Catawba.

Newton Enterprise, July 22nd.

Farmers are laying by their crops. On account of the lateness of the season, work is continuing later up into the summer than usual. Some will continue plowing cotton until the first of August.

During the storm last Friday afternoon Mrs. Andy Helton, daughter of Mr. George Bolick, was struck by lightning. For awhile it was feared that she was fatally injured, but by night her pulse had become strong, and she has fully recovered.

Last Friday afternoon, there was the severest rain and wind storm in Newton, we have had this summer. It was still worse up around the depot and in North Newton, where fruit trees and small out buildings were blown down. In Poplar hollow, just west of the depot, eight large trees were blown down.

Mr. Joe Whitener, one of the good farmers of the southern part of the county, from two and three-fourths acres raised this year 84 1-2 bushels of wheat, an average of 30 3-4 bushels to the acre. This shows that a good yield of wheat can still be expected in Catawba when the work is well done in preparing the land and sowing it. His entire crop was 383 bushels.

Mr. Claude Keever qualified Tuesday as administrator of his brother Guy Keever, who was killed by a railroad watchman a few weeks ago in Tennessee. A case for damages against the railroad will soon be started by Mr. W. A. Self, his attorney, either in Tennessee or North Carolina. The criminal case will be tried in September in Nashville, in which Mr. Self will appear in connection with Attorney General McCarn, who convicted the Coopers for the murder of Senator Carmack.

Mr. Jacob S. Little, of Union county, died at the Presbyterian hospital in Charlotte last Friday night. His son, Dr. J. B. Little, was called to his bedside the day before. He was with him when he died and accompanied the remains to the old home, where he was buried in the family burying ground, with Masonic honors, Sunday. From the Charlotte Chronicle we copy the following: "Mr. Little was perhaps the oldest rural free delivery carrier in the United States. He was 79 years of age and was the first man to deliver mail on a country route in Union county."

Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops chronic coughs that weaken the constitution and develop into consumption, but heals and strengthens the lungs. It affords comfort and relief in the worst cases of chronic bronchitis, asthma, hay fever and lung trouble. W. A. Leslie.

Water at Fifty Cents a Pint.

Lumberton Robinsonian.

Some of the people who went to Wilmington on the excursion from Lumberton last Wednesday stacked up against a little deal which taught them a new wrinkle. Just before the train pulled out of Wilmington on the return trip a man with a little satchel sifted in among the excursionists and pretty soon it was "norated" around that he had some of the juice. He found purchasers, how many has not been learned, but it is known that at least one man bought a pint bottle of the stuff, paying therefor 50 cents, and another purchased four pint bottles, giving $2 in exchange. After the train pulled out these purchasers thought they would feel better with a drink under their shirt so they proceeded to back off into a corner where they might crook the arm unseen of curious eyes, and lo! it was water! "Only this and nothing more." Water at 50 cents per. They said it was very good water though.

If people with symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble could realize their danger they would without loss of time commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. This great remedy stops the pain and irregularities, strengthens and builds up these organs and there is no danger of Bright's disease or other serious disorder. Do not disregard the early symptoms. W. A. Leslie.

McDowell.

Marion Democrat, July 22nd.

Nebo High School opens August 9, and the prospects are fine for a large attendance.

Miss Lizzie Perkins, of Morganton, was the guest of Miss Jessie Ratliff last week.

Zeb Pyatt, of the Goldsboro Headlight, was a visitor here Monday. He was called home by the illness of his mother at Nebo.

D. N. London, who underwent an operation at the Rutherfordton Hospital some time ago, returned home last week and is convalescent.

Quite a number of Marion people are going to Niagara Falls on the special train August 2nd. Among those who have already decided to go are Mrs. J. L. C. Bird, Miss Ellen Crawford and Jessie Ratliff, Rev. H. H. Jordan, Prof. D. F. Giles and Clifford McCall.

There has been prepared and issued by the corporation commission, according to information from Raleigh, an order for the Southern and Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railroads to make adequate freight and passenger connections for transfer at Marion, thus terminating a long hard fight.

The Asheville Gazette-News says that "Jack Bryson, an alleged jail breaker from McDowell county, was arrested Saturday night at Arden by Deputy Sheriff Lee and the authorities of McDowell were notified." Bryson was arrested and locked up at Old Fort some time ago for an assault upon another negro. During the night he set fire to the calaboose and burned out and escaped. He was brought here and placed in jail Sunday. At a hearing during the week he was bound over to court on the charge of assault and burning out of the calaboose.

Old Fort correspondence: J. R. Lavender, son of George Lavender, shot and killed himself near his home on Crooked Creek last Friday. Mr. Lavender was about twenty-two years of age. Friday morning he told his little sister and brother he was going hunting, took his gun and started off. Some time after they heard the report of his gun but thought nothing of it at the time. When night came, however, and he still had not returned they began to get alarmed, and getting a party of men went to search for him. He was found about daylight next morning in an ivy thicket right near his home. All evidence points to suicide. He had broken off the end of a limb on a bush, cocked his gun, and then placing it over the limb and pulling the trigger, he sent his soul out into the Great Beyond. No reason for this insane act could be found.

If you have pains in the back, weak back, or any other indication of a weakened or disordered condition of the kidneys or bladder, you should get DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills right away when you experience the least sign of kidney or bladder complaints, but be sure that you get DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. We know what they will do for you, and if you will send your name to E. C. Dewitt & Co., Chicago, you will receive a free trial box of these kidney and bladder pills. They are sold here by Leslie's Drug Store.

Congressmen Play Ball

A team of democratic congressmen played a republican team in Washington the other day and victory perched on the banners of the democrats. They won by a score of 26 to 16. The democrats got 23 hits, the republicans 20, the latter made 9 errors and the democrats 5. Congressman Webb, of this district, pitched the game for the democrats.

Mr. Larkin Greer, son of Mr. Newton Greer, after eating his supper on the evening of the 10th inst., died suddenly. He was a consistent member of the Baptist church, 32 years of age, and had many friends. He leaves no family. His home was at Triplett.

The citizens of Todd and surrounding country had a patriotic (Fourth of July deferred) meeting on last Saturday, and we learn that the occasion was a great success. An Odd Fellows' picnic was spread, speeches delivered and music dispensed by the Walnut Grove band.

Caldwell.

Lenoir Topic, July 21st.

The Blowing Rock travel improves as the weather grows warmer.

The blackberry crop, which promised to be the largest in years, has been greatly reduced by the extreme wet weather.

Mr. O. P. Lutz took his wife to Statesville last Thursday for treatment in Dr. Long's sanatorium. She underwent an operation Saturday and got through with it splendidly.

Charley Moore, aged about 14 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Moore, died Monday evening at the home of his parents on upper Mulberry and was buried at the old Mulberry church yesterday.

The firm name of the Henkel Live Stock Co., doing business in Lenoir and Hickory, was yesterday changed to the Henkel Horse & Mule Company. The Henkel Live Stock Company will remain the same at Statesville and Salisbury.

Lenoir News, July 22nd.

Miss Gertrude Dula, of Old Fort and her sister Miss Lenoir Dula, of Chicago, daughters of the old Confederate veteran, A. J. Dula, of Old Fort, who have been visiting their brother and sister and other relatives in Lenoir, left Tuesday for Morganton, where they will visit another brother for a few days and will then return to Old Fort.

Alaska is not only a mining, but one of the richest agricultural districts in North America, according to Judge Joseph Nathan Lee, of Portland, Ore., who is here. "Everybody thinks that Alaska is an icy desert," said the judge, "but as a matter of fact in the northern part of Alaska, where the day is 20 hours long, all kinds of vegetables and grain will grow, and that in much shorter time than in the States."

John Clarke, who is employed in the News office, was badly stunned by a blow on the head Tuesday afternoon. He had gone to "Uncle" Phillip Bostic's lemonade stand, and while there a little difficulty arose between him and a colored boy, Bud Johnson, who struck young Clarke on the head with a stick. The blow was a severe one and came near being very serious, as the stick was fully five feet long and nearly two inches square and was broken in four pieces by the blow. The negro was arrested and had a hearing before the Mayor Wednesday and was placed in jail in default of a $300 bond. Young Clarke is getting along all right, and while he has a black eye and bruised face, his injury is not serious.

Watauga.

Boone Democrat, July 22nd.

The farmers are now putting in full time hay harvesting and the weather is splendid.

It is indeed gratifying that flour has tumbled to the tune of 50 cents on the hundred. Don't you hope it will tumble some more?

The approach of the mail from Blowing Rock is now heralded by long-drawn-out blasts from a bugle in the hands of the trusty carrier.

Frost was seen on timber in this community on Tuesday morning, the 20th inst. Not in any very great quantity, of course, but it was frost just the same.

Mrs. Allen Greer, of Norris, after a long illness, died at her home Monday morning and was buried the following day. We are told that she was a most excellent lady, and her departure will be greatly deplored.

The "Ups and Downs" of a Mountain Party—A Beautiful Story of a Beautiful Country.

Correspondence of The News-Herald.

We have just visited a portion of Western North Carolina "Where every prospect pleases And only man is vile." The region is one of great local interest, a new-old country, full of transcendent beauty, about whose hills are woven many a romantic tale and historic legend. Yes, there is mystery in these mountains and relics of a prehistoric people who climbed up and down these hills before the war-like Cherokee.

The red man is fast disappearing but his name is on the waters which is almost as musical as the stream that bears it.

As you speed along that wonderfully built C. C. & O. R. R. you will not only see wonderful feats performed by modern engineering skill but peak after peak breaks into view, rising to majestic heights and clothed to their very summits with a dense, dark green foliage.

In rapid succession we passed many lovely glens and fertile clearings, surrounded by high wooded ridges and dense forests. Everywhere were precipitous cliffs, wooded summits and dark ravines. Here, too, ever and anon, we see the lovely farms so vividly pictured by Craddock in his story, "The Prophet of the Smoky Mountains."

When you gaze on the glory of these hills and the diversity of scenery you will be forced to admit like the Queen of Sheba that "the half has never been told," and, out of the fullness of your heart you will cry, "To Him be all praise for 'The Land of the Sky.'"

Our party of four consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Brinkley, Miss Brinkley and the writer of this article.

The little station of Altapass was our first stopping place. Mr. Brinkley was going out to see a man on business, some miles away. He gave us the option of staying at Altapass or taking the tramp with him. (There were no horses to be gotten there.) Since we were out sight-seeing we all with one accord agreed to take the trip. We followed the railroad for some distance, walking through one of the twenty-two tunnels on this road. These tunnels within themselves are things of beauty and interest and as cool as a refrigerator. So high are they that while passing through them on the cars you do not have to close your window, suffering no inconvenience from smoke or sulphur fumes. These tunnels are twenty-two and a half feet high. While standing on the rear of the car one can look back through three consecutive tunnels at once.

Leaving the railroad we walked through the country. I think we must have gone up Rhododendron avenue, for on either side was a dense growth of this wonderful, beautiful flower whose blooms vary from a pure white to a deep blushing pink. To those who have never seen this flower it is beautiful in the extreme. The Kalmia, named in honor of the Swedish botanist, Peter Kalm, grows in great profusion. Here it is often miscalled mountain ivy.

We walked about three miles, when, after many doubts and fears, we found the place we were hunting. It was a large two-story building with the prettiest gable and lawn surrounding it, imaginable. Foot-sore and weary we drew a sigh of relief as we stood upon the porch awaiting an answer to the doorbell.

After the business transaction was over Mr. Brinkley asked if we might not stay there for the night. The old gentleman called for his daughter. She was a nice looking, educated woman, but as cold as the Alps, for without one tinge of regret she said it would be impossible—that they never took in "travel-

PROPER TREATMENT FOR DYS-ENTERY AND DIARRHOEA.

The great mortality from dysentery and diarrhoea is due to a lack of proper treatment at the first stages of the disease. It has been in use for many years and has always met with unvarying success. For sale by all druggists.

ers' but that we might find a resting place at the next neighbor's.

The sun was almost setting and we were worn out, but when necessity forces us we can do some strange things, so we "folded our tents like the Arabs and silently crept away."

Finally we came to the "next neighbor's." It was dark now. The little stars came out and were smiling sympathetically at us when at last our host came from his garden away up on the hillside where he had been working. He said he seldom turned strangers out but that it would be impossible to let us stay that night. We could make no further, so we asked if he would rent us his wagon and mules. They were tired and had had no supper, he said, and that after all, there was no one to drive for us. The writer had almost decided that "the milk of human kindness had turned to whey" when "mirable dictu," a man who had come over for his mail—a man whom we had not asked, volunteered to become our driver! Then the hard-hearted old man, seeing the beauty of kindness and (I suppose) after remembering that "one touch of Nature makes the whole world kin," became more humane, and, finally, after much begging, let us have his team. We reached the next house, when "horrible dictu," the landlord was away and his wife was afraid to take in strangers. We prevailed on our kind driver to take us on to Spruce Pine Hotel, where we knew we would be taken in.

It was after ten when we arrived and to our amazement the proprietor said he could not accommodate us—that his hotel was full. But when our need is greatest God's help is nearest, for by some mysterious providence the President of Davidson was in the office and generously offered to sit up and give us his room! The gruff old proprietor, seeing the intrinsic value and beauty of kindness became kinder, too, and took us in. He fixed up some rooms, so the President of Davidson was saved from sitting up and we all found rest.

Surely none of these inhospitable people has ever read the thirteenth chapter of Hebrews and knows not how the dear God tells us to treat strangers. The next morning the President of Davidson went back to civilization, and as he left we realized more fully than ever that kindness enhances one's personality more than a tiara of diamonds.

After that memorable and eventful night our trip was full of interest, instruction, beauty and pleasure. The next day we climbed a great big hill—called Iowa—a spur of Yellow Mountain. As I sat upon the summit of that great big hill I seemed closer to Nature than I had ever been before, and thus closer to God. It seemed that I could feel my soul expand and out of the bottom of my heart I cried,

"The world is full of so many wonderful things I wish I were as happy as kings." Afar, in the distance, we could see the sovereign Mount Mitchell. As I stood and gazed at this Monarch of the East I could not help but think of the great man, who, while engaged in measuring its altitude, lost his life by slipping into a dark ravine two hundred feet below. In losing his life he gave to this hill an immortal name and a glory that will not fade.

There on that lofty mountain (6,711 feet above the sea) lie the remains of Professor Elisha Mitchell of the University of North Carolina. This noble monument will stand throughout the ages as a monument to his useful life, albeit a bronze monument was erected over his grave in 1888.

It takes a child from the low lands to fully realize the awful bigness and grandeur of these hills of God. The Carolina Clinchfield and Ohio Railroad is two hundred and forty miles long, costing twenty-eight millions. It is said to be the best constructed railroad in the United States.

to Tocene. We remained here one night and one day and after having one of the most wonderful experiences outside of a story-book we came back to Glen Alpine.

"Things seen are mightier than things heard," so to those seeking a place to spend their vacation I recommend the above.

I am glad that this State of wonderful resources, with such a diversity of climate, such pure water and exhilarating air was once a part of my beloved South Carolina.

The longer I stay in the "Old Ngrth State" the more I wander over this beautiful Sapphire Country, the more fully I realize how well it deserves the high place it holds amid the "Empire of the South."

SEES MOTHER GROW YOUNG.

"It would be hard to overstate the wonderful change in my mother since she began to use Electric Bitters," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick of Danforth, N. C. "I know Doan's Kidney Pills really to be growing young again. She suffered untold misery from dyspepsia for 20 years. At last she could neither eat nor sleep. Doctors gave her up and all remedies failed till Electric Bitters worked such wonders for her health." They invigorate all vital organs, cure Liver and Kidney troubles, induce sleep, impart strength and appetite. Only 50c at W. A. Leslie's.

HOME ENDORSEMENT.

Hundreds of Morganton Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Morganton people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Morganton reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far away places. Read the following:

James C. Cloer, Lenoir St., Morganton, N. C., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and the results were so satisfactory that I have no hesitation in recommending them to others. Some months ago I began to suffer from a soreness across my kidneys and at times the kidney secretions were very unnatural. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and used them in accordance with the directions. In a short time I felt a great deal better and continued taking them until I was rid of every symptom of my trouble. I know Doan's Kidney Pills are a reliable kidney remedy and can speak of them in the highest terms."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Southern Improving Track Between Salisbury and Hickory.

Asheville Citizen.

The Southern railway is repairing the track between Salisbury and Hickory. The track was in very poor condition the early part of the summer but owing to the heavy rainfall the company decided to delay the extensive repairs which include a practical rebuilding of the track, until the weather changed.

The maintenance department put a large force of men at work within the past two weeks and the work is progressing rapidly. The track will be entirely rebuilt and an eighty-pound rail laid the entire length of the division between these two cities. New ties are being put in as well as a new ballast. The railway company expect to make similar improvements on different parts of the system.
