SENATOR TAYLOR TO THE BOYS.

Senator Robert L. Taylor in the Taylor-Trotwood

MY DEAR CHUMS: The happiest period of human life is youth, and the happiest specimen of youth is a big, healthy, awkward, watery-jointed, rollicking, frolicking boy, with his heart full of dreams, and his head full of schemes, and his pockets full of apples and things. He is a bouncing laugh and a bounding yell. He is the beloved bandit of every mother's heart and the delightful outlaw of every old daddy's home.

What cares he for painted wall, and garnished rooms, and velvet rugs, and pictured tapestries, and pastels, and water colors, and crayons in frames of gilt and gold? What cares he for frescoed halls, and polished floors, and stairways of mahogany? What cares he for all the chandeliers that shine, so he has liberty to romp on the green carpets of the meadows and hills, under heaven's flaming chandelier, and a place to sleep in the lumber room, among the cobwebs and old, dusty trunks, where his rest is as sweet as though he were pillowed on the couch of a king, with silken curtains drawn about him? What cares he for champagne and sherry, if he can lie down and drink from the bubbling spring, or hear the corks of laughter pop, and listen to the wild melodies of nature's songs that sparkle in his soul? What cares he for "consomme," so he can get plenty of soup? What cares he for "surloin," so he has beef to eat? What cares he for "roast prairie chicken," so he gets chicken? What cares he for all the "a las" and "de las" and "au jus" and "up-to-date menu?" They are "vanity and vexation of spirit" to him, in comparison with a good old-fashioned, well-cooked, big-dish home dinner, steaming like an engine, and tempting his appetite with the mingling aromas of boiled cabbage and stewed turnips, and mashed potatoes, and smoking biscuits, and corn dodgers dodging behind the golden battlements of fresh country butter, with big white pitchers sweating on the outside of cold buttermilk, and pumpkin pies laughing all over the table.

If I wish to find a sure enough boy, I do not search for him in the parlor, but in the pantry. I do not expect to find him in the drawing-room, but in the dining-room. He does not lurk in the library, but in the back yard with his game chickens and white rabbits and Billy goats, or in the fields, shouting and shooting in the glorious company of his faithful dogs. The reason is that a boy loves his stomach better than poems and pictures; he loves nature better than art. The truth is, he is nature's child; and the child loves to play close to the warm, throbbing heart of his mother.

Nature furnishes him mud puddles to wade in, and swimming holes to swim in, and stones to throw, and birds to throw at, and hills to coast on, and streams to fish in, and sunshine to warm in, and shade to cool in, and fruits and berries of every kind to eat, and "Molly Cottontails" to hunt, and a thousand other joys which bless his life.

But soon the hour comes when nature must wean her boy, and lead him out of her nursery into the sweet gardens of fancy and the green fields of poetry, which lie on the frontier of cold facts—the border land of reality. To prepare him for his future career, she first touches his vocal cords and changes his voice from the tone of the life to the mellifluous notes of a bass viol, and puts a little hair on his upper lip, and whispers one word in his heart, which, in the twinkling of an eye, changes his dreams and his destiny. That word is "love."

What a world of beauty it unfolds to him! And how sudden is his transition from the mud puddle to the bath tub; from the "Molly Cottontail" to the "Molly Curley-head"; from frolics in the haymow to meditation among the buttercups and clover blossoms; from yells to love songs; from unrestrained laughter to sickly smiles; from text-books to novels; from novels to the opera; from the opera to strolls in the moonlight; and from the moonlight to lamplight in the parlor, where he sits behind closed doors in executive session, and holds her hand for an hour and never says a word!

The world is a bouquet of flowers to the boy whose heart is full of love.

When I was a gay country boy in my jeans and my teens, I was as green as the green, green grass, and innocent as Mary's little lamb. I had two cronies who were equally as green as I; and we had a right to be green. The fields in which we played together were green, the trees that shaded us were green, the woodlands around us were green, and we were all very fond of turnip greens. But we had seen the sunshine love the green fields into harvests of gold, and kiss the green mountains until they turned purple with joy and pouted their crimson lips to be kissed again; and in our jeans, and amid our greens we sighed for love and kisses.

The sweethearts of our childhood, like little birds, had long since flown from the mountains to live in a neighboring city, and the report came to us like an echo from paradise that they still remembered us, and loved us, and wished that we might come. So, with butternut suits, and squeaking boots, and our little wool hats with brims pushed up in front, we boarded the cars; and soon we were primping, and blacking, and brushing, and perspiring in the hotel, within five squares of the founced and powdered enemy. At length an immense bull's eye watch in the trembling hands of one of my comrades announced that the hour for action had arrived, and we reconnoitered the crowded streets, "wondering, fearing, doubting, dreaming dreams no mortal ever dared to dream before." Far out in the country from whence we had come there was no such a thing as a doornail, and suddenly there was a ping, as of some one loudly rapping, rapping hard upon the door; and "the silken, sad, uncertain rustling" of our sweethearts' skirts within "thrilled us, filled us with fantastic terrors" we had never felt before. Our hearts leaped to our throats, and the heavy paneled oak door swung back on noiseless hinges, and the "century reeled" when we peered in the hall under the pat into execution on boards and practiced bows. Then there was a rush for three chairs in the farthest corner of the parlor, into which we dropped with a thud, blushing and perspiring in front of three sofas in the open room, which were then occupied by three nice snippy and skirted dreams of beauty who beckoned and per-tuaded and coaxed us to come across; and we answered the challenges with more blushes and more grins and perspiration. The cause of our dreadful embarrassment was our appalling discovery that our sweethearts had evolved into cultured and refined young society ladies, with not a single trace of the country girls we used to know.

BLIND.

Mrs. Edie Tiler, Ravens, Tex., writes: "I was blind as a bat for several years. My eyes were so sore that I could not see. I tried many remedies, but nothing helped. I then tried Scott's Emulsion and in a few days my eyes were restored. It is all I need now and will keep them good." 25 cents a tube, druggists.

Sanitary Sunday.

To the Editor of The News-Herald:

"Sanitary Sunday" is announced by the tuberculosis and health authorities for Sunday, November 28th. Dr. Charles A. Julian, Assistant Secretary for tuberculosis for the State Board of Health, has issued the following open letter to the churches and church people of North Carolina:

There is now being conducted a campaign of education for the study and prevention of tuberculosis in this State. Scientists now believe that the disease can be checked, and not only checked but obliterated and effaced from the earth, if a well organized attempt is made in the direction of assistance, and with keen sighted educational measure and supervision. But the fact remains that this battle against disease must be perpetuated by the people. Its success depends upon the organization of a fighting force in every community devoted to its object and inspired to a constant and unabated activity. Tuberculosis is a preventable disease and must be prevented. Tuberculosis kills more people and costs more money than all other communicable diseases combined. But it will take a combined effort on the part of the entire people to prevent it. This campaign of tuberculosis is clearing up the whole local health situation. We cannot get control of tuberculosis without making it practically impossible for any of the filth or needless diseases to exist. In getting rid of this disease we will raise the whole standard of living for the average people. The prevention of the disease, rather than its cure, the removal of the causes and conditions conducive to diseases is a primary object of this effort.

We would like this information to be brought to the attention of the ministers of North Carolina in view of a request to make Sunday, November 28th, a sanitary Sabbath. On that day we hope that every minister in the State will preach a special health sermon, explain the little Red Cross Christmas stamp and its mission, explain the fight against diseases, explain the warfare against consumption and appeal to the people to save themselves. We desire the service of the minister for our first "sanitary Sabbath." Thomasville, N. C. Nov. 8, 1909.

A SCALED BOY'S SHRIEKS horrified his grandmother, Mrs. Maria Taylor, of Nebo, Ky., who writes that, when she thought he would die, Buckle's Arnica Salve wholly cured him. Infallible for Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Corns, Wounds, Bruises, Cures Fever-Sores, Boils, Skin Eruptions, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Moon Routs, Piles. 25c. at W. A. Leslie's.

Railroad tracks are private property and persons who walk on them are trespassers. While it might be too radical a departure to make track-walking an offence, the law should certainly be changed so that persons injured while walking on the tracks could not recover damages. As it is now, trespassers walk on the railroad tracks, in some cases lie down on them and go to sleep, and if they are killed or injured the road—in most cases—has to pay damages. This is the rankest sort of injustice, but it is a custom which it will be hard to change.—Statesville Landmark.

If you have noticed symptoms of kidney trouble, do not delay in taking the most reliable and dependable remedy possible, such as DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. These wonderful pills are being used with great satisfaction by thousands of people. Try DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills to-day. Sold by all druggists.

Hadley's Comet Inhabited. The Augusta Herald cannot see why Hadley's comet, now nearing the earth on its periodical visit after 76 years, should not be inhabited by intelligent beings. "Of course, if the planet is inhabited," continues the Herald, "the people on it will be able to see the earth. The great Creator of the universe did not create the heavenly bodies to serve no purpose except to swing around in space. He made the earth to be the habitation of man, and reason teaches us that other planets, stars and comets are likewise the dwelling places of intelligent beings."

FOR COLIC or any trouble Dr. Bell's Antipneumonic Remedy, relieves almost instantly. Also good for external pains.

North Carolina's school fund for the present year is $3,294,231, a gain over that of last year of $413,013. This is the State fund, and the amount raised by local taxation has a like satisfactory result. The school funds of the State are worthily being put into execution on boards and practiced bows. Then there was a rush for three chairs in the farthest corner of the parlor, into which we dropped with a thud, blushing and perspiring in front of three sofas in the open room, which were then occupied by three nice snippy and skirted dreams of beauty who beckoned and per-tuaded and coaxed us to come across; and we answered the challenges with more blushes and more grins and perspiration. The cause of our dreadful embarrassment was our appalling discovery that our sweethearts had evolved into cultured and refined young society ladies, with not a single trace of the country girls we used to know.

GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN AND GROWN FOLKS TOO.

"We could hardly do without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Mrs. Flora De-pain of Boyd, Ky. "It cured my child's cough and I have since used it for all my children's coughs. It is the best I have ever used." 25 cents a tube, druggists.

Electric Lighted Day Coaches on the Southern.

Salisbury Post.

Wednesday the Southern railway placed on its road between Goldsboro and Greensboro the first electric-lighted day coach ever operated in North Carolina. It is one of the handsomest day coaches ever built, and two of this type have been assigned to trains Nos. 21 and 22 between these points, the cars having been built by the Pullman Company for the Southern railway.

The cars are of a steel construction and of mahogany wood work. They are brilliantly lighted by electricity, the current for lighting being generated by the car as it runs, and storage batteries that will carry the lights for 15 hours while the car is not moving. These cars each have a capacity for 85 passengers.

The Pennsylvania railroad and New York Central lines have also received a few of this style cars, but these are the first in the South, and greatly improve the service on these trains.

[Some of these cars have been in use on the Western division of the Southern for two weeks.—Statesville Landmark.]

Four Fires in a Night in Rutherford County.

Rutherford Dispatch, 5th, to Charlotte Observer.

Four very disastrous fires occurred in different sections of this county last night, destroying much property. The sawmill and cotton gin house of Mr. B. E. Edwards, of Ellenboro, together with the contents, a large amount of cotton seed and a car load of lumber that had been dressed and loaded on the side tracks ready for shipment, were all totally destroyed. Mr. Edwards, it is said, had no insurance. He carried insurance up to a short time ago, but had let it run out. His loss is something over $7,000.

Mr. John R. Washburn, a prosperous Broad river merchant and farmer, was also a sufferer from the same cause. His double cribs, containing 200 bushels of corn, 75 bushels of oats, and a bale of cotton stored under a shed attached to the cribs, were all consumed by flames. The cause of the fire is not known.

It is also reported that the Pine Knob Baptist church and the White school house in the upper part of the county were also burned last night.

YOUNG GIRLS ARE VICTIMS of headache, as well as older women, but all get quick relief and prompt cure from Dr. King's New Life Pills, the world's best remedy for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood, and strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 25c. at W. A. Leslie's.
