BANK ROBBERY AT GRANITE folks who need the money.

Boldest Robbery in Annals of State Robbers Lock Cashier in Vault and

Associated Press Dispatch, 16th. While one masked robber helpup the cashier in true wild west style, his two companions looted the vault of the bank at Granite Falls, N. C., early last night, secured all the cash in the institution, $2,700, forced the cashier to enter the vault and after locking him in made their escape. The robbery-the boldest in the annals of the state-was not discovered until 9 o'clock this morning. When Cashier W. G. Whisnant did not appear for breakfast, his family thoroughly alarmed, instituted search. On entering the bank a feeble tapping was heard in the vault and when it was opened the missing cashier staggered out, more dead than alive from his fifteen hours of close confinement.

CASHIER'S STORY.

According to the cashier's story three strange men, wearing half masks, entered the bank at 6 o'clock Saturday evening and while one of them held him up at the point of a pistol, the other two, oblivious of the fact that pedestrains were passing the door, proceeded to help themselves to the bank's cash. The work was done quietly and rapidly, the robbers betraying the coolness of professionals. When satisfied that they had approprited the available cash the lone robber forced Whisnant to enter the vault and then locked him in.

Whisnant declares he made all the noise possible in his cramped ceived relief in a short time. I continued using Doan's Kidney Pills until when his family discovered his remed of several hundred inhabitants, located in an inaccessible portion of Caldwell county. The authorities throughout this section of the state have been notified, but the robbers left no clue and having fifteen hours start, their capture seems a remote possibility. The robbery was evidently carefully planned, the bank's custom of keeping open Saturday evenings for the accommodation of mill operatives being taken advantage of.
