stipulation (government's Ex. No. 8) of all the defendants except the Imperial Tobacco Company, the United Cigar Stores Company, R. Richardson Company, Inc., and W. Reed, which must be taken correctly to describe the way the business is done, there being nothing in the record to the contrary, as follows:

"We admit that all the vendors and corporation defendants mentioned in the petition as engaged in the manu-facture and sale of tobacco products except Imperial Tobacco Company, Limited, purchased or now purchases some or all of the requisite raw material in States or countries other than those in which the factories were or are located, and had or has it transported thence through the me dium of common carriers to said factories, and employed or employ trav eling salesmen who solicited or solicit in States or countries other than in which the factory was or is located orders for the tobacco products which by them were or are transmitted to said factory or other chief office of the manufacturer, and if approved they are filled by the delivery of the goods to a common carrier, where the factory was or is located, duly consigned to the purchaser, title passing to said purchaser on said delivery to the common carier." It can hardly be doubted that a manufacturer who makes his pro-ducts of materials found within the State of manufacture and sells his entire product there is not engaged in interstate commerce. It will make no difference that the purchasers send and sell the manufacturer's product throughout the United States. Except that they buy their raw ma-terial in other States, this is the way the manufacturing defendants in this case do their business. Their business is manufacturing and the fact that they get raw material in other States and send agents to other States to solicit orders does not make their business interstaate commerce. This certainly appears to be the view of the Supreme Court in the case of the United States vs. E. C. Knight Co., 156 U. S., 1. In it the American Sugar Refining Company and four refineries in Palladelphia were all engaged in competition with each other in the import ing of raw sugar into the United States, refining it and selling it throughout the country. Their busi-ness was exactly like that of the principal defendants, except that it in a necessary of life instead of a luxury. A combination was made be-tween the American Sugar Refining Company and the Pennsylvania refin eries by the exchange of all their capital stock for shares of its capital stock. The monopoly was greater than in the case now under consider-ation because the combination manufactured ninety-eight per cent. of the

LEFT ON HER DOORSTEP

FOR THIS MOTHER

CHARLOTTE DAILY OBSERVER, NOVEMBER 16, 1908

Mrs. A. G. Tuson, of Livermore, Cal., writes: "I picked up from my door-step one day a little book in which I soon became very much interested. My little girl of five years of age had been troubled for a long time with loss of appetite, extreme nervousness and undue fatigue. She was all run-down and in a very delicate condition. "This little book was nerv commen-"This little book was very compre-hensively written, and told of the new method of extracting the medicinal ele-ments of the cod's liver from the otieliminating the obnoxious of which is so hard for children to take.

"'Just the thing,' said I, for my little daughter,' and I immediately went for a bottle of Vinol. It helped her wonderfully. She has gained rapidly in flesh and strength, and she does not take cold half so easily.

"I am extremely grateful for the good it has done her, and I hope other mothers who have weak, delicate or ailing children will be benefited by my experience and just give Vinol a trial."

R. H. JORDAN & CO., Druggists. CHARLOTTE

such cases as United States vs. Knight, 156 U. S., 1; Hopkins vs. United States, 171 U. S., 578, and Anderson vs. United States, 171 U. S. 604. In which the undisputed facts showed that the purpose of the agree-ment was not to obstruct or restrain interstate commerce. The object and intent of the combination determined its legality."

It has been suggested that the plaintiffs in the Loewe case must must have been held by the court to have been directly engaged in interstate commerce or otherwise the demurrer would not have been overruled; and If they were directly engaged in inter-state commerce the defendants in the state commerce the defendants in the Knight case must have been so slso, the only difference being that one manufactured sugar and the other manufactured hats. But one need not be engaged in interstate com-merce at all to get the benefit of the Sherman act. Section 7 authorises "any person who shall be injured in his business or property" by a violahis business or property" by a viola-tion of the act to bring just such a suit as Loewe brought. Although the plaintiffs, as manufacturers, might not have been engaged in business which would bring them within the operation of the Sherman act, still a combination of their parties to restrain a part of their business incidentally interstate commerce in might well bring that combination within the operation of the act. The decision in the Loewe case was unanimous and expressly approving the Knight case, proceeded upon the ground that the defendant's combination necessarily and directly restrained the purchases and sales of hats, between the plaintiffs and citi-zens of others States. Three of the justices who were of the majority in the Knight case concurred in the Loewe case and it can hardly be supposed that they were overruling the Knight case by implication.

I think it conclusive in this case. If it be said this conclusion would leave great evils without correction. the answer is they may be corrected by the States or in the territories by the United States, because they can prevent monopolies and combinations in restraint of trade within their own borders, whether carried on by their own citizens or by others.

Assuming, however, that the Knight case does not apply, are the defendants within the prohibition of the first section of the Sherman act? Undoubtedly the original American Tobacco Company and the Continental Tobacco Company (both of which have ceased to exist), and the American Snuff Company and the American Cigar Company were combina-tions of independent concerns, but every combination is obviously not every combination is obviously not within the act. The prohibition is against combinations whose purpose is to restrain trade. Such a combina-tion is within the act even if it fail to do so, while one whose purpose is not to restrain frade is not within the act even if it incidentally does so. In-tention is of prime importance be-cause the acts prohibited are made crimes. So far as the volume of trade in tobacco is concerned, the trade in tobacco is concerned, the proofs show that it has enormously increased from the raw material to the manufactured product since the combinations, and, so far as the price of the product is concerned, that it has not been increased to the con-sumer and has varied only as the price of the raw material of leaf to-back has varied price of the raw materied only as the to-bacco has varied. The purpose of the combinations was not to restrain trade of prevent competition, although competition was ficidentally prevented, but, by intelligent economies, to increase that volume and the profits of the business in which the parties were engaged, No agreements were entered into, as in many of the decide cases, that operated directly on interstate com-merce through common carriers by maintaing rates or preventing com-petition. Like United States vs. Trans-Missouri Freight Association, 185 U. S., 190; United States vs. Joint Traffic Association, 171 U. S., 505, and Northern Securities Co. vs. United States, 193 U. S., 197, or which Hm-lited output of manufacturers or reg-ulated the prices at or the territory within which their output should be sold throughout the United States, 185 U. S., 376, or which sought to prevent any inferstate commerce at all in the goods in question, as in Loewer vs. United States, 175 U. S., 191, wor an appendix to prevent any inferstate commerce at all in the goods in question, as in Loewer vs. towards 18 was an appeal from the Supreme Court of the Territory of Oklahoms, which their government relies throws fittle light on the one under consideration. It was as appeal from the supreme Court fourd has a fact that the lease in question was made in aid of a comprisery to sup-rest common law, the trans act of the the traritory or the Shawmee Court found as a fact that the lease in question was made in aid of a comprisery to sup-rest common law, the trans act of the supreme Court field Haeff vonfined to determining whether there was evi-dence to support the continuion do the traritory or the Shawmee Court field field vonfined to the traritory or the Shawmee to the decree. Mr. Justies McKenna asid trefering that there was, affirmed the decree. Mr. Justies McKenna asid trefering that there was, affirmed the decree. Mr. Justies McKenna asid trefering that the was athorthy in the record for that action? and following the bacco has varied. The purpose of the combinations

tion the supreme Court decided ad-versely to the view taken by the trial cour. The court therefore must either have conceded that there was not some evidence supporting the con-ductions of fact of the trial court of haw which the trial court upheld were not sustained by its conclusions of fact. As our view in the nature of things is confined to determining whether the court below erred, it fol-lows that our reviewing power under the eircumstances is coincident with the authority to review possessed by the circumstances is coincident with the authority to review possessed by the court below to determining whether there was some evidence sup-porting the findings and whether the facts found were adequate to sustain the legal conclusions. Southern Lum-ber Co. vs. Ward, 208 U. S., 126." It remains to inquire whether the American Tobacco Company and its controlled companies constitute a monopoly of or attempt to monopo-lise a part of the foreign commerce lize a part of the foreign commerce betweep the States under the sec-ond section of the Sherman act. As ond section of the Sherman act. As this section prohibits a monopoly of or an attempt to monopolise any part of such commerce, it cannot be literally construed. So applied, the act would prohibit commerce alto-gether. The first and second sections must be read together, and I think mean the same thing, the second add-ing nothing except to extend the pro-hibition to individuals who, without combination, monopolize or attempt to monopolize. It must be understood to prohibit monopolies or attempts to monopolize brought about by the to monopolize brought about by the unlawful means contemplated in the first section, viz., the purpose to re-strain trade by preventing competiion and preventing others from participating in it. Thme third section of the act bears out this construction because it does not mention monopolies or attempts to monopolize in the etrritories or District of Columbia, where the juris-diction of the United States is supreme in all things, and it can hardly be that Congress intended to declars innocent acts committed within them which it preneunces crimes if committed in the States mitted in the States. The purposes o fitte defendants should not be made to depend upon occasional illegal or oppressive acts or letters, but must be collected from their conduct as a whole. A perusal of the record satisfies me that their purposes and conduct were not illegal or oppressive but they strong or oppressive, but that they strove a severy business man strives, to increase their business, and that their

Savannah and Jacksonville. Pullman drawing room alsepars to Augusta and conville. Day coaches to Jackson ville. S:D a. m., No. 5, daily, for Richmond and local points. 5:D a. m., No. 44, daily, for Washington and points North. Jusy cosches Charlotte 40 Washington. Puliman sleeper Atlants 538 a. m. No. 44, daily, for Washington and points North. Day coaches Charlotte to Washington. Pullman sleeper Atlanta to Raleigh. 538 a. m., No. 35, daily, for Columbia and local points. 578 s. m., No. 16, daily except Sunday. for Statesville. Taylorsville and local points. Connects at Mooresville for Win-ston-Salem, and at Statesville for Ashe-ville.

rion S. Jonnege at Mooresville for Win-rion S. Jonnege at Mooresville for Ashe-ville.
7:15 a. m., No. 33, daily, for Atlanta.
Bay coaches Charlotte to Atlanta. Stops at Briacipal points an routs.
18:36 a. m., No. 85, daily, for Winston-ton and points North. Pullman drawing room alcopers to New York. Day coaches to Washington. Dining car service.
10:06 a. m., No. 25, daily, for Winston-Selem. Rosmoke and local points.
10:06 a. m., No. 57, daily. New York and New Orisans Lamited. Drawing room alsoping cars. Observation and dub cars. New Tork to New York to Atlanta field Pullman train. Dining car service.
11:35 a. m., No. 11, daily, for Atlanta

room sleeper. Now Tork to Atlanta. Bolld Pullman train. Dining car service. 11.35 s. m. No. II. daily, for Atlanta and local points. 3.50 p. m. No. 46, daily, for Greensbore and local points. 550 p. m. No. 41, daily except Sunday. for Sences and local points. 6.65 p. m. No. 27, daily, for Columbia and local points. 6.65 p. m. No. 27, daily, for Columbia and local points. 6.65 p. m. No. 28, daily except Sunday for Statesville, Taylorsville and local points. Connects at Statesville for Athe-ville, knoxville and Chattanooga. 6.69 fs m. No. 12, daily, for Richmond and local points. 6.69 fs m. No. 12, daily, for Richmond and local points. Handles Pullman sleep or, Charlotte to Washington, and Char-lotte to Richmond. 7.59 p. m. Fo. 55, daily, New York and to Richmond. P. m., Flo. S. daily, New York and Orisans. Limited for Washington points North. Drawing room desp-observation and club cars to New L. Dining car service. Solid Pull-an train. 5.55 p.m., No. 55. daily, for Atlanta and sints South. Pullman drawing room sepore New York to New Orieans. New ork to Birmingham. Day coaches Vashington to New Orieans. Dising car

10:25 p. m., No. 48, fast mail. Fullman For Jorger, Raisigh to Atlanta. Tickels, sleeping dar reservations and apply Senboard d er Senboard to ticket ages ticket office, No. 11 South Tryon street G. H. ACKERT Vice Pres. and Gen. Mgrs., Washington, D. C. S. H. HARDWICK, P. J. M., W. H. TAYLOR, G. P. A., Washington, D. C. R. L. VERNOR, T. P. A., Charietta, M. C.

time arriva

d by this c or for a to their

leave Charlotte as follow vially, at 4.00 a. m., for] and Wilmington, con with 39 for Atlanta, 1 Southweat; with 38 and Portsmouth, with Raleigh, Richmond, 1 nd the Shelby and Hummer More More daily, at 5:19 p. m. for More Wilmington, and all local p Wilmington, and all local for Or Hamilet minerida points

15 p. m.

ilway po 9, 11:30 p Iamiet a East, N with and on all through train not.

Accepting this construction of the statute-as it would seem this court trade, in violation of an act of Conmust accept it—there can be little gress passed July 2, 1890, known as doubt that it has been violated in this the "Sherman act." and prays for re-case. The formation of the original lief, by injunction and otherwise American Tobacco Company, which ante-date the Sherman act, may be disregarded. But the present American Tobacco Company was formed by is as follows: subsequent merger of the original In January, Tobacco Company and when that pendent concerns almost who merger became complete two of its the manufacture of cigarettes.

complained of, it is not material to in-guire, nor need subsequent business methods be considered, nor the ef-the meaning of that act, United States methods be considered, nor the ef-fects, on production or prices. The record in this case does not indicate that there has been any increase in the price of tobacco products to the customer. There is an absence of competition or improper practicets independent dealers have been dra-gooned into giving up their individual enterprises and selling out to the principal defendant. In this connec-tion, is of the continental Tobacco company, was incorporated to take over the plus tobacco business of the of the government's witnesses. depenent was for many years an independent dealer and secretary of concerns manufacturing principally, the independent Tobacco Manufac-turers' Association. He testified: in the way of cutting of prices in business was conducted by me one; I had no partner, no corpora-on. It had got to be a large busi-and if anything happened to me was no one there to continue it. The value of the business was in a brand and I became fearsome what would happen to it if I would be dis-the din any way; it would not be of a blad in any way; it would not be of value to my estate unless some ne had a knowledge of the business wyond which you cannot conduct it profitably personally. It will get so And then, too, I was only identified coing by precedent, the consuming public of tobacco changes every 10, 12 or 15 years and I have figured that might happen again, and it wouldn't mething else and then I would not much business, I thought; reas the American Tobacco Comhad been in conference with me; w the officers and I made up my when a proper proposition was a to me, such as was satisfactory as, I would be very anxious to ate myself with a good big to-o organization, large enough and ig enough to take care of all conthat might come up. I was need to sell out by a decrease is or by any unfair competi-never had any fear they could se out of business." During lance of the American Tobacny new enterprises have ad-some with small capital eitifon with it and have The price of leaf tobacodthe price of leaf tobacco-neerial-except for one brief bnormal conditions, steadi-and puril it has nearly fille at the same time 180,-mal acres have been devot-ces crops and the consump-theaf has groundy intreased. he enterprise of defendant.

sed in In

In January, 1890, the American Tocompany with the Continental To-bacco Company and the Consolidated take over the business of five independent concerns almost wholly in existing competitors in the tobacco business were eliminated. What benefits may have come from this combination, or from the others it was incorporated some six months on, interesting testimony is given by over the plug tobacco business of the sovernment's witnesses. American Tobacco Company and the business of five other independent concerns manufacturing principally. certain brands of plug tobacco which probably had something to do with the formation of it.

Subsequently the American Tobac-co Company bought or obtained con-Some of them were absorbed, and others like the defendants, continued heir corporate existence. In 1996 the American Snuff Comtheir pany was incorporated to take over the snuff business of the American Tohacco Company, of the Continental Tobacco Company, and of two other independent manufacturers.

independent manufacturers. In 1901 the American Cigar Com-pany was incorporated to take over the business of the American Tobac-ca Cmpany and Poweil Smith & Company in manufacturing and sell-ing cigars, cheroots and stogies. In the same year the Consolidated Tobacca Company was incorporated

Tobacco Company was incorporated to take over as a holding company, in exchange for its bonds, substan-in exchange for its ponds, substan-tially all of the stock of the Ameri-can Tobacco Company and the Con-tinental Tobacce Company. In 1963 the American Stogie Com-pany was incorporated to take over the stogis business of the American Company the American Stogie Com-

can Tobacco Company and the Con-tinental Tobacco Company.
 In 1903 the American Stogie Com-pany was incorporated to take over the stogie business of the American Tobac-co Company, the American Tobac-co Company and the Continental To-bacco Company and the Continental To-bacco Company and the Consoli-dated Tobacco Company wers merganet into the present American Tobac-company.
 The 1904 the American Tobac-co Company, the Continental To-bacco Company and the Consoli-dated Tobacco Company wers merganet into the present American Tobac-company.
 The companies above named, being the principal defendants, acquired concerns supplying things necessary in the tobacco business, such as the foil licerice root and its products mans entered into contracts not to plants entered into contracts not to engage is the business of the tobacco plants entered into contracts not to engage is the business of the tobacco plants entered into contracts not to engage is the business sold in certain territory for a certain time, which I

States and controlled its price, had combined with the other defendants to restrain the commerce in refined sugar in the several States and foreign nations and to increase its price. The Trial Court (60 F. R., 306) found "The object in purchasing the Philadelphia refineries was to obtain a greater influence or more perfect control over the business of refining and selling sugar in this country." When the case reached the United States Supreme Court, Chief Justice Fuller, who delivered the opinion of the Court, assumed that the transac tion did constitute a monopoly, but held that it was a monopoly of the manufacture of a necessary of life. He said at page 17:

"The object was manifestly private gain in the manufacture of a commodity, but not through the control of interstate or foreign commerce. It is true that the bill alleged that the products of these refineries were sold and distributed among the several States, and that all the companies were engaged in trade or commerce with the several States and with foreign nations; but this was no more than to say that trade and commerce served manuafcture to fulfill its func tion. Sugar was refined for sale, and sales were probably made at Philadel-phia for consumption, and undoubt-edly for re-sale by the first purchasers throughout Pennsylvania and other States, and refined sugar was also forwarded by the companies to other States for sale. Nevertheless, it does not follow that an attempt to monopolize, or the actual monopoly of, the manufacture was an attempt, wheth-er executory or consummated, to monopolize commerce, even though, in order to dispose of the product, the instrumentality of commerce in order to dispase of the product, the instrumentality of commerce was necessarily invoked. There was noth-ing in the proofs to indicate any in-tention to put a restraint upon trade rention to put a restraint upon trade or commerce, and the fact, as we have seen, that trade or commerce might be indirectly affected was not enough to entitle complainants to a decree. The subject matter of the sale was shares of manufacturing stock and the relief sought was the surrenand the relief sought was the surren-der of property which had already der of property which had siready passed and the suppression of the al-leged monopoly in manufacture by the restoration of the status quo be-fore the transfers; yet the act of Con-gress only authorized the Circuit Courts to proceed by way of prevent-ing and restraining violations of the act in respect of contracts, combi-nations or conspiracies in restraint of interstate or intermational trade or commerse." It is clear that the court recon-

go 278:

the shawnee Company to errors the loase is attacked to to errors great success is a natural growth resulting from industry, intelligence and economy, doubtless largely and economy, doubliess largely helped by the volume of business done and the great capital at com-mand. For these reasons, without considering others discussed by coun-sel. I think the bill should be dis-missied. largely ope and Effect Upon All Classes of Industrial Combinations Engaged in Inter-State Trade is Regarded as Important—Appeal to the Supreme Court Under Way.

DECISION ATTRACTS ATTENTION.

New York, Nov. 14 .- The sweeping character of the recent decision of the United States Circuit Court in declaring the American Tobacco Company to be a combination in restraint of trade, is attracting widespread attention, particularly for its scope and effect upon all classes of industrial combinations engaged in inter-State traffic. An appeal to the United States Suprems Court is being prepared. The full text of the decision dis-closes, in the language of the judges, the gradual development of judicial interpretation of the jaw up to the present time, Judges Coxe, one of the concurring judges, stating that "since the Knight case (against the Sugar Befineries), the tendency has been constantly towards a wider scope of the statutes." An examination of the numerous decisions since the Knight case leads to the conclusion, Judge Coxe asys, that there has been a general tendency towards a broader and more liberal construction of the statutes. Judge Lacombe, in his majority opinion, defines the statutes of the law to-day in part as follows: "By insensible degrees, under the operation of many causes, business, manufacturing and trading alike, has more and more developed a tendency towards larger and larger aggrega-tions of capital and more sensive combinations of individual enter-prise. It is contended that, under existing conditions, in that way only can production be increased and cheapened, new markets opened and cheapendent, immediatels upon its neured. But every ago adividuals or corporation competition may subsequet "The act, as above com-hibits every contract or o in restraint of competition

The full text of the decision dis-

87 Selwyn Hotel.

No Vacation. Enter Any Time. Individual Instruction. Shorthand, Book-Keeping, Telegraphy and English taught by experts. A school with a reputation. The oldest, largest and best equipped business college in the Carolinas. Write for catalogue. Address

KING'S BUSINESS COLLEGE, Charlotte, N. C., or Raleigh, N. C ...

