Its mother went to it immediately and found blood running from its nose and mouth. Since that time the child grew weaker and thinner until it died. This is the substance of the evidence and upon it the jury returned a verdict that the "child came to its death from sickness caused by cruel treatment and abuse administered by Reddick Freeman." As stated above Freeman is in jail and of course the cause will be further interred in the family burying investigated by the Superior court. The child's mother and others testified that the child was fat and healthy up to the time of this whipping inflicted about three months ago.
