FIRST-CLASS WORK AT LOWEST PRICES. VOL. XXIV.

Pain is congestion, pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes' blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause,
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Senso.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

It has been suggested that Montreal should have an "Old Boys' Reunion." This scheme has been in operation for a number of years in the smaller towns throughout Canada. The idea is a good one. On a certain date the "Old Boys" arrive from all parts of the country and spend a few days in their old homes. The railroads give a reduced fare: the people give themselves up to feasting; speeches are made, and the whole thing serves as a great inspiration to the young. On the whole, it appears, Montreal thinks itself too big a town to favor such a scheme.

Are You Saving This Money?

Dr. Seaman A. Knapp. Commercial fertilizers have proven themselves a great value and are destined to play even a greater part in our farm economy, but it is only when used as supplements to the home product that this will be so. It is only when used with green manure and barnyard manure that the most pernament improvements can be accomplished. It therefore, behooves the farmers of the South to give more attention to the conservation of farm manure. The small value frequently realized from the use of barnyard manure arises from the fact that it was not properly saved and handled and the manure had lost the greater part of its plant food. If the manure is allowed to heat, a large quantity of the nitrogenen is driven off into the atmosphere. On the other hand, if the manure is left exposed to the elements, the water from rains easily and rapidly leaches out the soluble plant food. So in order to get the most valuable manure, these sources of loss must be avoided. There are several ways of accomplishing this. Probably the best plan, where it is practicable, is to to haul the manure direct to the land and plow in. Again, especially with horse manure, etc., it is good to allow the manure to remain The methods of the British in the stable, using plenty of suffragists are to be adopted in litter. stored in it until ready for use. There is one precaution that must be observed when the shed droppings from the horses predominate. Under these circumstances, the manure is apt to heat. This should be avoided by dampening it. Commercial fertilizers do not add vegetable matter, do not start soil fermentation, and do not correct mechanical defects of the soil. A ton of well-preserved manure from a well-fed horse contains about 9.8 pounds of nitrogen 5.2 pounds of phosphoric acid, 9.6 pounds of potashplant food that would cost $2.21 bought as commercial fertilizer. A horse weighing one thousand pounds will produce about twelve tons of manure per year, and this manure is consequently worth 7.6c per day, or about $27 per year. The manure from the average cow is worth 6.5c per day or $23.20 per year. Have you a pain-of any kind, anywhere? About Pistol "Toting."

Don Marquis, in Uncle Remus's-The Home Mag-

A reader takes exception to a recent article in which "packing a gun"-or "toting a pistol", if you please—is condemned, as habit that fosters homicides. "In many parts of the South," writes our correspondent, "our women are not safe from attack on the part of criminal negroes, unless there are firearms about the house. There have been numerous cases where the possession of a pistol, and a knowledge of how to use it, has saved a woman from a fate worse than death."

The point is well taken, and gets at the crux of a situation. which might have been more thoroughly discussed in article mentioned.

The practice condemned is not that of possessing a pistol in the home, or of carrying one abroad when there is likely to be real necessity for its use, as sometimes happens; but the very prevalent habit of carrying revolvers at such times and under such circumstances that they are not at all necessary.

In the majority of cases they are carried rather in the foolish hope that there will be some occasion or excuse for their display or use than because of any real danger which exists-in a silly vanity, which is nonetheless dangerous because of its silliness. When a couple of deluded creatures who share this sensationalism have a falling out, over some very trivial matter-as frequently happens-their first thought not to fight it out with their consulted by a patient is, fists, but to pull a gun and kill. Every village and town in the knows that ninty-eight per cent South has its quota of youths of this description; not as a rule 'bad'' boys in any general sense, but lacking in a sense of values. The village quarrel-which started over nothing important, and would naturally end in a rough and tumble fight, if the brawlers were not armed-frequently winds up with a fatal shooting simply because the brawlers happen to have the pistols with them, The matter mentioned by our correspendent is in a different category altogether. Not only is the proper place of the pistol in the home-since its presence there implies that it is to be used for purposes of legitimate defense -but the acquisition of pistols for such purposes is to be advised, instead of merely excused. Every man should see that there is one in his home, and that his wife and daughters know how to use it quickly and effectively. What our correspondent says about the necessity for their use in this way is, unfortunately, only too true, in many parts of the South; and an effective firearm, simple in mechanism, should be in every home.

A CAPE FEAR SUGGESTION.

Two Negroes Catch a Fish Weighing 300 Pounds.

The largest sturgeon caught on the Cape Fear river in many months is reported to have been successfully landed yesterday after a struggle in which he came near getting away from two colored fishermen, Abe Wright and his son, near Big Island, ten miles down the river.

The sturgeon was caught in the nets of the Union Fish Company. by fishermen working in their interests, later brought to the city and by actual weight is said to have tipped the beam for 300 pounds. The big fish in making his way up the river went through several shad nets, these being not strong enough to hold him. When he became entangled in the Union Fish Company's net, which was very well filled, fishermen near at hand were ready to land him, and after a struggle of some time four men got him into the boat. This one is known as of the cow sturgeon species of fish.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION.

Advice Against the Use of Harsh Purgatives and Physics.

A doctor's first question when your bowels regular?" of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver. This condition poisons the system with noxious gases and waste matter which naturally accumlates and which must be removed through the bowels before health can be restored.

Salts, ordinary pills and cathartics may be truly likened to dynamite. Through their harsh, irritating action they force a passage through the bowels, causing pain and damage to the delicate intestinal structure which weakens the whole system, and at best only produces temporary relief. The repeated use of such treatments cause chronic irritation of the stomach and bowels, hardens their tissues, deadens their nerves, stiffens their muscles and generally brings about an injurious habit which sometimes has fatal results.

We have a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of its great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when it fails to produce entire satisfaction. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies. We urge you to try them at our entire risk.

Rexall Orderlies are very pleasant to take, they act quietly and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausez, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effect, and they may be taken at any time without any inconvenience.

Rexall Orderlies overcome the drugging habit and cure constipation and all similar ailments, wheter acute or chronic. They are espically good for children. weak persons or old folks. Price, 36 tablets, 25c., and 12 tablets, 10c. W. A. Leslie, Morganton, N. C.
