Rocky Mount Defeated.

Special to The Observer. Rocky Mount, June 3 .- Under skies that threatened rain at every minute and with rain falling at certain parts of the game. Umpire McLaughlin called a listless game at the end the eighth this afternoon. score was 7 to 2 in favor of the Fay etteville team, and the locals did not cross the pan until after one was down in the eighth inning. Hemp singled to left and two men scored. Fayetteville scored at ease and Forbes' wildness helped largely in the run-getting. Clancy was on the mound for the Highlanders and yielded but three hits though two of these were connected and netted the runs.

Fine Game at Goldsboro. Special to The Observer.

Goldsboro. June 3.—In a fast game of ball to-day the Goldsboro Giants defeated the Raleigh Red Birds by a score of 1 to 6. Neither side was able to score up to the savanth luning when a bir for the savanth luni the seventh inning when a hit for two bases by Steinback, who later was sacrificed to third and a long drive to centre field by Doak, gave the locals a lead of one run, which the visitors were unable to overcome, the game being cailed in Raleigh's last half of the seventh inning on account of rain. Sparks, a new pitcher, recently purchased, was given a try-out to-day and yielded only two hits. Pope, for the visitors, also pitched fine ball, this being the first game he has lost this season. Special trains will bring in large crowds to witness tomorrow's game. Wilson Still Winning.

Special to The Observer. Wilmington, June 8 .- A pass to Miller, a sacrifice by Cooper and safeties by Byrd and Armstrong in the fourth and a bunch of four hits in the fifth inning gave to-day's game to Wilson, the score being 3 to 6. The game was played in a drizzle of rain.

THE HAINS PREDICTION.

Thornton's Boast About "Unwritten Law" Proven Premature. Milwaukee Free Press.

When Thornton J. Hains was acquitted some months ago he made this shameless and insulting proclamation:

"The jury, by returning a verdict acquitting me of original responsibility for the death of Annia, has placed the 'unwritten law' high above the written law of the State of New York, Clearly, the jury vindicated the righteousness of the 'unwritten law' by finding me not guilty as charged. That must be obvious to every misthat has followed the trend of testimony and grasped the significance of the vardict in correlation with the judge's charge. Clearly, also, if I am guiltless, my brother is guiltless. Should he now be tried, there is not any doubt that he will be acquitted." That disgusting boast has now been reduced to blatant nothingness by the verdict of the jury that sat in

"Manslaughter in the first degree" will not appeal to many as being commensurate with the cruel, cowardly, and dastardly homicide of which Peter Hains was guilty, but it is sufficient at least to put a quietus on the proclaimers of the "unwrit-ten law," and close the braggart mouth of a dangerous individual. That doctrine must be fought, and fought desperately, by all good citizens, all the more when certain publications, working the "sympathy racket," tend to foster its dissemination.

Seeds Sown by Educational Institutions, Asheville Citizen.

It is not surprising that with the growth of this country and nation, the American university should have kept pace; nor is it to be wondered at that this rock bed of American education should exercise a most powerful influence upon the civic and religious life of our people. Following this line of logic, we can state that the seed sown by the universities of to-day, whether for good or bad, will produce a harvest in the future

State Preservation of Forests. Asheville Gazette-News.

This subject of forest preservation reminds us that some of the States are now taking an active interest in the work of reforestation, a work in which all the States will one day have to concern themselves. A few days ago about 4,000 acres of denuded timber lands was deeded over to the State of Pennsylvania.

be replanted with timber, and will become part of the State reserve forests. Negotiations are pending for additional thousands of acres for this project. Hereafter no county tax on the land described in the deed will be assessed, and the State will pay the school and road taxes. This matter of preserving the forest has received considerable attention in North Carolina, but we fear that conditions will have to become worse, as in Pennsylvania, before they get much better. Before the generality of people are aroused we shall have to have a few more object lessons of the destruction wrought by the floods, and

Our attention has been directed to a little bit of envy cropping out in a special from Gaffney to The Charlotte Observer in which the correspondent had occason to refer to Shelby as a "hamlet." CONNIE MACK After being regarded as almost hopelessly incompetent to keep pace with the first-class teams of their league, the Philadelphia Americans have within the last few weeks become the sensation of the circuit. For a team that was, regarded as solely a second division club the Athletics made one of the most remarkable Western trips ever recorded by an Eastern team—that of cap-turing every series. The splendid record of the Athletics to date is an instance of what competent management will do for a combination of ball players hat is not up to championship calibre. Manager Connie Mack knows that on the surface his team
