SPINNERS' MEETING CALLED.

Secretary T. W. Crews calls meeting of Hard Yarn Spinners next Thursday.

Secretary T. W. Crews has issued the following letter to all hard yarn spinners in the South:

"Gentlemen: I am to-day in receipt of a large number of replies to my letter of the 18th inst., urging me to call a general meeting of hard yarn spinners as soon as possible.

"I, therefore, call a meeting, to be held in the assembly rooms of the Southern Manufacturers' Club, this city, Thursday afternoon, February 25th, 1899, at 1 o'clock.

"I hardly think it necessary to call attention to the importance of this meeting—the prompt replies to my letter of the 18th indicate the interest spinners have in the matter. I want to suggest, however, that unless we have a full attendance, nothing of any service to the spinners can be accomplished. It is urged all spinners to make a special effort to attend this meeting and aid in developing a movement to restore yarn to its reasonable basis.

"Your very truly,
T. W. CREWS, Secretary."

Mr. O'Callahan in Athens.

The many friends of Mr. M. P. O'Callahan, formerly proprietor of the Central and one of the most popular hotel men in the State, will be interested to learn that he will open his new hotel, the Georgian, at Athens, Ga., about March 25. This is a new hostelry in Athens and is said to be one of the handsomest in the State.

NEW CHARTER VOTED DOWN

NO CHANGE FOR GREENSBORO

Citizens Gather in Mass Meeting and Decide That They Want no Commission Form of Government—Over-Confidence in New Charter Adherents. Their Downfall—Judge Boyd Will Hear Injunction in Fisher Estate Case Wednesday—Greensboro Firemen Delighted to See Reply of Captain McNeill to Mr. McAllister—Furze Made up to Pay For Counsel to Prosecute L. H. Gillie, the Near-Beer Saloon-keeper of Reidsville.

Observer Bureau,
The Hevill Building,
Greensboro, Feb. 21.

The Greensboro public which had assumed an attitude of indifference in relation to the proposed new city charter, woke up at the eleventh hour and as a result of the waking there will be no new charter. Greensboro will worry along under her present form of government for two years more at least. During the past week the board of aldermen caused the proposed charter to be printed in pamphlet form for distribution among the people of the city, and as the people read some of them began to search for and other uncanny things. The death-knell of the charter was sounded at a mass meeting held in the county court house last night, when a large crowd of tax-payers assembled to discuss the merits and demerits of the chart of government as drafted by the municipal engineers. It was the first time any real interest had been manifested in the matter by the public, and the discussions were not without interest.

SEVERAL SPEAK IN OPPOSITION.

Mayor Brandt presided over the meeting, and at times he had his hands full in keeping the parliamentary order. The opponents of the new charter opposed the commission form of government in general and other features incidentally. A flood of pent-up oratory was turned loose, and a number of motions were made. Judge R. M. Douglas, ex-Mayor J. W. Forbis, Mr. C. C. Taylor and others talked against the proposed charter. The cause of the charter was upheld in various manner by Alderman John L. King, City Attorney Shaw and other gentlemen. After a multitude of speeches and motions had been made, a motion that the entire charter be rejected was put and carried by a decisive vote.

HEARING AS TO FISHER ESTATE.

There will be a hearing before Judge Boyd, on the 24th inst., on an injunction restraining Mr. A. L. Brooks from the reversion of the estate of the late J. Fisher, from paying over to the present trustee a sum of money held in trust by him. The money was tied up on account of a dispute as to attorney's fees alleged to be due to Col. John N. Staples. After the death of Captain Fisher there was a disagreement as to the amount due Colonel Staples, who had represented the deceased in important matters for several years. The matter was submitted to arbitration, the arbitrators being Messrs. Clement Manly, of Winston-Salem; Reuben D. Reid, of Wintworth; and R. C. Stradwick, of this city. The arbitrators allowed Colonel Staples $7,000, and Mr. Brooks had paid $2,500 of this sum when suit was instituted by Mr. C. A. Bray, the present trustee of the estate. The suit asked the award of the arbitrators. Mr. Bray won the suit in the Guilford Superior Court, whereupon counsel for Colonel Staples obtained an injunction restraining Mr. Brooks from paying over the money to the trustee of the estate. Should the injunction be made permanent, Colonel Staples will receive the amount awarded him. On the 15th inst. Judge Boyd's hearing was set for this afternoon.

REAL TRAVELING MEN SATISFIED.

It has been understood that the traveling public generally disapproves of the rule of the Southern Railway providing mileage to be exchanged for tickets before the passengers board trains, but if what Mr. T. A. Lyon, a well-known traveling shoe salesman of this city, tells the Observer correspondent is true, such is not the case. Mr. Lyon says that every legitimate traveling man of his acquaintance (and his acquaintance stretches from Maine to Mexico) heartily approves of the regulation and would not see it otherwise. Mr. Lyon declares that the real traveling men have no sympathy with proposed legislation requiring mileage to be "collected" on the trains.

REPLY PLEASED GREENSBORO FIREMEN.

The members of the Greensboro fire department are intensely interested in the firemen's relief bill now before the Legislature, whereby it is proposed to levy a tax of one per cent. of the premium income on all fire insurance companies doing business in this State for the relief of disabled firemen. Under the present law the home companies are exempted from the tax and the foreign companies pay only one-half of one per cent. As a result, the firemen contend that in cities and towns where a great deal of the insurance is carried by the home companies the relief fund amounts to practically nothing, since the fund in each municipality is derived from the taxes collected from premiums paid there. In Greensboro, for instance, where the home companies are especially strong, the fund last year amounted to only $250.

SERMON BY REV. MR. BETTS.

Young Pastor of Braddock, Pa. Church Delights Congregation of Sardis Church With An Excellent Sermon.

The congregation of the Sardis A. R. P. church was delighted with the sermon preached yesterday by Rev. Robert C. Betts, the popular pastor of the Brinton Avenue United Presbyterian church of Braddock, Pa. The theme of the discourse was the adoption of the saints and it was handled in an excellent and profound manner.

TO LOOK AFTER FIVE STATES.

Mr. D. A. Voshburg, who has been in the city for the past two years with the Importers' Coffee Company, Ltd., will be in charge of the territory of North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia and Florida as district manager. This is an increase in territory and a promotion which his friends will rejoice with pleasure. For the next two weeks, beginning to-morrow probably, a free demonstration of Jackson Square coffee will be given at the Little Long Company's store.

A REMARKABLE PAIR.

Never Had an Experience Whatever With the Conveniences of Modern Life. Having Never Even Slept in a Bed, Although They Have Spent All Their Lives in Upper Mecklenburg County.

Bound by the closest ties of mutual esteem and affection, born of 49 years of friendship, like that of Damon and Pythias, these dwellers in upper Mecklenburg county, whose youthfulness has suffered no impairment with the passing of the years, whose interest in life has not dulled in the least, although they rarely venture more than a stone's throw from their home. Neither probably has ever seen or even heard of a railroad train, though both probably have been alarmed by undue proximity of recklessly speeding motor cars. They never saw nor heard of a telephone, never attended church, never slept in a bed.

Now surely you will agree that this couple is a quite remarkable pair and even if they had been residents here both have attained unto the ripe old age of 63 years, every day of which was spent in Mecklenburg county. Yet even if they had been residents here on May 26th, 1775, they would not have proved good witnesses either for or against the authenticity of the famous Declaration. This may not seem to square with the statement that they are not interested in life, but it does. They are simply not interested in that sort of life, that's all. Within their more or less narrow horizon, circumscribed by categories that we do not put of, they are contented and reasonably happy.

But enough of mystery. You shall be introduced forthwith. The philosophical couple is composed of one gander and one peacock. That may or may not cause you to make a noise like one who has been jarred. But all these things are true.

The gander and peacock are at present the property of Mrs. Bona Alexander, west of Huntersville. Until the death of the lamented Dr. Edward Caldwell, of that section, a few months ago, the fowls were his property and an interesting fact is that they were of one age with him. During his last illness he gave the birds to Mrs. Alexander, and it is interesting that he and they were of the same age and asking that they be well cared for, which of course they are, being highly prized. No one would ever suspect from a casual inspection that the gander and the peacock were old enough to vote when the civil war broke out, but they were. Year in and year out while history was in the making at home, abroad, while governors, Senators, Congressmen, Presidents, were born and died, these two, far from the maddening crowd's ignoble strife, have kept the even tenor of their way.

How many a brush has the venerable peacock yielded in the yearly sacrifice of his proud tail feathers! Three score and more that have doubtless done effective service in many a household. The peacock fly-brush is not of now except in remote instances. It is of the days of Dr. J. B. Alexander, a Col. and a warrior, of La Grange, whose home was complete without a few brushes, waved proudly to and fro by a black-skinned attendant.

But—a peafowl and a gander 69 years old and still in good health without taking any tonics, nervines, breakfast foods, electrical massages, or soda fountain drinks! Isn't that something to think about.

MARRIAGES.

Brooks-Taylor, at Nashville. Correspondence of The Observer.

Spring Hope, Feb. 20.—A marriage of much interest to a large circle of people took place at Nashville Wednesday night. At that time Mr. Bernard Brooks, a prominent young attorney of Nashville, and Miss Birdie Taylor, a charming young woman of Whitakers, were married. It seems that the young people gave no one an intimation of their plans, and the marriage came as a very distinct surprise to all. Miss Taylor was a guest of the groom's father and mother. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Brooks, and Wednesday afternoon the two young people visited friends in Spring Hope, but not mentioned here that there was any prospect of an early marriage. Their friends here were surprised to hear of the marriage. Both are very popular throughout Nash county.

FEED-WHITEHEAD, at Asheville.

Asheville, Feb. 20.—Miss Eva May Whitehead, of Miss Georgia Mallicoate, of this city, was married at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chambers, 123 Ashland avenue, last evening. Rev. Dr. Gilbert T. Rowe, pastor of Central Methodist church, officiating. Miss Whitehead is a niece of Mrs. James W. Albright, of this place, and has many friends in her home town. Mr. Feed is a successful young business man of Portsmouth, N. H. He was married on the morning train to-day for New Orleans, where they will attend the Mardi Gras festivities and before returning will visit a brother of the bride in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead will attend the Taft inauguration ceremonies at Washington and will be at home in Portsmouth after March 7th.
