

THE SPORTING WORLD

Featherweights to Meet. New York, Feb. 15.—Agreement was finally reached today for a 10-round bout between Abe Attel, champion featherweight of the world, and Jim Driscoll, featherweight champion of England, next Friday night at the National Athletic Club. It was agreed to weigh in at 125 pounds at 6 o'clock Friday and each fighter posted a forfeit of $500 in case he fails to make the weight.

Asheville Defeats Knoxville. Asheville, Feb. 15.—In a fine game of basketball here to-night the local Y. M. C. A. defeated the team of the Knoxville association by a score of 35 to 21.

ON THE RACE TRACK

Results at Tampa. Tampa, Fla., Feb. 15.—Ran made the track holding for the eleventh day but there was a good crowd. In the fourth race Select fell and Jockey Mulcahy was taken to the hospital suffering with concussion of the brain. Gambler was cut down in a jam soon after the start. No Quarter beat Judge Treen to head in the sixth race. Boerstein was a warm favorite in the sixth and led to an eight from home, where he was beaten. Hooley came fast on the inside and won easily. John Garner closed stoutly at the finish and kept Boerstein out of third money. Jockey Pickens was restrained but fined $5. Summary: First race, 5 furlongs: Arthur S. Stillwell, 7 to 1, won; Jess Toll, 7 to 5, second; Merida, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:08.

Second race, 5 furlongs: Airship, 3 to 5, won; Reinecke, 3 to 1, second; Alamo, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:10. Third race, mile: Jeanette M., 6 to 1, won; Eustacia, 2 to 1, second; Colonel Blue, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:46. Fourth race, 3/4 furlongs: No Quarter, 5 to 5, won; Judge Treen, 3 to 1, second; Maivna, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:34. Fifth race, mile and seven yards: Ennis, 8 to 5, won; Miss Madden, 7 to 1, second; Dew of Dawn, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:52. Sixth race, 7 furlongs: Hooley, 3 to 1, won; Artful Dodger, 5 to 2, second; John Garner, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:30.

MR. TAFT TO WASHINGTON

Spends Time En Route Going Over His Inaugural Address. Parkersburg, W. Va., Feb. 15.—President-elect and Mrs. Taft went through this city to-night on their way to Washington, where they will arrive early to-morrow morning. The President-elect occupied his time during the afternoon in going over his inaugural address, the first copy of which he has prepared. This address will make about 5,000 words. Charles Ennis, who is to deliver the address in his delivery as a part of the inaugural exercises March 4th. Despite the rain, many people came to the various stations along the route to get a glimpse of the President-elect. He graciously appeared at the window of his stateroom or at the car door. He made no speeches. In Washington Mr. and Mrs. Taft will be the guests of Miss Boardman.

Consolidated Duck Mills Declare Dividend

Baltimore, Feb. 15.—At the annual meeting of the Consolidated Cotton Duck Company here to-day it was announced that the company has declared for the past six months had been declared on the preferred stock, payable April 1st, making 3 per cent. declared for the year, as against 6 per cent. for 1907. The report of the directors, which was reviewed by the conditions under which the company operated during 1908 which year represented in the cotton manufacturing industry what are considered probably the most extreme conditions ever encountered. The mills are now reported to be running at about 80 per cent. of their capacity.

Circuit Court Will Hear Case Against Revenue Officers

Richmond, Va., Feb. 15.—The assistant United States attorney for the Charleston, W. Va., district to-day appeared before Judge Goff, of that district, and asked for an order to remove the case of sixteen deputy United States marshals, charged with the murder of John Vincent, from that State court into the United States Circuit Court of West Virginia. The order was granted and the case will be heard during the spring term.

Ship's Mate Lost at Sea

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 15.—Captain Meader, of the schooner George A. McFadden, which arrived in port to-day, said in his report that the First Mate Helen Cook was swept overboard at midnight Sunday, February 14, 50 miles northeast of Fryling Pan Shoals, by the heavy sea. The vessel hove to until Monday at 10 a. m., but nothing was seen of the body. Captain Meader reports a rough voyage all the way down the coast.

Bids on Confederate Monuments

Washington, Feb. 15.—Twenty-one bids for the erection of two marble monuments over the graves of Confederate soldiers in the cemeteries at Indianapolis, Ind., and at Alton, Ill., were opened to-day at the War Department, which had allotted $5,000 for each monument. All the bids were within the allotment. Ten bids were for the monument at Alton and eleven at Indianapolis. The awards will be made in a few days.

Eliot to Be Made LL.D. by Tulane

New Orleans, Feb. 15.—President Charles W. Eliot, of Harvard University, who is to deliver the Founders' Day address at Tulane University here on March 6th, will have conferred upon him at that time the degree of doctor of laws by Tulane. The degree will also be conferred upon Henry Vignaud, first secretary of the American embassy at Paris and a native of New Orleans.

George Stockley's Body Found in Elizabeth River

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 15.—The body of George A. Stockley, a prominent citizen of Norfolk, who had been missing since the night of December 19th, was last evening found floating in the eastern branch of Elizabeth river. No marks of violence were found and the coroner decided that death was the result of an accidental fall.

SOLDIER BALKS DEATH PLOT

It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Tex., that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. He contracted a stubborn cold, he writes, "that developed a cough that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 120 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. A new weight of 150 pounds. For years I had obstinate Coughs, Hemorrhages, Asthma, and to prevent Pneumonia, I used Dr. King's New Discovery. Guaranteed by all druggists."

ASSEMBLY NOT DANGEROUS

(Continued from Page One).

Association here this afternoon to appear before the joint committee on constitutional amendments and the Senate committee on judiciary in advocacy of several bills of vital importance to the merchants of the State. With them appeared H. N. Simms, of Raleigh, as attorney. They argued first the bill to amend the constitution so that the homestead exemption shall be $100 realty for $200 personal property instead of $1,000 realty and $500 personal property as now. This was before the joint committee on constitutional amendments. Speaking for the bill were Mr. Simms, A. Nichols, of Asheville, president of the association; H. T. Rogers, of Asheville; W. B. McGregor, of Greensboro; R. L. Dalton, of Winston-Salem; A. B. Justice, of Charlotte; and J. B. Kendrick, of Other. In the delegation were J. A. Kelly, of Henderson; T. W. Witherspoon, Salisbury; William Watson, Leslie Well, Goldsboro; D. W. Wilborne, High Point; T. J. Horner, Henderson; L. J. Winstead, of Blaine; Burlington; T. A. Wallace, Greensboro. The committee heard the argument for the reduction of the exemption and took the bill under further advisement before deciding what report to make to the Assembly.

The bills passed by the delegation before the Senate judiciary committee were those designed to make it a misdemeanor for persons to print on merchandise goods to be sent on for them and, also, the bill to further safeguard losses from issuing fraudulent checks. The latter bill was referred to a committee of the House. The bills introduced to-day by Senator Starbuck and Fry. The committee considered favorably a bill to exempt from jury service prior service for jury for two previous years. However, there was reference of this to a sub-committee. Senators Harrieger and Starbuck were assigned a special committee to consider a bill introduced to-day by Senator Harrieger to make safe-cracking in North Carolina a felony punishable with life imprisonment. The two judiciary committees of the House will report favorably Dr. Gordon's bill providing for a card index system for the office of the Secretary of State, improving the method of filing grants, plats, maps and surveys.

MR. TAFT TO WASHINGTON

Spends Time En Route Going Over His Inaugural Address. Parkersburg, W. Va., Feb. 15.—President-elect and Mrs. Taft went through this city to-night on their way to Washington, where they will arrive early to-morrow morning. The President-elect occupied his time during the afternoon in going over his inaugural address, the first copy of which he has prepared. This address will make about 5,000 words. Charles Ennis, who is to deliver the address in his delivery as a part of the inaugural exercises March 4th. Despite the rain, many people came to the various stations along the route to get a glimpse of the President-elect. He graciously appeared at the window of his stateroom or at the car door. He made no speeches. In Washington Mr. and Mrs. Taft will be the guests of Miss Boardman.

Consolidated Duck Mills Declare Dividend

Baltimore, Feb. 15.—At the annual meeting of the Consolidated Cotton Duck Company here to-day it was announced that the company has declared for the past six months had been declared on the preferred stock, payable April 1st, making 3 per cent. declared for the year, as against 6 per cent. for 1907. The report of the directors, which was reviewed by the conditions under which the company operated during 1908 which year represented in the cotton manufacturing industry what are considered probably the most extreme conditions ever encountered. The mills are now reported to be running at about 80 per cent. of their capacity.

Circuit Court Will Hear Case Against Revenue Officers

Richmond, Va., Feb. 15.—The assistant United States attorney for the Charleston, W. Va., district to-day appeared before Judge Goff, of that district, and asked for an order to remove the case of sixteen deputy United States marshals, charged with the murder of John Vincent, from that State court into the United States Circuit Court of West Virginia. The order was granted and the case will be heard during the spring term.

Ship's Mate Lost at Sea

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 15.—Captain Meader, of the schooner George A. McFadden, which arrived in port to-day, said in his report that the First Mate Helen Cook was swept overboard at midnight Sunday, February 14, 50 miles northeast of Fryling Pan Shoals, by the heavy sea. The vessel hove to until Monday at 10 a. m., but nothing was seen of the body. Captain Meader reports a rough voyage all the way down the coast.

Bids on Confederate Monuments

Washington, Feb. 15.—Twenty-one bids for the erection of two marble monuments over the graves of Confederate soldiers in the cemeteries at Indianapolis, Ind., and at Alton, Ill., were opened to-day at the War Department, which had allotted $5,000 for each monument. All the bids were within the allotment. Ten bids were for the monument at Alton and eleven at Indianapolis. The awards will be made in a few days.

Eliot to Be Made LL.D. by Tulane

New Orleans, Feb. 15.—President Charles W. Eliot, of Harvard University, who is to deliver the Founders' Day address at Tulane University here on March 6th, will have conferred upon him at that time the degree of doctor of laws by Tulane. The degree will also be conferred upon Henry Vignaud, first secretary of the American embassy at Paris and a native of New Orleans.

George Stockley's Body Found in Elizabeth River

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 15.—The body of George A. Stockley, a prominent citizen of Norfolk, who had been missing since the night of December 19th, was last evening found floating in the eastern branch of Elizabeth river. No marks of violence were found and the coroner decided that death was the result of an accidental fall.

SOLDIER BALKS DEATH PLOT

It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Tex., that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. He contracted a stubborn cold, he writes, "that developed a cough that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 120 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. A new weight of 150 pounds. For years I had obstinate Coughs, Hemorrhages, Asthma, and to prevent Pneumonia, I used Dr. King's New Discovery. Guaranteed by all druggists."

Morgan to Issue Bonds for Refunding Purposes

H. B. Authorize bonds by Caswell county for paying floating indebtedness. H. B. Amend the road law of Sampson county and provide for road supervisor. H. B. Authorize Marion to issue bonds for floating indebtedness and levy a special tax on property.

H. B. Authorize bonds by Moore county for bridges and paying floating indebtedness. Authorize bonds by Rameuse for improving streets. Authorize three millions State bonds for refunding the State bonds falling due in 1910.

Authorize bonds by Wake county to pay and fund the indebtedness of the road commission. Authorize bonds by the Town of Rockingham for sewerage system. Authorize special tax in Cherokee county.

H. B. Authorize sale of the old home for aged and infirm in Lincoln county and purchase a new property for this purpose. H. B. Amend the charter of Carolina and Tennessee Railroad.

SUBSTITUTE REFERRED

The substitute for the House bill for the control of automobiles on the public highways was re-referred to the committee on public roads with several amendments. The Senate added the following counties to the bill: Iredell, Rowan, Caldwell, Guilford, Pasquotank and Randolph.

The bill by Representative Nimocks to improve the rural free delivery service by requiring the erection of automatic gates across public roads went out until Tuesday for consideration. New bills introduced out of order: Jones: Improve the public roads of New Hanover county. Copy of the Mecklenburg county road law.

Mills: Provide road tax for Rutherford county. Additional bills passed final reading: Senate resolution to pay the expenses of the sub-committee in visiting the State School for the Deaf and Dumb. Amend Sec. 3481, Revised, relating to hunting without written permission, allowing tenant in possession to give permit to hunt on his land to be operative in Rowan county only.

Provide for the laying out and working of the public roads in Guilford county. Passage bills on final reading resumed: Amend 1884, Revised, relating to the closed season for birds and making the open season December 20th to February 1st, the following counties excepted: Iredell, Cabarrus, Bladen, Columbus, Rowan, Swain, Jackson, Sampson, Gates, Hertford, Chowan, Camden, Currituck, Pasquotank, Stokes, Onslow and Wayne.

The substitute bill for amending Sec. 3057, Revised, imposing a tax of $4 on mineral water companies doing business in this State with a graduated scale of taxes. H. B. Amend the charter of the City of Durham. Jones: Provide for working the public roads of Wake county.

The Senate adjourned at 1:50 to 11 Tuesday. THE HOUSE. Speaker Graham called the House to order this morning at 10:20 o'clock. Prayer by Representative H. C. Gates county. New bills introduced: Morton: Regulate fishing in the Cape Fear river and its tributaries, prohibiting the use of gun and stake nets from February 1st to May 1st.

Morton: Relative to the sale of non-intoxicating beverages, allowing the sale of those having not more than 2 per cent. alcohol. Currie: Establish stock law in Cumberland and Johnston counties. Barnes, of Hertford: Enlarge and remodel the State house and issue bonds in the sum of $500,000 to pay the same.

Eggs: Provide sanitary conditions in tobacco warehouses. Carlton: Amend the charter of the Town of Ashted. Carlton: Authorize $50,000 bonds by Spencer for waterworks. Majette: Protect fish in Tyrrell county. Morgan: Revise and consolidate the charter of Elizabeth City. Hageman: Provide for the maintenance and enlargement of Appalachian Training School.

Williams, of Dare: Regulate oyster dredging in Pamlico sound. Bolton: Abolish January term Superior Court in Northampton county. Linney: Require the State board of education to furnish necessary books to indigent children. Graham: Provide for the erection of a suitable monument to Confederate soldiers in Granville county.

Graham: Amend Chapter 138, laws of 1908, to read: Give to the list of counties requiring settlements of sheriffs to January 1st each year. Graham: Establish State drug commission and prevent the sale of adulterated drugs. Koonce: Increase the annual appropriation for Confederate pensions from $400,000 to $500,000.

Indefinite leave of absence was obtained for Mr. Foy, of Pender, on account of illness; also for Mr. Redding. Bills on final reading: Joint resolution to pay the expenses of the commission on education in visiting the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro and the Eastern Carolina Teachers' Training School at Greenville.

For the better construction and the keeping in repair the roads of Wayne county. The following bills were introduced out of order: Hindstale: Improve roads of Wake county. Bowie: Appoint court stenographer for eleventh judicial district. THE DRAINAGE BILL. The bill for the drainage and reclamation of the wet, swamp and overflowed lands of the State by local taxation and machinery when invoked by three-fourths of the landowners of the section to be drained was the special order. A bill just like it was passed by the Senate with practically no opposition.

Mr. Morton rushed up an amendment to Sec. 1, which provides that the clerk of the court of any county may establish a drainage district, locate levees, drains and canals, construct, straighten, widen or deepen any ditch, drain or water course, erect tide gates and pumping plants and so forth (when authorized by the landowners, as set forth in other sections). The amendment of the gentleman from New Hanover was that nothing in this section should be construed to permit the changing of any water course that was furnishing power for any kind of manufacturing plant or mill, or any water powers that might be in contemplation of development when the right was given under the bill.

Mr. Green, the author of the House bill, urged the House not to adopt the amendment, as it would tend to cripple the force of the bill, which was simply a

A CLOSE SHAVE

Many of Them Happening Every Day But Soon Forgotten. Close shaves would be of more frequent occurrence but for the tender faces of many men, which will not permit of shaving often. Heretofore, nothing has been said in these columns about possum, a new skin discovery, in connection with its use after shaving. It will soothe and soothe have been confined almost exclusively to its remarkable properties as an eczema cure; it stops the itching at once and cures the worst cases in a few days. While the application of possum after shaving is one of its minor uses, such as for pimples, the complexion, etc., shavers will find it a revelation, as it does for abrasions, itching and severe scrapings what it does for all many of the most difficult cases—heals and cures in a few hours. It is the only article possessing real antiseptic and curative properties that has ever been exploited for this purpose. It will soothe and soothe up the skin as no toilet preparation could possibly do.

Possum can be had for fifty cents a tin at the reliable druggist, particularly R. H. Jordan, who has a specialty of it. Or the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West 25th Street, New York City, will send a trial supply free by mail to any one who will write for it. This is sufficient to show results in 24 hours.

guarded as far as any business interests were concerned. Mr. Snell, of Washington, also made a speech for the bill and against the amendment as an obstacle to its passage. Mr. Poole added his voice and arguments to the efforts for the measure, as did Mr. Privott, who reminded the members that in the eastern portion of the State it often happens that some little mill pond backs up water for fifteen or more miles and makes all the surrounding country one big swamp, thus ruining huge tracts of arable lands.

Mr. Morton could not consent to withdraw the amendment. He held there were very few water courses in North Carolina and we certainly ought to preserve all we have. Mr. Snell wanted to know which was the more valuable, some sawmill or grist mill or a vast area of good farming land now being dried out of a pestilential swamp.

Mr. Morton contended that the waterpower was of value to the people at large not merely to the owners of it. Mr. Currie spoke earnestly and with some feeling, hoping the bill would be passed without any amendment. The waterpower that it would injure was not enough to amount to anything, for it would be nothing but a tiny stream here and there through the great marshes.

"Why is everyone so afraid somebody's little private enterprise is going to be hurt?" he asked. "The State ought to be more liberal. This bill would furnish something for the waterpowers of the State to do, if some of those swamps were reclaimed and planted in corn to be ground up at the grist mills. There is too much little selfishness about our fear of the regulation. It never a man in Currituck is benefited, a man in Cherokee is helped."

Mr. Dowd said he was in favor of the purposes of the bill, but he wanted to know if under its provisions a hydro-electric plant like the one on the Carolina coast could be put out of business by condemning the dam and overflowing by the water if backed above the dam.

Mr. Currie declared that under the common law now it could be condemned if it were shown to be unwholesome. The owners of the plant would have to go before the commissioners and show that the plant was worth more than the reclaiming of the land would be to the people.

Mr. Stubbs raised the legal question if the rights given to the drainage commissioner "to hold property and convey the same" included the right of eminent domain, and a vested right, for eminent domain, he said, ceases at this point.

At this point several members became panic-stricken and the amendments to exempt counties began to be read out. Forty-five counties were exempted along during the remainder of the discussion. Johnston, Surry, Mitchell, Davidson, Mecklenburg, Wilkes, Mr. Hall, of Forsyth, asked if it would not repeal some of the local laws for his county. Mr. Green was quite sure it would not.

Mr. Taylor proposed to amend that it should not repeal any law for drainage now in force. Accepted by Mr. Green. Finally, after Mr. Barnes, of Hertford, the whole matter went over until to-night.

Many local bills were passed on second reading, requiring roll-call. House took recess until 8 to-night. CHAPEL HILL SOCIAL EVENT. Charming Reception Given in Honor of Miss Annie Johnston. Special to The Observer.

Washington, Feb. 15.—One of the most delightful social events of the new year was the reception given Friday evening complimentary to Miss Annie Johnston by Dr. Annie and Mrs. A. S. Wheeler, Miss Annie Johnston, Miss Margaret Alexander, Miss Louise Venable, Miss Cantey Venable, Miss Roberson, Miss Duman, Miss South Carolina, Miss Berry, Miss Scott, of Tennessee; Messrs. D. H. Dolley, H. V. Eaton, E. V. Howard, H. H. Hughes, L. W. Parker, J. F. Royter, Thomas Ruffin, C. C. Coker, J. C. Hines and E. B. Burnett.

Bold Robber Gets Away With $3,800. Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 15.—Grabbing a hand satchel containing $3,800 belonging to a big department store, a thief to-day made his way out of the First National Bank, East Water and Wisconsin streets, with the loot, and escaped. The robbery was committed while the store was a messenger boy for the department store was diverted for a moment.

Colonel Kingman Ordered Before Board for an Examination. Washington, Feb. 15.—Col. Dan C. Kingman, of the corps of engineers in charge of the rivers and harbors work in the vicinity of Savannah, has been ordered before a retaining board in this city for examination to determine his fitness for further active service.

Does This Suit You? English-McLarty Co., the enterprising Druggists of Charlotte, are having such a large run on "KIDNEY PILLS," the new "Kidney Cure" and "Nerve Tonic," and hear it so highly praised that they now offer to guarantee it in every case to cure all forms of "Kidney Troubles" and "Nervous Disorders." They say for it if it does not give you entire satisfaction. If you use it, it is their risk, not yours. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WILLIAM FIRTH, PRES.

THE BLUE MOUSE. The Norfolk Landmark of Saturday had the following to say regarding "The Blue Mouse," which was presented there, and which will be seen at the Academy of Music here Friday, matinee and night: The much heralded and discussed play, "The Blue Mouse," was presented last evening to an audience that taxed the capacity of the Academy of Music and was most representative in every way. As presented last night the Fitch play was enjoyable, being filled from start to close of the three acts, with remarkable situations, climax and anti-climax, fun provoking and laughter, held the audience in its grasp at all times. The plot or scheme of the comedy is well known, as it has been the talk of many towns and been curiously was to be satisfied. It is not a play for children, unless they are very young, and debuts even in this century of knowledge could not be expected to grasp the situations, but its suggestiveness is not a whit more than that of Camille, Zaza and many other plays now on the stage to which no outcry is made and exception. In addition to this the play has the element of truth in that its characters are in all kinds of complex conditions growing out of both self-interest and innocent intentions, as well as those arising from the perverse, to use no harsher word, side of our human make-up, and many of the present day crazes are held up to prominent view. The author gets the atmosphere in a frank "let-up" by those putting the misunderstandings in operation, a lesson that could well be taken to heart by people in general.

The "Blue Mouse" has no moral to tell but aims to amuse, and Mr. Fitch has crowded as much fun into the three acts as could be done. As usual he has conceived not only original and unique types, but novel scenes. The leading character, Paulette Divine, a "vandyville Salomee," known as "The Blue Mouse" is a creation distinct and lasting. She is neither good nor bad, but she pleased everybody. As played by Miss Millicent Evans, one of the most winsome and gracious actresses of to-day, "The Blue Mouse" becomes a sort of glorified devil. Another old type is that of an old German woman whom the "Mouse" for "$25 per" employs as her mother. Then, too, the president of the Inter-State Railroad, who has every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into the plot every pretty face in another beam-from-the-rock type. This propensity gives rise to most of the complications. Rollett, his secretary, wants to be made division superintendent and he pays "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his own wife and flirt with Lewellyn in order to wheedle the promotion from him. The trick is turned and the mix-ups that follow are too many to describe. Of course the real Mrs. Rollett is drawn into