STANDARD OIL CO. IN COURT.

Arraigned in Raleigh For Violations of the State Anti-Trust Law.

The Standard Oil Company is to come before the courts of North Carolina on the charge of violating the anti-trust law passed by the General Assembly of 1907. Warrants were sworn out against the company yesterday because of alleged trust methods in dealing with competition in Raleigh by a successive lowering of prices with the purpose of driving out or breaking up competition.

Warrants against the company were served upon Mr. C. H. Wiggins, local representative of the Standard Oil Company, the warrants being issued at the instance of Mr. Walter Clark, Jr., city attorney, and the case made returnable before Police Justice Stronach on Thursday morning. The hearing at that time is to be on evidence produced by City Attorney Clark, who declares that from his investigations, made with difficulty at his personal expense, because of defects in the law, that he has become convinced that the Standard Oil Company has flagrantly violated the State anti-trust law and that he trusts and hopes to be able to produce evidence to convict it legally for its wrong doing.

The matter of the transactions of the Standard Oil Company in Raleigh had been called to the attention of the city attorney by private parties and by Attorney General Bickett. City Attorney Clark by his own investigations found such a state of facts to exist that he had warrants issued against the Standard Oil Company for violations of the State anti-trust law of 1907. In the matter there will be heard the reasons which have induced the Standard Oil Company to reduce its prices for oil in the present year from 11 1/2 cents to 7 1/2 cents a gallon in Raleigh, while maintaining a higher price at other places, the fact of the competition of the Indian Oil Company in Raleigh to be set out in the matter.

The Test of Woman Suffrage in Colorado.

Four women have been elected to the Legislature of Colorado. This fact is enlarged upon in the dispatches as something worthy of special attention. It is a striking piece of news, for, although women have the full suffrage in Colorado and are eligible to all offices, they have held comparatively few. It has grown to be the custom in Colorado, Idaho and Wyoming, where women vote, to award them a clerkship here and there or to allow them to run for superintendent of schools, but real political power has been denied them.

The test of the value of woman's suffrage, it is quite evident, is not in little administrative offices, which one sex can take care of as well as another, but in the large field of constructive legislation. It has been often remarked that there was little evidence that woman's suffrage had given Colorado a better code of laws than other States enjoy. Perhaps this was because women did not participate as actively in politics as their voting privilege permitted. Perhaps it was because they have not developed the constructive faculty. The election and service of four women will not be a complete test, but it should do something to throw light on the problem.

THE STATE VOTE CANVASSED.

Democratic Majority 46,514—Total Vote Less Than Two Years Ago.

The State board of canvassers Saturday completed the canvass of the vote cast at the election November 8th. In the calculation of the returns, says the Raleigh News and Observer, the Democratic majority in North Carolina, on the basis of the vote for State Auditor, was 46,514, and this is about the average figure for the majorities of the other State officers and the judges. There was no opposition vote to H. W. Whedbee, Democratic candidate for Superior Court judge, and he received a total of 140,573. In the election of Judge R. B. Peebles, of the second district, there were no tickets for his Republican opponent, Edward T. Snipes, in many of the precincts, and his majority is 60,435. The total vote for Judge Peebles, however, was a few hundred less than that cast for some of the other candidates, while he received more than others. The total vote cast for Judge Cooke, for instance, was 139,785—the lowest vote cast for the Democratic candidates—while Judge W. J. Adams received 140,888, this being the highest vote. The others ranged along from 140,266 for Peebles to 140,548 for Walker for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

The Democratic majority for Brown for corporation commissioner is 46,446 and the majority for Lee for corporation commissioner is 46,388. Walter Clark, for Chief Justice Supreme Court, has a majority of 46,548 over T. T. Hicks; Platt D. Walker, Associate Justice, has 46,747 over Timberlake, while W. R. Allen has 46,766 over A. L. Coble. Of the Republican candidates the candidate for Auditor—J. Q. A. Wood—received 94,017 votes—the largest cast for any Republican candidate. Judge Coble received 93,747. The vote for the other candidates for Supreme Court judges was very near the same—93,779 for Hicks and Timberlake being the highest. The total vote cast is estimated as follows: Democrats, 140,531; Republicans, 94,017; total, 234,548. Two years ago the vote was Democrats, 145,102; Republicans, 107,760; total, 252,862. This shows, as against two years ago, a Democratic decrease of 4,571 and a Republican decrease of 13,743.

What the Governor of North Carolina Really Said to the Governor of South Carolina.

The old story of what the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina is a "fake."

This famous salutation of friends has been exploded. Gov. Martin F. Ansel, of South Carolina, and Gov. W. W. Kitchin, of North Carolina, who attended the governors' conference, met and issued the following joint statement as to the real facts in the case:

"It has been the legend that the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina, 'It is a long time between drinks.' No such statement was ever made. The facts as told by an eye-witness of that famous meeting brand the whole story as a fabrication. This is what really happened: The governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina, 'Remember the fate of Montgomery?'"

"Well, who in the h— was Montgomery?" asked the governor of South Carolina.

"He is the man who died between drinks," replied the governor of North Carolina."

Preacher Embezzled Church Funds and Departed.

Elizabeth City Dispatch, 2nd, to Charlotte Observer.

A sensation was sprung in the third day's session of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in session here, when a letter was read from Rev. L. N. Booth, of Chowan circuit, acknowledging that he had misappropriated missionary and Conference funds amounting to about $200, that he had fled to New Jersey and could not return the money. Charges were immediately preferred and a trial ordered. It is a bad case. Booth, who was highly regarded by his congregation and fellow-members of Conference, is said to have left home four weeks ago, without the knowledge of the presiding elder, on the plea that his invalid wife was in a sanatorium in New Jersey.

His congregation had recently presented him with a fine horse and buggy and a new suit of clothes to wear to Conference. Chowan circuit has paid all financial claims.
