Fo the Editor of The News-Herald:

I notice in your last issue a double-leaded a tiele sppealing for a $200,000 bond issue for good roads in Burke and urging that it be kept free of politics.

Mr. Editor, your people must know that a county, like a man, or a tree, either advances in growth, health and strength or reverses this process by declining gradually into decay. Nothing in creation stands still. It is with your people, as with all of us, a case of "Shoot Luke or give up the gun!"

Burke is one of the historical counties of North Carolina. In all past times it has been a leader. I have not space to recall the many proofs for this statement-proofs which stir the blood and excite a fine pride in all capable of being moved by such associations. Apart, however, from this, the cold economy of the question should loosen the tightest purse-string among you, and enlist the aid of every one who produces anything for sale or handles in any manner what is produced by others. If example were needed, Charlotte and Mecklenburg county stands out clear and Unquestionably, you have what is too common in the State-rediculously low assessments of property, and what to the vows of his order. The is inseparably connected with such a system, or rather want of system, grossly unfair levies, so that, too often it is the man, and not the land, that is taxed.

The result is, that you are held out to the world as poor. when you are really rich in all the elements of wealth, ward those great bodies of which whether use is made of them or not, and there is a struggle among tax-payers to appear as poor as possible, hoping in the meanwhile that no neighbor has distanced him in that unseemly race.

I apprehend that the existence of this condition will inhyer fool talk jest scares people action, lifted the veil from the directly operate against your bond issue—certainly it will an' they haint nuthin' in hit. Eat testimony which had been put affect some, whose aid you should have to win.

ship in fraternal orders promotes good citizenship, and good citizenship promotes public welfare. The rigidity with which the laws of the various organizations are enforced is a fitting training for the proper observance of the civil laws. It is only necessary to look at the quality of the membership in the various orders to appreciate the fact that it is composed, as a rule, of the highest strata of civilization and advanced thought. Ministers of the gospel, physicians, jurists of the highest standing, literary men, merchants in race, every walk of life is represented.

The fraternal spirit and the brotherly love taught by these societies cannot fail to foster the spirit of humanity in its highest sense. It is rarely that one meets with a case where a man is false helping hand of charity is always open to the suffering brother. No appeal for assistance ever falls on deaf ears.
