A Long Fall.

The New Yorker was in the midst of an incident connected with the new famous Flatiron building, with its lawsuits, etc., when he was interrupted by his Boston friend: "Well," he said, "you surely have heard of our Boston building that the clouds bump against?" "Never heard of it."

"Well," said the Boston man, "when they were putting the last story on a workman fell off the top. Some time later I was passing along the street when a newsboy yelled: 'Extra! Full account of the accident!' I started to read the report, and what do you think? While I was reading something dropped with a crash."

"What was it?" inquired the New Yorker.

"The workman. He'd just reached the ground."

The Flatiron story man from New York was silent.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Magnets as Surgeons.

Not long ago a New England electrical engineer who accidentally got a needle stuck into his leg twisted some wires about a piece of iron and connected the wires with a dynamo. Then with the magnet thus made he pulled the bit of steel from the wound. About the same time an apprentice in the Mare Island navy yard in California was injured in the face by some bits of steel from a broken tool. The surgeon failed to extract all the pieces, and the wound inflamed. The chief electrician then improvised a magnet capable of lifting 500 pounds and held it in front of the boy's face, when the remaining bit of steel flew out of the wound as promptly as if it had been sent for. Now if some one would invent a magnet that would pull slivers out of a boy's fingers thousands of young Americans would rise and call him blessed.

Our Oldest Public Building.

If we seek the oldest civic building in the United States we shall find ourselves in the quaint old adobe Palace of the Governors in Santa Fe, N. M. This long, low, structure in the second oldest city of the United States has been the seat of government under the Spanish, Mexican and American regimes for nearly 300 years. It now contains the museum of the New Mexico Historical society, of which the Hon. L. Bradford Prince, a native New Yorker and former governor of New Mexico, is president. Governor Prince considers this "the most historic building in the United States."—Chautauquan.

NIGHT WAS HER TERROR.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free at John Tull's and W. A. Leslie's drug stores.

CALDWELL.

Lenoir Topics, July 15th.

Frank Phelps has been shaved—it is no longer Fuzzy Frank.

Rev. H. H. Phelps is walking on sticks—the results of rheumatism.

The work of enlarging Davenport College is being rapidly pushed forward.

Miss Elma Courtney left last Wednesday for Chitauqua, New York, where she will study music this summer.

We are proud to have such a building as the Bernhard store in our town. The brick work will be completed in another week.

The small boy has to stay off the streets by the provision of the order of the Board of Commissioners requiring the juvenile citizens to be at home by 8 p. m.

At the commissioners meeting Monday L. S. Berry and J. L. Hayes were appointed overseers to open out a road from Rhodhiss to Conley place, and assigned all hands within 3 miles of said road. The sum of $1500 was appropriated to the construction of a free bridge over Catawba river at Rhodhiss to be advanced by the Rhodhiss Manufacturing Co. and credited on future taxes of said company.

Other Caldwell Items.

No marriage licence have been issued this month by the Register of Deeds.

An ice cream supper at the residence of Prof. J. A. White was enjoyed by quite a number Tuesday night. About $25 was raised toward furnishing the Baptist church.

At Cedar Valley one night recently Tom Barkley was shot by Charles Bench. Bench used a shot gun and inflicted a dangerous wound, the entire load striking Barkley in the leg. They were both drinking at the time.

The dedication of the Reformed Church, which was to take place Sunday, has been postponed on account of the sickness of a number of the members.

WATAUGA.

Dr. Cottrell tells us that all his milk-sick patients are now out of danger.

McBride and Musgraves shipped during the month of June 3,250 head of sheep to the northern markets, the most of them having been bought in Watauga, and distributed a little more than $12,000 among our people in payment for the same.

Edward F. Southerland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Southerland, died at his home on Tuesday of last week at the age of 24 years. He had been a confirmed invalid for a number of years.

Much anxiety is still being manifested over the condition of little George Blackburn, whose illness was mentioned last week. But to-day, Wednesday, we are glad indeed to learn that his symptoms are some better, and the hope of all is that the crisis has passed.

BRUTALLY TORTURED.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equalled. Joe Goldbrick of Colusa, Cal., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by John Tull and W. A. Leslie, Druggists.

CATAWBA.

Newton Enterprise, July 10th.

We imagine that our country friends will add a considerable amount to their income this year from the sale of dried fruit. There are blackberries without end and as fine a crop of apples as we ever saw in the county.

We are sorry to learn of the misfortune that has befallen Mr. J. B. Little of Oxford Ford. About ten days ago while feeding his hogs he became completely blind and had to be led to the house. Years before he lost the sight of one eye, but up to this time the other eye remained good. He is 82 years old, and the father of Esquire P. K. Little.

Mr. McMahoney has paid his fine.

There have been picnics upon picnics recently. From Newton there were picnics on three successive days at the Springs last week. But the one at Rock Springs campground on the 4th was a record breaker. There were 1000 people there. If they are not stopped there will be no chickens left for campmeeting.

John Howard, the Caldwell township joker was here Monday. Dan Watts, the cowboy of the piney woods, was also here. They met in Quince Setzer's store, and Quince is no slouch of a joker himself. John first told a joke about Dan's capacity for blackberries, and wound up with one about Ball's Creek campmeeting. He said Dan got religion at campmeeting a few years ago, and the first thing he did was to call for "Meke" Murray. —Dan is Murray's assistant in the cow peddling trade.—"Meke," he said, "You'll have to do all the lying now, for I've got religion."

LINCOLN.

Lincoln Journal, July 10th.

We are glad to be able to state that Mrs. G. T. Duke's condition is somewhat improved. She rested better Thursday than at any time since her fall about two weeks ago. Mrs. Ellen McKenzie, of Salisbury, and Mrs. Nannie Ransom, of China Grove, are at her bedside.

Rev. Walter H. Robertson died at Warrenton, Va., July 2nd. He will be remembered by many Confederate veterans as Captain and Ordnance Officer on the staff of Gen. Pettigrew, and was severely wounded at Gettysburg on July 1st, 1863, while acting with the 11th Regiment of North Carolina Troops. After recovering from his wounds he served with Mosby until the end of the year; then entered the ministry of the Presbyterian Church. At the time of his death he had been pastor at Warrenton, Va., for sixteen years. He was an uncle of Mrs. W. A. Graham, Maspelah.

Married by A. L. Sullivan, Esq., at his residence on July 5th at 8 o'clock a. m., Mr. William Peeler and Miss Elizabeth Reinhardt, both of Lincoln county. They are a handsome pair, and popular in this community. We join their many friends in wishing them a prosperous and happy journey through life.

Several good jokes are being told by the Rural letter carriers. Among these, is that one of the carriers last week was requested by a certain patron of his route to take several chickens to town and exchange them for coffee.
