

IMMIGRANTS NOT WANTED.

The Very Existence of Our Free Institutions Will be Jeopardized by an Influx of Foreigners.

The letter of Mr. James A. Wilson, Shelby, N. C., in Monday's Charlotte Observer, so thoroughly voices our sentiments in the matter of foreign immigration that we herewith print it in full:

"We wish to join hands with 'Citizens,' of High Point, whose recent article appeared in the Observer, that we may do all that we can to save our state and nation, so far as possible, from making this irreparable mistake. We are first, and all the time, Americans. Our country is none too large now to furnish homes for our constantly increasing population. The Federal government is annually expending hundreds of thousands of dollars now reclaiming the arid plains of the West to give room for new settlers from the overcrowded sections of the East. We may not be able to utilize all of our natural advantages for many years to come and it is well that we cannot, for the good of the good generations yet unborn.

"We Americans are the biggest fools on the face of the earth, if we allow the scum of the earth to come in and take possession of our fair land and to prostitute the institutions for which our fathers fought and died. This land of liberty, land of the brave and free—arouse yourselves now, ye sons of Revolutionary heroes, for the foe is at your doors. Don't wait till it is forever too late; don't wait until the great ship of State goes to pieces upon the shores of anarchy, rapine, and all that is diabolical for the hull is grating now upon the unseen rocks that lie out in the future.

"The assassination of our President is sufficient cause for alarm. There is not one of us that would not shoulder our gun and march at a moment's notice to meet an invading foe, and yet we will allow 1,000,000 foreigners to land upon our shores every year, who will gradually take possession of our great country and our free institutions. It is only a matter of time, unless we shut the door against all immigration, that our descendants will have graver problems confronting them than we have ever had. If you have never thought of this, stop and think now.

"Our laws should be regulated so as to restrict all immigration to the very lowest possible. We mean this, and we want it distinctly understood that we will not support any man or set of men that will favor any bureau of immigration. Because some capitalists or local agents see a few millions in a thing of this kind is no reason why the Legislature of North Carolina should fasten such a thing as this upon a great and free and independent people, the best people upon the face of the earth to-day. We farmers do not need more labor—that is all a mistake. We produce so much now that we keep the markets all glutted with our products till we can't get a reasonable price for what we sell. The natural increase of our population will be sufficient to furnish thousands of new hands to the mills and factories every year.

"Now, laboring men, don't be deceived by this cry for more help to develop our country, to work our mines, to run our factories and mills, but consider the source from which it comes. It's the millionaire, the man who rides in his private car, who owns the factories and mines, who wants more paupers in the country that they may work for him and double his millions, while their own wages are decreased—and the 'full dinner pail' will be replaced by one that is empty.

"There is, however, another kind of immigration that we would like to see started, and that is the moving of a great many of our own people from the cities to the country. We believe that this would be better for all and at the same time would relieve the congested centers of population. This is one of the great problems now confronting us, that is, how to get the people away from the towns back to the country, or into 'the little worth living.' The suburban trolley car, the telephone and the rural mail delivery will add very desirable changes in the very near future.

"We have a good country, for every man has a job and could have two if he wished—with wages gradually on the increase. So if the politicians, grafters and all such will just be easy, the old farmer will get along some way—if he has to set half his land in Bermuda grass and raise cattle. He will get rich just that much faster.

"We believe there are a great many people who think as we do on the subject of immigration, and we hope they will not be slow to express themselves."

The Troubles Between Norway and Sweden.

Statesville Landmark, 14th. The Landmark has mentioned the troubles between Norway and Sweden on account of the former's desire to withdraw from governmental relations with the latter. The differences have not been adjusted and there is a possibility of war. Sweden has borrowed $6,500,000 to pay extraordinary expenditures. Both houses of the Swedish Riksdag on June 27 last elected extraordinary committees to which was referred a government bill embodying the terms of a settlement with Norway on the question of secession. The Norway debates on the bill showed that the majority of the speakers were of the opinion that a peaceful solution of the problem was difficult. In fact, the question of forcible opposition to secession was mooted and the national indignation was reflected.

Comparison of the armies and navies of Norway and Sweden show that in Norway the troops of the line and other supports number about 80,000 men and 1,700 officers. Sweden has an army in time of peace of 37,000 men and 2,200 officers. Norway, however, can never have more than 18,000 men under arms, even in time of war, without the consent of the Storting. Norway's peace footing is about 20,000. Her navy consists of four modern armored cruisers, four ironclad monitors, three unarmored gunboats, two gunboats of ancient type, each of 190 tons, eight of between 230 and 400 tons, nine of about 60 tons and 32 torpedo boats.

Sweden's navy is made up of 11 monitors for coast defence, 5 torpedo gunboats, 2 destroyers, 6 torpedo boats and several gunboats and training ships.

The Girl Who Was to Be Educated for Saving the Train Got Married.

Asheville Dispatch, 14th. It was learned here this afternoon that Nannie Gibson, the 14-year-old mountain girl who several months ago saved a mixed freight and passenger train from destruction near Mud Cut, for which she was liberally rewarded by the passengers, and for whose education at the Normal and Collegiate Institute of the Southern Railway Company has appropriated a sum of money, was married at Old Fort, McDowell county, this week. Since Nannie Gibson flagged the train at Mud Cut the child's mother died and the family moved to Old Fort. The groom, it is said, went to the Gibson home, got the bride-elect and, going to a preacher, they were married. Mr. Gibson, learning of the affair, went after the couple and found them after the ceremony had been performed. He took his daughter from her husband and she accompanied him home. It could not be learned whether an effort would be made to annul the marriage. It is said the Southern still intends educating the saver of the passenger train if it is her wish.

The Raleigh dispensary's profits for the quarter ending June 31 were $14,000, an increase over the first quarter of this year of $1,500. Under a new law the dispensary profits are divided between the city, the county school funds and the county road funds, so that of the $14,000 now paid in the county gets $8,800 and the city $5,600.

Mortgage Sale of Land. By virtue of a mortgage deed executed on the 15th day of April, 1904, by W. L. Jones and wife, E. L. Jones, to J. W. Glass and L. A. Big Sale of North Carolina and Georgia Lands. Asheville Citizens, 11th. What is said to be the largest hardwood lumber deal ever consummated in the South was made public here yesterday. It involves the sale of more than 48,000 acres of the finest hardwood timber forests in western North Carolina and northern Georgia and will result ultimately in the opening up of a section of the country that is said to rival the famous "Sapphire Country" in beauty and grandeur. The land in question was the property of the Tallulah River Lumber company, of this State, composed of R. F. Dalton and Moses H. Cone, of Greensboro, J. E. Coxe, of High Point; and Congressman Page, of Aberdeen; and has been conveyed to the North Georgia Company, a corporation recently incorporated under the laws of Georgia, with a capital stock of $500,000 and composed of several New York, Michigan and Georgia capitalists and lumbermen. The consideration was in the neighborhood of $250,000.
