BRIEFS

A Few Minor Happenings in and About the City.

An exciting automobile race, punctuated by accidents, in which a woman wins, is attracting attention at the Edison.

The Alexander Rescue Home will conduct a sale of fancy work at a condensed table in the city room at 9th and 16th. Lunches will also likely be served.

The fountain for the Stonehill Pharmacy has arrived and has been installed. It is an exceedingly handsome one and will be harmonized with the artistic building in which it is located.

Even the bitulithic people sat up and took notice of the convention's presence. A large sign, "Bitulithic," was suspended across North Tryon near the square, in a way that afforded the artistic building in which it is located.

Formerly insane, Will be Tried For Wife-Murder.

Wadesboro Annonian.

Deputy Sheriff Pearl Martin is on his way here from Raleigh, where he last night arrested John Gregory, who will stand trial for the murder of his wife on the 10th day of January, 1935. He was put on trial for the murder at the April term of court here in 1935, but the question of his sanity came up and Judge Ward empaneled a jury to first try this issue.

The jury's verdict was that Gregory was too insane to answer the charge brought against him and thereupon the judge ordered him confined in the insane department of the penitentiary until he was sane enough to stand trial. Some time ago the authorities notified Sheriff Martin that Gregory was a sane man and that he would be given his liberty unless sent for by the Anson authorities.

High Point Sportsmen Deplore Scarcity of Game.

Special to The Observer.

High Point, Nov. 13.—The bird hunters are greatly disappointed on account of the scarcity of quail for the time of year. Since the 5th when the bird law went into effect, a number of High Pointers have searched the fields but in few instances have anything like the desired results been obtained. In one tract of land where birds generally abound in large numbers not a covey was found. The severe rains in September and October did the work for the birds.

AMUSEMENTS. CAMPANARI TO-NIGHT. Signor Giuseppe Campanari, the world's greatest baritone, will be heard in recital at the Academy of Music to-night. The advance sale of seats for Campanari's engagement has been most remarkable for a musical attraction, and it is expected that the local playhouse will be taxed to its utmost capacity when the popular singer makes his appearance.

"THE GIRL QUESTION." The snappiest, grilles, most successful play of the year will be seen at the Academy of Music, Friday night of next week, when the Askin-Singer Company present "The Girl Question." Its music is by Joseph E. Howard, and its book and lyrics by Frank Adams and Willoughby. They are the trio who wrote "The Time, the Place and the Girl," which played here to the largest house ever crowded into the theatre and as "The Girl Question" is adding several thousand dollars to the gross receipts for the first two hundred performances of "The Time, the Place and the Girl" in Chicago on its first two hundred, there seems no doubt that the S. H. O. sign will be called into play very shortly after the advance seat sale opens. The cast includes Paul Nicholson, Angelina Norton, Florence Ankleby and a chorus of the hand-somest show girls ever organized.

MORRISON'S "FAUST." At the Academy of Music next Monday, matinee and night, will be presented the most beautiful, spectacular production of Goethe's great masterpiece, "Faust," that is now before the public. Many innovations and changes have been made in the production of this famous play by the present management, and the changes have all been for the best. The famous magician "Herman the Great," is responsible for the new "Broken Scene," adding several magical effects which with the lurid lightning, pealing thunder, showers of fire, and the wild revelry of the fiendish mocking demons, make this scene wonderful in its terrible grandeur. The production of "Faust" has also been staged by the master magician of the age, and is now produced by the aid of his famous "levitation" illusion, wherein "Marguerite," when she dies in the prison cell, rises from her bed of straw and sleepily ascends to heaven, and at the same time Mephisto, baffled in his quest for the erring soul, returns to the lower regions.

Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time. It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances.
