Death of Maj. J. G. Ballew.
Lenoir Topic, 10th. @ Maj. J. G. Ballew died at his home in Lenoir this morning about 10 o'clock, after confinement to his room for a week. The end came peacefully and without a struggle. Major Ballew had been in failing health for several months, and while his condition was not unfavorable for a few days, still his death was unexpected.
Maj. Ballew was born in Burke county Jan. 15, 1820. He lived in Morganton for a number of years and came to Lenoir as one of the original citizens of our town. He was first married to Miss Mary Ann Moore, of Gaston county, and of this union two children survive, Mrs. B. F.
Davis and Mr. W. A. Ballew. Mr.
F. A. Ballew having died about a year ago. The second marriage was to Miss Frances Rousseau, of Wilkesboro, and their children all survive, as follows: J. Gordon Ballew, Julius Ballew, and Miss Mattie Mae Ballew.
As Major on the home guard during the Civil War, Maj. Ballew served his country nobly and well. He was chairman of the Board of County Commissioners for a number of years. He served as United States Commissioner for some time and was always faithful in the discharge of duty in whatever relation he was placed.
He was a member of the Methodist church and lived an upright Christian life.
Maj. Ballew's last wife died on the 10th of March last, and his death was therefore exactly three months after that of his companion.

One Just Like Her.
A large touring automobile containing a man and his wife in a narrow road met a hay wagon fully loaded. The woman declared that the farmer must back out, but her husband contended that she was unreasonable.
"But you can't back the automobile so far," she said, "and I don't intend to move for anybody.
He should have seen us."
The husband pointed out that this was impossible, owing to an abrupt turn in the road.
"I don't care," she insisted.
"I won't move, if we have to stay here all night."
The man in the automobile was starting to argue the matter, when the farmer, who had been sitting quietly on the hay interrupted.
"Never mind, sir," he exclaimed, "I'll back out. I've got one just like her at home."

WOMAN'S BACKACHE

The back is the mainpring of woman's organism. It quickly calls attention to trouble by aching. It tells, with other symptoms, such as nervousness, headache, pains in the loins, weight in the lower part of the body, that a woman's feminine organism needs immediate attention.
In such cases the one sure remedy which speedily removes the cause, and restores the feminine organism to a healthy, normal condition is
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND
Mrs. Will Young, of 6 Columbia Ave., Rockland, Me., says:
"I was troubled for a long time with dreadful backaches and a pain in my side, and was miserable in every way.
I doctored until I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to try it; after taking three bottles I can truly say that I never felt so well in my life."
Mrs. Angustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:
"I had very severe backaches, and pressing-down pains. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me and made me feel like a new woman."
FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

Maj. E. J. Hale for Delegate-at-Large to the Denver Convention.
The name of Maj. E. J. Hale, of Fayetteville, will be presented to the Democratic State Convention at Charlotte for election as one of the four delegates-at-large to the National Convention at Denver.
Major Hale's long and distinguished services to the Democratic party are well known. His experience as a delegate to National Conventions is unique.
He was a delegate from his Congressional District in 1884, and has been a delegate-at-large three times (consecutively) since. Each time his colleagues honored him by election to one of the offices in the delegation's gift. In 1884, he was elected Secretary of the Convention for North Carolina.
In 1896, as delegate-at-large, he was elected the North Carolina member of the platform committee, and was one of the eight who drew the now famous Chicago platform. In 1900 he was again elected delegate-at-large, receiving the largest vote ever cast in a North Carolina State Convention up to that time, and was elected Chairman of the delegation. In 1904, though the drift of sentiment was against his views, he was for the third time elected a delegate-at-large, and was elected by his colleagues Vice-President for North Carolina of the National Convention.
As is well known, Major Hale is one of Mr. Bryan's closest personal and political friends. It is known, also, that his candidacy at this time has Mr. Bryan's warm approval.
Maj. Hale has the unanimous endorsement of his county—Cumberland.

Bingham School.
We have the Bingham School Catalogue showing pupils from Massachusetts southward to Mexico, 2,500 miles, and from California eastward, 18,000 miles, to the Philippines.
Col. Bingham has introduced spoken French, German and Spanish, taught by a Master of Arts of Harvard, with years of study abroad.
The destruction of 1,200 pupils in school fires since 1891, all in high buildings, 180 in Collinwood, Ohio, March 4th, emphasizes this school's single story buildings, with 80 doors and 100 windows as ground floor fire escapes.
The school is full, and refuses pupils every year. See advertisement.

Land Deed to Jesus Christ.
Kansas City Star.
A peculiar deed discovered by abstractors of Randolph county conveys 120 acres of land near Darksville to Jesus Christ, says the Stoutsville Banner. The deed had been made in 1850 by Johnson Wright and Eliza Wright, his wife, and had never been contested. The descendants of the family had held the property "in trust" and have thrived upon it. The story is that being very pious this old couple wish to return by deed of will and law to their Saviour the material blessing which He had conferred on them in this life.

W. R. Ward, of Dyersburg, Tenn., writes: "This is to certify that I have used Foley's Ointment for chronic constipation, and it has proven without a doubt to be a thorough practical remedy for this trouble, and it is with pleasure I offer my conscientious reference." W. A. Leslie.

Pardon for Caleb Powers.
Governor Wilson, of Kentucky, recently inaugurated, Republican, last Friday granted an unconditional pardon to Caleb S. Powers and James Howard, serving life sentences for complicity in the assassination of Governor Goebel several years ago. Both were considered as political prisoners, and a pardon was predicted when Wilson was elected. Governor Wilson has been besieged by petitions to exercise clemency since he has been in office. The petitions came from all parts of the country.

Election of Graded School Teachers.
At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Morganton Graded School it was unanimously ordered that the auditorium be not let to any person or persons for any purposes, except graded school purposes, after July 1, 1908, on account of excessive auditorium license taxes imposed by the Town Commissioners.
Teachers have been elected as follows:
White School—Jos. E. Avent, Supt., Cornelia Carter, Eloise Erwin, Mary Burgin Presnell, Janie Pearson, Belle Hildebrand, Mary A. Miller, Camille Claywell, Margaret Feimster, Willie Spain-hour, Ella Torrence, Josie Laxton, Sallie Hogan, Music Teacher; E. W. Hairfield, Penmanship Teacher.
Colored School—C. E. Saxton, Principal; M. C. Carson, Lillian Walton.
All these teachers are known here in Morganton except Miss Ella Torrence. This lady formerly taught for Superintendent Avent, and is one of the ablest teachers of the State, having had twelve or fifteen years experience. She is a graduate from Saluda Seminary and has had considerable normal training.
A resolution was adopted, outlining as a future policy of the graded school, that after this coming session, 1908-'09, all teachers must have either a diploma from some reputable college, or a State certificate from the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

A Visit to the County Home.
Through the kindness of the clever superintendent, I visited the County Home the first Sunday in June and preached for the inmates. They seemed to appreciate the service.
I have visited several county homes in North Carolina, and I believe that the home of Burke county is about the best kept of any. Mr. Tate seems to be the right man in the right place.
Give him a little more room and he will do Burke proud in the care of her poor.
The inmates are fond of Mr.
Tate and make as little complaint as any I have ever seen.
Care for the unfortunate is a crowning glory to any people.
J. D. LARKINS.

Invitations reading as follows have been received in Morganton:

on the evening of June the twenty-third one thousand nine hundred and eight

Mr. Giles is a son of Rev. M.
D. Giles and is the efficient superintendent of schools of Mc-Dowell county.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.
When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

PROGRESS OF DEATH.
Sensations of One Overtaken by the "Sleep of Snow."
Pastor Bertrand was climbing a mountain with a party of students.
Feeling tired, he lay down to rest while the others proceeded and was overtaken by the "sleep of snow." He felt himself as if struck by apoplexy.
His head was perfectly clear, but his body was powerless. He tells his story thus:
"A kind of prayer was sent up, and then I resolved to study quietly the progress of death. The sensation was not painful, but at last my head became unbearably cold, and it seemed to me that convulsive pitechers squeezed my heart so as to extract my life. I never felt such pain, but it lasted only for a minute, and my life went out.
"Well, thought I, I am what they call a dead man, and here I am, a captive balloon attached to the earth by a kind of elastic spring and going up and down. When my companions return they will say, "The professor's dead." They do not know I never was so alive as I am! The proof is I see them now—the guide is stealing a leg of my chicken. "Go on, old fellow! Eat the whole if you choose, for I hope my corpse will not rot again." Hello!
There is my wife going to Lucerne.
"Well, wife, goodbye!" I confess I did not call dear the one that has always been very dear to me. I felt neither regret nor joy at leaving her. My only regret was that I could not cut the string. Suddenly a shock stopped my ascension. I felt that somebody was pulling the balloon down. My grief was measureless. When I reached my body I had a last hope. The balloon seemed much too big for the mouth.
Suddenly I uttered the awful roar of a wild beast. The corpse swallowed the balloon—and Bertrand was Bertrand again!"
In other words, the exertions of his friends were successful in resuscitating him—Leon Landsberg in Boston Post.

AN ISLAND OF MASSACRES.
Over Five Million People Have Been Assassinated in Haiti.
Haiti has been the scene of more massacres than any other place on earth.
They began with the coming of Columbus and the rabble rout that followed him. In a few years his 3,000-000 gentle, brown skinned inhabitants had perished utterly, exterminated by fire and sword and by forced labor in the mines, to which they were utterly unsuited. In all history is no tragedy more colossal and more pitiful than this one.
Next the buccannars seized the unhappy island and wreaked vengeance on the Spaniards in such a manner that even the old chroniclers tell of the worst of the atrocities only in the Latin tongue.
Presently came the French, and for a brief space there was some semblance of peace. But in 1793 the negroes revolted and murdered practically all the whites, the scenes enacted resembling those that took place at Cawnpore and elsewhere during the Indian mutiny, but magnified a thousandfold.
On account of these atrocities frightful reprisals took place when France in due course reconquered the island.
But the negroes hid their time and presently rose again under a ruffian named Dessalines.
This time they did the thing thoroughly. Not only were all the Europeans put to death, but all having any tint of white blood in their veins suffered a like fate. Many of the victims were burned alive after having been first tortured.
In all it is computed that over 5,000-000 men, women and children have met with violent deaths on this island of massacres since the intruding white man first set foot on its grim fringed strand.—Pearson's Weekly.

Sleep Talkers.
It is a curious fact that people when talking in their sleep are always truthful and never evasive, but if their feelings are played upon by their questioner they will betray great anger.
Their eyes are always tightly closed, and the intonation of the voice is very different from the tones used when the person is fully awake. Sleep talkers may by conversation be brought to remember a dream within a dream, and they will recollect what happened in preceding dreams. Very often mental anxiety will make people talk in their sleep when under other conditions they would never do it.

The Lancer Snake.
There is a snake called the lancer, which lives in South America and is very ready with its fangs. It is a small, brown, insignificant beast, but its bite induces a sort of imaginary swelling all over the victim's body.
He feels as if every inch of him were being strained to breaking point, and the agony, which results is too awful for words. Generally, however, the excess of pain drives the bitten man mad before very long, and in four hours he dies—a senseless imbecile.

Her Objection.
Mrs. Binks—Would you like to come to church with me this morning? You may sit in my pew if you like. Mrs.
Jinks—Sorry, my dear, but my hat isn't trimmed for that side of the church.—Judge.

Something Gained.
Mrs. Gramercy—I hear the customs authorities seize all the finery you brought over from Paris. Will it be a total loss? Mrs. Park—Why, no, dear; I got my name in the papers.—Puck.

Silence and blushing are the eloquence of women.—Chinese.

TOLD BY HIS HAT.
The Way a Traveler Picked Out an Englishman.
"See that man?" the lately returned traveler remarked to a friend, indicating an individual a little ahead of them. "Well, I never saw him before, but I'll lay a good sized bet that he's an Englishman and, moreover, a Londoner."
"How do you tell?" the friend asked.
"By the way he wears his hat," was the reply. "Notice how it is jammed down on the head? Englishmen, especially Londoners, put on their hats for keeps. No chance is taken of being separated from a 'bowler.' That's what the derby is called over there. And it's the same way with top hat or a straw or a cap, for that matter."
"The American wears his hat lightly in comparison, and so do the people of southern continental Europe. The French, for example, have a penchant for hats that seem a bit too small for them. At any rate, their headgear doesn't appear to be very firmly fixed.
It may be my fancy, but an Italian always impresses me as a bit uncomfortable in a hat. At all events, he likes to avoid wearing it whenever possible. But your Englishman wears his hat thoroughly and seriously. It's tilted back a little, as a rule, and the nearer it is to his ears the safer he feels."
Just then the man ahead drew a paper from his pocket. It was the London Times.
"There, what did I tell you?" was the returned traveler's comment.—New York Press.

EDUCATED BEARDS.
Whiskers in Paris Reach the Pinnacle of Cultivation.
It is in Paris that the whisker reaches its highest state of civilization and development. The luxuriant verdure on the faces of some of the Parisians who strut along the boulevard every day can be compared to nothing but the riot of vegetation in the tropics. Every Parisian has whiskers—some whiskers if he can, but some whiskers at any rate. His supplements nature's efforts with the best aids of the barber and trains and nurses his luxuriant appurtenances with anxious care.
The Parisians spend hours on their beards and educate them into formal gardens, set pieces, shrubbery, terrace and vista effects. They lay out hairscapes with their own hands, arrange them in undulating meadows and twine them on pergolas. There is the long, spade concoction much sought by men with black beards, which consists of about a foot of hair cut square across the bottom and adds much glory to the wearer, for the whiskers always shine and glisten in the sun. There are side winders and pointed ones, the heart shaped and the curved, the waved and the plain. A man who can train his whiskers to grow in a new way is as much of a celebrity as a man who writes a good poem or paints a good picture.—Samuel G. Blythe in Everybody's Magazine.

Moonlight.
Many readers may not be aware of the fact that the full moon gives seven times more than the light of the half moon. They may be more surprised to learn that the ratio is approximately as nine to one. Professor Joel Stebbins and F. C. Brown, taking advantage of the extreme sensitiveness to light of a selenium cell, measured the amount of light coming from the moon at different phases with the result above mentioned. The reason for the remarkable difference shown is to be found in the varying angles of reflection presented by the roughened surface of our satellite to the sun. The moon is brighter between first quarter and full than between full and last quarter. The cause of this is evident in the more highly reflective character of that part of the moon which lies west of its meridian.

An American Scholar's Work.
It should be humiliating for Englishmen to reflect that it was left to an American, Francis James Child, to compile the five thick volumes of "English and Scottish Popular Ballads," which are familiar and invaluable to all students of this subject. But self reproach is forgotten in admiration of his work. Child himself unfortunately did not live to finish his task. However, he was more than a scholar and an editor. He was the founder of a school and he had the gift of being able to transmit to others both his learning and his zeal.—London Saturday Review.
