

TO LOOK INTO THE NAVY

THE PRESIDENT DISPLEASED.

Chief Executive Springs a Surprise on Navy Department Officials by Appointing a Commission to "Consider Certain Needs of the Navy"...

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Roosevelt is of the opinion that the organization of the Navy Department is not such as to bring the best results and to-day he appointed a commission whose announced duty will be to consider certain needs of the navy...

Announcement of the President's action was entirely unexpected at the Navy Department. Secretary Newberry, who to-day was carrying out his proposed plan, with particular reference to the navy yards, appeared to be the most surprised of all...

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER.

The President has sent identical letters to each of the eight members of the commission, which is headed by Paul Morton, a former Secretary of the Navy...

"My dear sir, I have appointed you as a member of a commission to consider certain needs of the navy...

"All defects in the law under which the Navy Department is now organized, including especially the defects by which the authority of chiefs of bureaus is made in certain respects practically null and void...

"The necessity of providing the Secretary of the Navy with military advisers who are competent to coordinate the work of the bureau and for preparation for war...

"The necessity of economical allotment and disbursement of appropriations and the economy which will insure strict accountability...

"Finally, I want your views as to how best to recognize and emphasize the strictly military character of the navy, so that the preparation for war shall be controlled under the Secretary by the military branch of the navy...

"In addition to the above reports I desire your recommendation as to the number, location and general facilities of the navy yards which are required by strategic conditions in time of war and for maintaining the fleet in constant readiness for war in time of peace...

"Sincerely yours THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Preceding by several hours the President's announcement was the issuance of a general order by Secretary Newberry...

"In general purpose it is to consolidate the manufacturing force at navy yards and its effect will be to make the commandant, while as heretofore, paramount, resemble in his connection with the navy yards the president of a large industrial plant...

Paraphraser Bailey Coming. Native of Iredell, Now Editorial Writer on Houston Post, to Visit Old Haunts in the State—Deacon Hemphill to Be Visited Also by Him Who Was "Born in North Carolina."

Observer Bureau, Congress Hall Hotel, Washington, Jan. 27.

There is a real, jolly treat in store for the good people of Iredell county. Two of her sons—members of the paraphraser's union—are preparing to pay a visit to their old haunts...

George Marcellus Bailey, the brilliant paraphraser of the Houston Post, has been here, stopping at the Raleigh, and left to-night for Raleigh. Later he will meet his fellow craftsman, Mr. Joseph Pearson Caldwell, editor of the Charlotte Observer, and arrange to journey with him to Iredell, where they were born many years ago...

Deacon Hemphill and the Old Man, which at the end of that time took him back to Texas to visit political editorials and pointed paragraphs about possums, hog and hominy, Deacon Hemphill and the Old Man, which at the end of that time took him back to Texas to visit political editorials and pointed paragraphs about possums, hog and hominy...

Two days ago, clad in regular Southern togs, gave his vest, which is red and four buttons, Mr. Bailey came here to deliver the electoral vote of his State to the Vice President. Laden with all sorts of gold and silver, given him in the Lone Star State, he proceeded to Washington by easy stages, stopping in Tennessee and other States en route. Having performed his duties and purchased a few presents for Mrs. Bailey and his little girl, he has now departed for North Carolina...

About 38 or 40 years ago, not earlier, George Marcellus Bailey, was born in Iredell (pronounced Iredell by him) but did not remain there very long. His mother lived and died and was buried there, and while in the county he will visit her grave...

His father, a printer, traded in Durham and Raleigh and other North Carolina towns. He was compositor first, then reporter, correspondent and, now, editorial writer. In appearance, he is rather tall, with dark hair and moustache, and striking-looking face. As a Washington correspondent, he was very popular. He is a first cousin of Mr. James H. Southgate, but is not as strong a prohibitionist as the Durham man...

Having spent a few days in North Carolina, Mr. Bailey will proceed to the "Charlotte News and Courier" and the "The News and Courier." There he, it is said here, a bare possibility of the editors of the Norfolk Landmark, the Charlotte Observer, the "Charlotte News and Courier" and other well-known Southern writers meeting with Mr. Bailey at some convenient point—say Norfolk, where it is not too dry—and re-creating the first meeting of the paraphraser who made the "Hong Kong Gander" and "The Big Fat Hen" famous. If this function is pulled off, the New York Herald will send a reporter and Harper's Weekly a cartoonist to keep tabs on the Southerners. There is no promise, however, that the Commissioner will be represented.

After leaving Raleigh, Mr. Bailey will go to Charlotte, where he will be the guest of Mr. Caldwell, who later will take him to Iredell. H. E. C. BRYANT.

AT WESTMINSTER CHURCH.

Two Splendid Services There Yesterday—Forensic Sermons by Rev. R. G. McLees—Much Interest Manifested.

The services in Westminster Presbyterian church are increasing in interest. Not only is the preaching of Rev. R. G. McLees attracting the people of Dilworth, but also drawing from other parts of the city. They were a fine congregation to greet the minister at the afternoon service yesterday, when he spoke on "Finding His Brother." The text was John 1:4-2, referring to Andrew's bringing Simon to Christ. The sermon was beautiful in its literary form, but its beauty of form in no way detracted from the convincing personal, practical application. At the night service there was even a larger congregation. After a delightful song service, Mr. McLees spoke again to the people. This time on "The Marvelous Choice of the Mighty Prince." The text was Hebrews 11:23-26. These simple words are the brief story of perhaps the sweetest moral victory ever achieved in the world by a man, and the memory which after more than three thousand years makes the blood tingle. There came into the life of this Egyptian prince that hour which comes into the life of every man, the hour of definite and irrevocable choice. Mr. McLees then proceeded to a description of what Moses had to choose between and the mighty contest of soul in the final decision for God. The sermon was a series of climaxes wrought out in great rhetorical excellence and expressed in words of simple and surpassing beauty. Mr. McLees was well up to his standard of eloquence. Perhaps there have been few men in Charlotte at any time who have equalled this young South Carolinian in guileless style and in the persuasiveness of appeal to mind and heart. Those who like the combination of the true, beautiful and good in public speaking would be delighted to hear Mr. McLees, and those who love the preaching of evangelical Christianity will be satisfied with his presentation of Scripture truth. Mr. McLees has been preaching from Florida to Virginia and to Oklahoma. He is now regularly engaged as the Presbyterian evangelist of South Carolina, but has ministered for a while. The public would do well to hear him.

TURNED IN FALSE ALARM.

Three Young White Men Arrested on This Morning by Two Police-men and Charged with "Phonographing" a Block Away an Alarm.

Three young white men, who are accused of amusing themselves by turning in a false alarm of fire, will have to answer to this serious charge this morning before Recorder Smith.

The prisoners, who give the names of Z. H. Hunter, Charlie Swain and J. W. Robinson, were arrested at an early hour near the corner of Brevard and Second streets, by Sergeant W. W. Irvine and Patrolman Malcolm, assisted by Fire Chief Orr. The police officers were standing a block away when an alarm came in from Box 23, at the corner of Brevard and Second. They saw three white men run and started after them. A negro hack driver also saw the young men and he gave information which assisted the police greatly. Chief Orr was tipped off of the situation when he put in response to the alarm and putting whip to his horse he ran down one of the culprits and arrested him, while the policemen took care of the other two. Hunter is said to have made a partial confession, implicating his companions, and the three were taken to the station. The alarm came in at 1:45 o'clock, and of course the firemen had their run for nothing. That they were angry men when they found their efforts were vain is putting it mildly. The three were held in jail until this morning, when they were released on $500 bail.

Case Goes to the Jury at 5 O'Clock. But Nothing Was Heard From It Last Night—The Judge's Charge.

United City, Tenn., Jan. 27.—The case of Marshall, alleged night-killer, charged with having had a part in the murder of Capt. Quentin Ranken, went to the jury to-night. Judge Jones finishing his charge at 5 o'clock. When the jury retired it was with the understanding that should a verdict be reached, Judge Jones would return to the court room at any hour during the night to receive the verdict.

In his charge to the jury Judge Jones instructed that if it was found that Marshall rode to the rendezvous of the band because he was afraid to disobey the summons of the leaders, he was not legally excused, but the danger was in the future and not the present, and although he protested against the murder of Ranken if he was a member of the band, organized for the purpose of robbing the West Tennessee Land Company, he was guilty of murder in the first degree and should be so adjudged.

T. C. Gordon, while speaking for the defense, interrupted by Judge Jones, who informed him that if he was trying to justify the murder, the court would not permit it. But the attorney quickly disclaimed any such intention, and the court proceeded with the closing argument for the defense was made by Rice A. Pierce, who argued that no motive had been shown to prompt Marshall to take part in the killing and that the existing condition had forced him to become one of the clan.
