special to The Observer.

Asheville, Jan. 6 .--- The board of ommissioners for Buncombe county n monthly session yesterday afterquesting the legislators from Hun-combe in the General Assembly to secure the enactment of a bill authorting the county to issue $125,000 in bonds to take up the present floating indebtedness of the county. In pass-ing the resolution the commissioners "That the floating indebtedness is $120,000; that it is utterly impos-sible for the board to pay said indebtdness, that the board is of the opin on that the best interests of the the county require that it be paid off and that the only available method is through a bond issue." The bonds, if the legislative authority is secur-de, will run for a period not exceed-ing 30 years and bear interest not greater than 5 per cent. The bond issue of $125,000 will be the great-est individual issue in the history of the county.
