In honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Alice Winston Sprull, of Rocky Mount, to Mr. Thomas Wain Alexander, of this city, which will be solemnized at Rocky Mount Wednesday night, the Carolina Cotton Club of that city is perfecting arrangements for one of the most elaborate and enjoyable gowns given by that club for many years. Preparations are in the hands of a committee and a dispatch from that city states that a large number of visiting young people and a host of dancers are expected. The marriage of the young lady in whose honor the gown will be given will be a social event of Mr. F. R. Sprull, a prominent lawyer of Rocky Mount, and a niece of Lieutenant Governor Francis D. Winston.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson will leave early this week for Birmingham, Ala., where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. L. B. Newell will entertain the members of the bridge club at her home on North Church street to-morrow morning.

The literature department of the Women's Club will meet to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. The program is as follows: "Charles Firth and His Times," Mrs. R. G. Brice; "Development of the Drama," Mrs. Charles E. Hooper; "Spanish Armada," Mrs. Charles E. Platt and Discussion—Quotation from Don Quixote, led by Mrs. J. M. Jordy.

Cards reading as follows have been received in the city:

Mr. and Mrs. George Douglas Elliot requests the pleasure of your company at the marriage of their daughter Mamie

Mr. Henry Mager London on the evening of Wednesday the twenty-fifth of November at seven o'clock.

At Home Linden, North Carolina.

Mrs. J. W. Falson returned last night from Atlanta, Ga., where she attended the general meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Miss Margaret Halladay, of Greensboro, is the guest of the Misses Link on South Tryon street.

CONVENTION THIS WEEK

GOVERNOR GLENN COMING.

Municipal Convention to Be Held in the Academy of Music To-Morrow and Wednesday—Between 650 and 750 Delegates Expected—Many Distinguished Visitors Coming—The Entertainment Features Elaborate—To-Morrow's Programme—Governor Glenn to Respond to the Address of Welcome—Mayor Cutchin, of Roanoke, Va., on the Programme.

The outstanding event of the week, and the month for that matter, is the municipal convention which is to be held here to-morrow and Wednesday. Mayors, members of municipal boards and laymen from all sections of the Carolina, with a goodly sprinkling of visitors from afar, will be in attendance. In all between 650 and 750 delegates are expected. In point of numbers this assemblage will rank along with the State and National and State Republican conventions which were held in this city during the summer. It will be the last convention of the year and will prove a fitting and proper finale to a season during which Charlotte has pleased to many notable gatherings.

The sessions will be held in the Academy of Music to which the public at large is most cordially invited. Local interest in the subjects discussed should be marked in view of the fact that Charlotte is just at this time considering the advisability of effecting certain radical changes in her system of municipal government. One of Mayor Franklin's prime objects in getting up this convention and bringing it to the Queen City is to inform the Charlotte public of the latest and most up-to-date methods of administering the affairs of a growing municipality. To Mayor Franklin is all credit for having conceived the idea and giving it the impetus to the point where it has abundant promise of being one of the most successful conventions of the kind ever held in the South.

From time to time, The Observer has made mention of the distinguished visitors expected. Governor Robert Broadnax Glenn, accompanied by his staff, will arrive in the city this afternoon. He will be met by the local artillery and a company of friends who will escort him to his hotel. Other distinguished visitors, mayors of leading municipalities and experts in other lines, will arrive to-night and to-morrow. There will be special arrangements for the reception and entertainment of all. The hotels have had ample time in which to make preparations, and now everything is in readiness for the convention. The entertainment features, consisting of a trolley ride about the city, an automobile ride, a smoker at the Southern Manufacturers' Club and a banquet at the Selwyn, have all been mapped out and nothing remains now but to "push the button."

The programme for to-morrow follows:

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 17TH, 11 O'CLOCK

Convention called to order by Mayor P. S. Franklin.

Invocation—Rev. Dr. H. H. Hutter. Address of Welcome—Hon. R. B. Glenn, Governor of North Carolina.

Address of Welcome—D. A. Tompkins, Charlotte.

Response—Hon. M. F. Ansel, Governor of South Carolina.

Response—A. H. Boyden, mayor of Salisbury.

Appointment of committee on permanent organization; car ride over the city.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, 3 O'CLOCK

Address—"Municipal Art and Encouragement of Civic Improvement and Material Development," O. B. Eaton, mayor of Winston.

Address—"City and County Government for Small Towns," A. C. Avery, Jr., mayor of Morganton; F. L. Bundy, mayor of Laurinburg; Harry Wheelbell, mayor of Greenville; R. B. Caldwell, mayor of Chester; E. C. Gilchrist, mayor of Florence; S. C. H. W. Foster, mayor of Greenville, P. C.

Address—"County Road Construction," D. P. Hutchinson, Charlotte.

Address—"Town and City Trade," Paul Jones, mayor of Tarboro.

Address—"Best Charter for Government of Growing Southern City," James I. Johnson, mayor of Raleigh.

Reception Southern Manufacturers' Club, 123 to 128.

TUESDAY EVENING, 8 O'CLOCK

Address—"Banquet," Assistant Surgeon General J. W. Kerr, Washington, D. C.

Address—"Municipal Expenditures," George A. Hubbard, mayor of Boston, Mass.

A PROMINENT VISITOR

One of the prominent visitors to address the convention will be Mr. J. H. Cutchin, mayor of Roanoke, Va. Mr. Cutchin is known in Virginia as one of the South's greatest business men. After 20 years of successful business experience at Norfolk, Va., and at the age of 40 years, he studied law, graduating with high honors, and then, in 1881, located in the booming town of Roanoke.

Shortly afterwards the boom collapsed, leaving both low and its citizens in a bankrupt condition. It was at this stage of the history of Roanoke that Mr. Cutchin was elected mayor and he took charge and has since been enthusiastically re-elected without opposition. He has seen his city grow from a bankrupt town of 30,000 inhabitants to a most prosperous city of 40,000 population until it now ranks as one of the South's greatest cities. There are few cities in the country that have experienced the phenomenal growth Roanoke has had the last 15 years due in a large measure to the successful city administration under the leadership of Mayor Cutchin.

Mayor Cutchin will address the convention at the Wednesday afternoon session and has selected as his subject "Centralization of Responsibility as the Best Form of Municipal Government," which will be of great interest especially at this time to the Charlotte citizens.

BRIEFS

A Few Minor Happenings in and About the City.

J. R. Kennedy, colored, was arrested yesterday charged with carrying concealed weapons. A pistol was found on his person.

There will be little doing in municipal circles until after the municipal convention this week. Those boards slated to meet will hold over until next week.

Women know! It isn't necessary to tell them that the best way, the only safe way, to wash "fancy work" is with Ivory Soap and lukewarm water.

They wouldn't think of using ordinary laundry soap, or washing powders, or chemicals.

NEVER! Ivory Soap 99 1/2% Per Cent. Pure.

At 8:30 o'clock, entrance will be secured through the main doors.

There is no diminution apparent in the volume of travel. Hundreds of people were at the Southern station last night, nearly everybody either travelling or accompanying travellers.

To-day will be a busy one with the different Methodist brethren. All the financial business of the year will be wound up to-day, bills paid, and accounts prepared, showing the results, financial and otherwise of the year's work.

The cold snap got here yesterday about as soon as the prediction did. What was probably the heaviest frost of the season almost fooled early risers into mistaking it for snow and the weather about daybreak was little short of Arctic.

RECITAL TO-NIGHT

Madame Stark-Stanley and Mr. Frank Croton to Appear at the Selwyn Hotel.

One of the leading musical events of the season will take place to-night at 8:30 o'clock in the assembly room of the Selwyn. Madame Stark-Stanley and Mr. Frank Croton will render a select and high-class programme of instrumental and vocal music to what will, from all indications, be a large and cultured audience of persons, appreciating the best, highest and most finished in musical art. Both the performers of the evening are known in Charlotte. Their renditions at the recent musical festival are alone sufficient to insure to them a cordial reception on this, their return engagement. Madame Stark-Stanley, as pianist, and Mr. Croton, as basso, have won wide reputation by the brilliancy with which they perform the most difficult feats in musical expression.

Following is the programme.

Alto Solo—Gloriani. Recitation and Aria: Caesar's Lament—Handel.

Scherzo in flat minor—Chopin. Mme. Stanley.

(a) Duet for voice and piano—Schubert. (b) Sapphic Ode—Brahms. (c) Dahlm—Kau.

PART II. (a) Requiem—Homer. (b) "How My Boy"—Homer. (c) Nocturne—Op. 9, No. 3—Chopin. (d) Cardas—MacDowell. (e) Nocturne—Schubert. (f) Staccato Etude—Scharwenka.

(a) "Faded Spray of Poinsettia"—Schelling. (b) Explanation (No.)—Hart. (c) Old Irish (arranged by Haynes)—Mr. Croton.

Bridge, the Unimproved, After All. The colored butler in a certain Charlotte family failed to show up at the appointed hour for service. It being after 5 o'clock when he blew in.

"James, where in the world have you been all afternoon?" asked his employer's wife.

"I was sorry I couldn't get here no sooner, ma'am," he replied. "But I been at a bridge party all evening and it looked like they wasn't never going to serve no refreshments. So after goin' I just had to stick it out."

To Attend Uncle's Funeral. Mr. J. H. Craighill left this morning at 1 o'clock for Lynchburg, Va., to attend the funeral of his uncle, Gen. J. Holmes Smith, cashier of the Lynchburg postoffice, whose death was recorded in an associated Press dispatch in yesterday's Observer. General Smith dropped dead Saturday afternoon. Mr. Craighill will return Wednesday morning.

An Important Question. Washington Herald. The South should look to it earnestly, carefully, prayerfully—that awful list is growing, growing, growing! Goebel, Gonzalez, Carmack! Who will be the next, or shall there be a next?
