EXCURSION TO ALTA PASS.

That to Be Operated by the Tenth Avenue Sunday School. Trip Over New Clinchfield Road July 7.

It has been the custom for the last six or seven years for the Tenth Avenue Sunday school to run an annual picnic excursion for the benefit of its young people, its friends and anyone else who cares to enjoy the outing.

About one year ago the school secured the promise of the first excursion from Charlotte over the great Clinchfield railroad, and Mr. J. Kerr has been faithful to his promise.

The trip will be made on July 7, under the auspices of the officers of the Tenth Avenue Sunday school. The train will leave Charlotte at 7:30 a. m., taking on passengers from here to Lincolnton, arriving at Alta Pass at 1:15 and Spruce Pine at 12:30, where the day will be spent climbing the mountains, viewing the massive scenery, waiting the clear streams, and last but not least, groups of friends enjoying picnic dinners with plenty of pure water to drink, and invigorating air to breathe.

Returning the train will leave Spruce Pine at 6 p. m., thereby enabling the party to get a daylight view of the mountains both going and returning.

Coupon tickets will be used and guarantee all those who buy previous to 8 p. m. July 5, reserved seats without additional charge. This will be an advantage to family groups who wish to be in close proximity.

A well conducted refreshment car will provide for the wants of the inner man.

Something of the new road follows: Interesting features so many that a brief article can hardly be comprehended in one brief article. It is a difficult matter to determine just what particular feature merits first place. To lovers of the beautiful and grand scenery, it will appeal more so than any other road in this section of the Kingdom.

VIRGINIA SUMMER SCHOOL.

Annual Institution at the University Will Open Friday—A Strong Faculty Provided—Splendid Entertainment Planned.

Special to The Observer. Charlottesville, Va., June 15.—The prospects now indicate that the summer school at the University of Virginia will reach the highest enrollment in its history at the opening of the season which begins on Friday, June 18. Already practically all the rooms on the campus have been taken, although there is a larger number in use than in any other summer.

A great many more people from outside Virginia have indicated their intention of being present at the opening.

One of the most interesting features in the early part of the summer school will be the meeting on the 22d and 23d of June of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of Virginia.

Among the members of the faculty from outside Virginia are the following: Prof. John A. Anderson, instructor in physics, Johns Hopkins University; Prof. John J. Blair, superintendent of schools, Wilmington, N. C.; Miss Elizabeth Brown, director of primary instruction, Washington, D. C.; Prof. Frank Carney, Nelson University, Granville, O.; Miss Edith Charlton, lecturer on domestic sciences, Iowa State College, Ames, Ia.; Prof. Kary Cadmus Davis, professor of soils and agronomy, Rutgers College of Agriculture, Prof. George Edward, professor of German literature, Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.; Prof. W. H. Hoad, professor secondary education, University of South Carolina, Columbia; Prof. Edwin Mims, professor of English literature, Trinity College, Durham, N. C.; Miss Ruth Hodes, instructor in school music and games, Teachers' College, Columbia University; Mrs. M. K. Starnes, supervisor of music, Fredonia, N. Y.; Miss Mary E. Erolin, supervisor of drawing, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Prof. Oscar I. Woodley, superintendent of schools, Passaic, N. J.; Prof. Richard Thomas Wyche, story specialist, president National Story-Tellers' League.

Among the entertainments provided for the summer school this summer will be the Coburn Shakespearean players, who will give three performances on the grounds amid the splendid groves of the campus on July 18 and 19. Later in the term Baron de Lamoignon will give a week of his famous organ recitals.

The summer school has met with remarkable success since it began to meet its efforts more particularly to the benefit of the students in the building program throughout the South. It is a more learned body of men who devote six weeks to the summer school teaching, and more than anything else, it is the account for the growing success of the summer school.

MARRIAGES. Jody-Laughinghouse, at Greenville. Special to The Observer. Greenville, June 16.—A marriage somewhat out of the ordinary took place here this morning in the office of the register in the court house. The parties to this union were a Syrian, giving his name as M. A. Jody, and Miss Lillian Laughinghouse, a young lady of this county. The couple went to the court house together to apply for the license and wanted the ceremony performed at once. Justice of the Peace I. Hargis was sent for and Monday he officiated, and this time to claim his bride.

The happy pair took the early morning train for Washington, where, after a while spent in sightseeing, they will proceed to Hagerstown, their future home.

Cooper-Askev, at Windsor. Special to The Observer. Windsor, June 16.—Yesterday morning at 8 o'clock was witnessed the pretty marriage of Miss Mary W. Cooper and Miss Mary W. Askev. The groom is the popular deputy sheriff of Bertie county besides being one of the county's most prosperous planters. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. R. W. Askev, public school examiner of Bertie county, and a sister of Messrs. Edward, Stephenson and Richard Askev.

The happy couple left at once on the morning train for a tour of Northern cities. The presents were many and a number of them very costly. At the train the couple was given a shower of luck rice. These young people are deservedly popular. The groom is a young man of high character, while the bride is an intelligent and amiable young lady. They are general favorites in the county.

TELLS ABOUT EGYPT. Rev. Dr. John Griffin, of the Mission Work in Egypt of the United Presbyterian Church, Speaks at Chalmers Memorial.

Rev. Dr. John Griffin, of the United Presbyterian Church, who has been in Egypt for the past 34 years in mission work in Cairo, delivered an interesting address before the congregation of Chalmers Memorial Associate Reformed Presbyterian church in Dilworth last night. His subject was the greater need of mission work in the foreign field, especially in Egypt. Dr. Griffin is an uncle of Mrs. H. D. Kirkpatrick and a brother of Editor E. S. Galloway, of the paper of the A. R. P. church. He and Mrs. Griffin are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Kirkpatrick. They will sail tonight for Washington. They will spend slightly more than a year in this country. This time has been spent in resting, visiting relatives in Ohio, Wyoming, Due West and in lecturing to the churches. Dr. and Mrs. Griffin have a son who is a preacher in Wyoming.

SIMMONS-DANIEL SCRAP.

(Continued from Page One.) organization but as standard-bearer for the rank and file follows who do not work just for the pie they see ahead but for the principles of the G. O. P. All the time John Motley is going to kick, but once in harness he will tighten the trace chains and move the load, and if by the way which has been deliberately set in the Democratic party by ambitious and designing men continues the Spray Congressman will almost, if not entirely, reach the goal, carrying with him a Republican Legislature.

If any event, with two parties composed of white men largely one gaining all the while and the other steadily losing, North Carolina promises some interesting political developments. Parties are not as strong there as they used to be.

It is known that Representative Kittohn will be in the contest next time. There was trouble of some kind during the last campaign, but it did not amount to much than as the Democrats were working hard to win votes for Governor Kitchin, Bryan and other candidates. Mr. Kittohn has been at home ever since the last fall left the House more than a month ago, looking after his business affairs and his fences.

TROUBLE IN THE SIXTH? That Representative Godwin is to have a bitter fight no longer doubtful for the contest is already on. Henry L. Cook, of Fayetteville, will run and the friends of George Morton of New Hanover, and A. J. McKinnon, of Maxton, will enter them. Mr. Godwin is a party man, a most interesting addition. Mr. Godwin left the tariff bill passed the House and has not been back since; he has been at work among the voters and has watched the tariff proceedings from afar off. George Morton is strong in his own community and has always played a winning hand. A farmer, a business man and a farmer, he has taken him to every county in the district and he will make a good race if not a successful one. These two—Morton and McKinnon—have the advantage of not being lawyers, which may prove of value to the voters. One of the seven Democrats in the House from North Carolina are lawyers and some of them have such fine practices that they cannot afford to spend too much time in Washington. Representing Page, the business man of the delegation, answers more roll-calls than any other Representative from the State, with Webb a close second.

There will be fun in several of the districts.

THE "TOWA IDEA." One hears much talk here of the "Towa Idea," which means the tariff issue of Senator Cummins and others of the peculiar "Towa Idea," another idea, the "Louisiana Idea," which bears a very interesting relation to tariff legislation.

"What about the Louisiana Senators and their tariff votes?" I inquired of a bright Representative of this State. "I should say," declared the Louisiana Senator, "McEnery has done more for his State than any other man in it. He is very popular with the people. His political record runs like this: Before he became a lawyer he stumped his section of the State for the Democratic party against the Know-Nothing. He was a private soldier and after the war became a great champion of white supremacy. His brother John was Governor of Louisiana from 1872 to 1876, having been elected on the negro issue. In 1880 Senator McEnery was elected as a Democrat, but was forced by Gov. L. A. Wiltz, who died soon after his inauguration. Four years later he succeeded himself.

In 1896 there was serious danger of the Democrats of the State losing a United States Senator. Mr. McEnery was not a candidate, but was forced by the party to enter the contest in order to save the Senatorship. At the time he was an Associate Justice of the State Supreme Court. An independent movement in New Orleans had resulted in the new organization securing a large number of the members of the Legislature. The Independents, the Populists and the Republicans combined against the Democrats, and were about to have things their way. McEnery was elected and when his first term was out he succeeded himself without opposition.

SITUATION IN LOUISIANA. "We have peculiar conditions in the State back before the civil war," said a Louisiana Senator, "and the members of the House from south Louisiana always, with few, if any exceptions, fought for a tariff on sugar. Most every bit of the cane grown in the United States is produced there. At the present time our people want a tariff on rice and timber as well as sugar. The yellow pine of Louisiana is just being developed. The largest saw mill in the world is in our State. It cuts 600,000 feet a day.

The Louisiana Democrats, save in a few instances, vote with the Democrats except on the tariff. Bransford and Estopinal voted for the previous question this session. Six of our seven Representatives voted for a tariff on lumber, and the seventh man had not been elected. Four of the delegation voted for the Payne bill. These represent the southern section of the State.

Senator Foster was Governor of the State before he came here. He was educated at Washington and Lee University, while Gen. Robert E. Lee was at the head of that institution. For four terms he served in the Senate. Twice he has been elected to the Senate, the last time in a white primary.

"It is to the credit of our Senators that they are poor men, although they have served in high places most of their lives. They are still with the people except on the tariff. Bransford and Estopinal voted for the previous question this session. Six of our seven Representatives voted for a tariff on lumber, and the seventh man had not been elected. Four of the delegation voted for the Payne bill. These represent the southern section of the State.

IN CONGRESS IS IN LINE WITH HIS SORT OF DEMOCRACY.

Louisiana has never failed to cast its electoral vote for the Democratic ticket. The State has been for Mr. Bryan in his ambition. No member of Congress has ever voted against him.

THE BOLL WEEVIL A FACTOR. The boll weevil has had something to do with Louisiana politics. Before the advent of that pest our farmers produced cotton where sugar and rice are now grown. The work of the insect drove numbers of farmers to sugar and rice the last two seasons.

What would we have in our State with the boll weevil eating up the cotton and the Congressmen voting to put sugar, rice and lumber on the free list? How long would the State cast its electoral vote for the Democratic candidate? How long would our Representatives be men who would stand for white supremacy? Which is better—to let Democrats come here and vote for the best interests of the people at home or turn the State over to the Republicans? We have settled those questions for ourselves. We vote for a duty on sugar, a duty on lumber and a duty on rice. We are Democrats, but when it comes to a question of the people of Louisiana or the Denver platform we side with the former. We are voting as we promised our constituents we would in the last campaign.

This is the "Louisiana Idea." The "LaFollette" or "Wisconsin Idea," and the "Towa Idea" are other. Party men here say that there is no Republican party in Wisconsin, but a Socialist party led by LaFollette. The Iowa Senators are considered good party men except when the tariff is up, and then they advocate "the Towa Idea."

Kansas has an idea but it has not developed to such an extent that it stands alone. Senator Bristow will encourage and foster it.

LOVELY HOME WEDDING. Mr. H. B. Bennett and Miss Bessie Kendrick Wedded Last Night—Rev. Dr. E. E. Bomar Performs the Ceremony—Will Live in Dilworth.

One of the loveliest home weddings ever solemnized in Charlotte was that at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Z. V. Kendrick, No. 1210 South Boulevard, last evening at 8 o'clock when Miss Bessie Howell Kendrick became the bride of Mr. Henry Bell Bennett, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. E. E. Bomar, pastor of the Pritchard Memorial Baptist church.

The strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" skillfully rendered by Miss Myrtle Blankenship, a bride party entered the south parlor of the home, first appearing the bride, dressed in pink japonica silk, trimmed with real lace and carrying a gorgeous and light of the valley, then the groom with his best man, Mr. Dell Withers, who were in turn followed by the dainty little ring bearer, Miss Margaret Jones, and finally, the bride with her sister, Miss Della Kendrick, maid of honor.

At the altar and beneath the wedding bell and arch, the words were said which made the two one. An informal reception followed. The bride was lovely in white attire, with real lace and wearing the veil caught by a sprig of orange blossom and carrying a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was dressed in pink japonica silk. The parlor was beautifully decorated in green and white, the color scheme being most effective. The dining room, in which light refreshments were served, was also decorated in green and white, the table being covered with pink lace. The ceremony was a most beautiful and interesting one.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. V. Kendrick and has lived in Charlotte practically all of her life. She is accomplished and attractive and has many friends. Mr. Bennett is connected with the Southern Cotton Oil Company and is one of the State's most enterprising and popular young men.

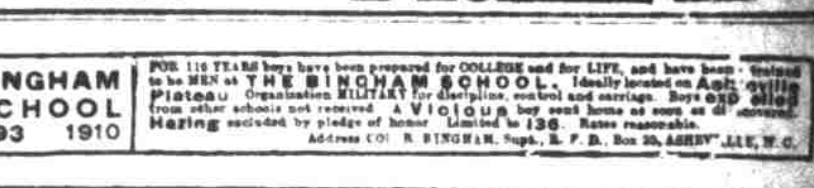

COLD KILLS THE GERM. Lieut. Perry Says There Are No Bald Heads in the Arctic Region. The people who come back from Klondike testify to the fact that no native bald heads are there. The evidence is that the cold climate kills the germs that eat the hair off at the root. Lieut. Perry, who went to the Arctic Regions, gives the same evidence. Newbro's Herpicide has the same effect as the cold climate. It kills the germ that eats the hair off at the root and the hair grows again. Herpicide is the first hair remedy built upon the principle of destroying the germ that eats the hair off. Its phenomenal sale demonstrates the correctness of the scalp remedy theory. Sold by leading druggists. Find list in sample for sample. The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. R. H. Jordan & Co., Special Agents.

Standard

What is the advantage of a "standard" policy? It is that the layman who is ignorant of insurance technicalities may know without study, investigation or consultation that his insurance is adequate, liberal, embodies every appropriate guarantee, and protects all his interests and those of his dependents.

There are only three things which need to be determined by the man who takes a Standard Policy: 1. The kind of insurance that will suit him best. 2. The amount needed to protect his dependents, and his own future. 3. The character, strength and management of the company issuing the policy.

As to the last of these points, the shrewd inventor will be content with nothing but the best. The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States—"STRONGEST IN THE WORLD."
