MR. CRAIG TO HIS TRADUCERS.

He Denounces the Statements of Two Editors as Infamous Slanders.

Asheville Dispatch, 19th.

Mr. Locke Craig, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, to-night made the following statement:

"Two editorials have just been called to my attention, one from the Madison Herald, edited by C. O. McMichael, from which I take the following statement:

"We had hoped that Craig would accept Kitchin's challenge and stump the State with him, as he ought to have done, because it is not a fight as to which man shall have the honor but it is a fight as to whether the wing of the Democratic party led by the Charlotte Observer and backed by the Southern railway, the American Tobacco Company and other special interests and calling themselves conservatives, shall control the politics of the party, or whether the people that stand for the people and with the people against the wrongs and encroachments of these special interests shall still continue to administer the affairs of North Carolina. This is the fight and no man dares to deny it. You take the backing of these special interests from Craig's candidacy and he would withdraw to-morrow. In fact, we are satisfied that if he had not been assured that he would receive the solid support of this he would not have entered the race."

"The other editorial appeared in the Mocksville Courier, edited by W. K. Clement, and is as follows:

"W. W. Kitchin stands for the common good of the people. Locke Craig stands for the good of the railroads and other corporations that swindle the people. Which one do you want for Governor?"

"The charges made against me in both of these editorials are infamous slanders, uttered and published with the deliberate design to do me the greatest wrong that can be done to a man who values his integrity of character. The idea that my candidacy is based upon any assurance of support or any hope of support by any special interest, or that I stand for these against the people, is too degrading to be replied to except by indignant denunciation of its falsity. This is a sample of the charges that for some time have been secretly cir-

Famous Railway Cases Decided—Mr. Justice Harlan Dissents.

Washington Dispatch, 23d.

In refusing to grant to Attorney General Young, of Minnesota, a writ of habeas corpus releasing him from the penalty imposed by the United States Circuit Court for the district of Minnesota on the charge of contempt of court in instituting a proceeding in a State court for the enforcement of the railroad rate law after the Federal court had prohibited such a course, and in affirming the decision of Judge Pritchard, of the United States Circuit Court for the western district of North Carolina, discharging from imprisonment James A. Wood, a ticket agent of the Southern Railway at Asheville, after he had been sentenced by the Asheville police court to serve a term on the rock pile on the charge of collecting for a ticket on that road a greater price than was permitted by the State railroad law, the Supreme Court of the United States today added another to the series of decisions which have rendered notable the present term of that court.

CASES INVOLVED CONFLICTS BETWEEN COURTS.

In both cases the right of the States to fix rates for railroad transportation was the issue, and both involved conflicts between the Federal and the State courts. The decision in each case was opposed both to the States and to their courts. The opinion of the court in both cases, was announced by Justice Peckham, and with the exception of Justice Harlan all the other members of the court stood behind him in the announcement of the court's finding. Justice Harlan read a dissenting opinion in the Young case in which he took the view that the suit was practically a proceeding against the State and therefore not permissible under the eleventh amendment to the constitution. He therefore characterized the opinion as era making in the history of the court, and said it had the effect of closing the courts of a State against the State itself, and predicted that the result would be disastrous.

The two cases were so similar that both practically were decided in one opinion. The principle pronouncement was made in the Minnesota case.

Speech of Senator Simmons.

Charlotte Observer, 22d.

The ocean mail speech of our senior Senator, delivered on the 13th, evidences complete familiarity with the subject. To state the proposition in a few words, the bill under consideration, known as the Gallinger bill, is an amendment to the ocean mail service act of 1891 and provides for payment for mail service on vessels of the second class on routes to South America, Australia and the Orient at the same rate that is paid vessels of the first class, viz: not exceeding $4 per mile outward voyage; and Senator Simmons' amendment to the amendment is a proviso in the words: "That the compensation for foreign mail service in any one year shall not exceed the estimated revenue therefrom in that year." The Simmons amendment relieved the bill of any just objection to it and the measure was further strengthened by an amendment offered by Senator Bacon, and adopted, when it was put upon its passage Friday last, providing that one of the subsidized mail steamers shall touch at two points south of Cape Charles, Va. The gist of the Simmons amendment, as clearly appears from a reading of it, is that no more shall be paid for subsidies than is received by the government for mail service. Thus amended by the two Southern Senators the bill passed without objection—without a call of the ayes and noes.

For Corporation Commissioner.

Goldboro Daily Argus, 5th.

The Argus is pleased to learn that Hon. Benjamin F. Aycock, of Wayne, will be a candidate for nomination for Corporation Commissioner before the next Democratic State convention. We know of no man within the boundaries of the State who is better qualified in ability and experience for this position. From his earliest youth Mr. Aycock has been one of the staunchest and most active of Democrats, giving largely of his means and time to the support of Democratic principles and the election of Democratic candidates.

He has served as Senator from this senatorial district in the General Assemblies of 1889, 1891, 1893, 1901 and 1907. Much legislation was enacted at these sessions of the General Assembly of a highly important character to the people of the State, and Mr. Aycock was leader in most of the measures which have proved most beneficial. He was early one of the strongest and most active advocates of the establishment of the railroad commission. It was largely owing to his earnest and persistent advocacy that the railroad companies of the State which had long been exempt from taxation were placed on the tax list and caused to bear their share of the burden of taxation. He has been the constant and unremitting friend of all legislation looking to the improvement of the public school system of the State. He was an advocate for the establishment of the State Normal and Industrial College for Women at Greensboro, and for many years served on the Board of Trustees of that institution, where his wise and valuable services were greatly appreciated. He advocated the establishment of the institution for the deaf at Morganton, which now stands at the head of institutions of its kind in the world.

In this generation at least we have had no Senator wiser or more progressive, nor one who has so impressed himself upon legislation. During his services in the Senate no measure looking to the improvement of the condition of the people of the State has failed to receive his earnest and efficient support.

In 1896, he was nominated for State Treasurer and made a most gallant fight for the State ticket, and went down with his associates under the fusion of that year.

Mr. Aycock is a man of wide experience, having engaged extensively in mercantile pursuits and in farming, is a most careful student of economic and political questions, and withal one of the strongest and most convincing public-speakers in the State. He is a man of the highest character and the most indomitable courage.

His nomination would be exceedingly gratifying to his thousands of friends throughout the State, and would add greatly to the strength of the State ticket.

The Argus moves that his nomination be made unanimous.

NO USE TO DIE.

"I have found out that there is no use to die of lung trouble as long as you can get Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. J. P. White, of Rushboro, Pa. "I would not be alive to-day only for that wonderful medicine. It loosens up a cough quicker than anything else, and cures lung disease even after the case is pronounced hopeless." This most-reliable remedy for coughs and colds, is-grippe, asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness, is sold under guarantee at W. A. Leslie's drug store, 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Death of Mr. W. D. Lowman, of Icard Township.

Correspondence of The News-Herald.

Mr. Wesley D. Lowman, one of the best and most substantial citizens of Icard township, quietly passed away on the 16th inst. Mr. Lowman had been in ill health for nearly five years.

He was a devoted Christian, and at the time of his death was a member of Abec's Chapel Baptist church.

He leaves a wife, six children and a host of relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

To the bereaved we tender our sympathy.

J. G. B.

Grace Hospital.

To the Public:

From our experience during the past year, we desire to state that of the 71 patients taken care of in Grace Hospital not more than ten paid the total cost of their care. The regular ward charge has been $7.00 per week. The average cost per week of ward patients has been $9.80. So as to make it possible for those who desire to pay the entire cost of their care, the price hereafter, for such patients, will be $10 per week. Any person not able to pay the regular price will be taken at any price they can afford to pay.

Steamships Collide and 200 Lives Lost.

Tokio, Japan, Dispatch, 23d.

The Matsu Maru, an 800 ton coasting steamer, belonging to the Yusen Kashi line, was sunk in a collision with the Hideyoshi Maru, 696 tons, at 2:30 o'clock this morning, two miles off Todohokke, near Hakodate.

The captain of the Matsu Maru, a majority of the 244 passengers and forty-three of the crew perished.

The Hideyoshi Maru and another steamer rescued the survivors.

Details from Tokio describing the sinking of the Japanese steamship Matusa Maru, which was rammed by the steamship Hideyoshi off Todohokke, state that more than 240 passengers and the crew of 43 perished. The captain of the Matsu Maru, as well as the crew, did everything in their power to prevent panic, but failed. They stuck to their posts and went down with the ship.

The ships struck in a heavy fog. They were close together, proceeding with considerable speed before the pilots saw the danger. There was no chance to slow up and not sufficient distance to sheer off. The Matsu Maru was almost cut in two and the water filled her in a few minutes.

Another steamship appeared on the scene and lowered boats, but not in time to pick up more than a score of survivors. Several of the boats, filled with rescuers, were nearly caught in the suction caused by the sinking vessel and narrowly escaped being drawn under the water.

Strange Disappearance.

Mitchell Observer.

Mrs. C. C. Britton, of Knoxville, Tenn., a daughter of Mr. R. C. Young, of this place, has recently undergone a strange experience. She had a wisdom tooth extracted and it slipped from the forceps of the dentist and could not be found. It was thought at the time that Mrs. Britton swallowed the tooth. The jaw began to swell and it was lanced a time or two with only temporary relief. The X-ray was finally brought into requisition the tooth found lodged not far from the ear. It was taken out and the lady is now improving. The tooth was snow white in appearance and the mystery of all is how did it get where it lodged?

Mrs. Prestwood, of this place, is now with her sister.
