BANK CASHIER SUICIDES.

Luther V. Hart of the Bank of Tarboro Puts Bullet Through Head—Shortage of $50,000—Assistant Cashier, E. B. Hussey, Under Arrest—Suicide Followed Arrival of Examiner.

Tarboro Dispatch, 14th.

Cashier Luther V. Hart, attendant at his duties in the Bank of Tarboro this morning, is this afternoon a corpse from his own volition, having fired a pistol ball through his brain at 1:30. His assistant cashier, E. B. Hussey, is under arrest as being implicated in a shortage in excess of $30,000, discovered to-day, which will probably wreck this banking institution.

Hart left his duties at the bank about 1 o'clock, going home to dinner, went up stairs and while his wife was preparing the noon meal a shot was heard. She rushed up stairs to find her husband in a dying condition, lying upon the bed with blood oozing from a bullet hole through his head.

Facts incident to the suicide were that State Bank Examiner J. K. Doughton made a call at the bank this morning, and following his usual custom was inspecting the business of the bank when Hart left at the regular hour for dinner. Hart while on his way home met business acquaintances and made a number of engagements to meet them in the afternoon. On his arrival at home no one noted anything unusual in his manner, and he was in his room supposedly preparing for dinner when the shot was heard.

He died at four o'clock, never having regained consciousness.

The Brethren After Major Hemphill.

Richmond Dispatch, 14th.

Because of a storm of protests from Methodists all over Virginia, as a result of the editorial assault upon Rev. James Cannon, Jr., temperance leader and at present engaged in developing a big church project at Waynesville, N. C., Maj. J. C. Hemphill, editorial writer for the Richmond Times-Dispatch, has cancelled an engagement to deliver the commencement address at Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Virginia, to-morrow.

The invitation was extended by President Blackwell of the college two weeks ago, and as soon as the major's acceptance became known letters of protest began pouring in upon the college authorities. They declined to take any action, however, deeming such course discourteous. Hearing of the protests, Major Hemphill cancelled the engagement.

House Works—Senators Have Loafed Half Time.

Washington Dispatch to Greensboro News.

Since the special session of the Sixty-second Congress convened April 4, the House has worked nearly three times as many hours as the Senate. These figures show the disposition of the House to meet the issues of the day with remedial legislation and the desire of the Senate to avoid action.

The 92 upper lords of American legislation have put in nine and one-quarter eight-hour days of labor since the session began. In the same time the 392 members of the lower branch of Congress have worked 31½ eight-hour days.

Eight hours is a day's work fixed by law on government jobs. Senators in the present Congress pay little or no attention to their own law in so far as a day's work is concerned. The maximum Senate session is about six hours and the House seldom sits longer.

To be exact, the House and Senate have been in session 59 legislative days ending Saturday. In that time the Senate has met on 27 days and loafed 32 days. In hours and minutes the Senate has been in session 74 hours and 25 minutes and the House has been in session 252 hours and 15 minutes.

Knocked the Lawyer Down.

Lenoir News, 13th.

On last Thursday Messrs. Lawrence Wakefield and A. W. Dula had a misunderstanding over some legal matter and after the exchange of a few words, Dula hit Wakefield with his fist, felling him to the pavement. Wakefield's head struck the pavement with considerable force and fears were entertained for awhile that he was seriously injured, but we are glad to note such is not the case. Dula submitted before Mayor McCall yesterday and was bound to court in the sum of $100.

BIG DEAL AT HICKORY.

Change in Owners of Piedmont Wagon Works, Involving More Than $400,000—J. A. Martin and Northern Capitalists New Owners.

Hickory Correspondence, 17th, Charlotte Observer.

The biggest financial deal in the history of Hickory took place last evening when the Piedmont Wagon Works changed hands in a deal involving more than $400,000. The deal was engineered by Mr. J. A. Martin of this city and he and his associates were the purchasers. Just who these associates are is unknown at this writing, as their names are withheld from the public. That they are Northern capitalists, however, is definitely known.

It is said that the new owners desire no change whatever in the management of the plant, but Mr. C. H. Geitner, president and manager, and his associates have not yet decided what they will do in the matter and have given no definite answer. The great majority of the stock changed hands and Mr. Martin insisted every share should have the privilege of going at the same price and it is possible that every dollar of the $200,000 stock will be transferred to the new owners. The stock is very valuable, the last sale being at 167. At the price this large plant has brought, it appears that the stock is now worth about 200.

The majority of the stock is owned in Hickory, but outsiders own a good share, Charlotte being the place where most of the outside owners live. Mr. John M. Scott, the Heaths and others own good blocks.

The turning loose of $200,000 among the business men of the town will probably mean the establishment of new enterprises in town. Hickory is now on a boom and to add a few more enterprises to what it now has will have the effect of adding new impetus to the forward movement.

Your correspondent learns that the new owners intend to double the capacity of the plant and to continue it where it is.

The splendid timber available here makes this point one of advantage. The deal has been pending for some time and it has been reported that the International Harvester Company was the prospective, and again that the Studebaker Wagon Company was the buyer, but your correspondent learns that neither of these companies is in any way interested.

This enterprise was established nearly thirty years ago by the late Mr. Bonniwell and later became the property of the Messrs. Hall, who, however, lost control during the panic of 1893, when the present owners took charge. During these years it has paid handsome dividends and has been the nucleus around which Hickory has grown. It now has a capacity of 10,000 wagons annually.

Fourth of July Celebration in Salisbury.

The business men and other representative citizens of Salisbury-Spencer have planned and perfected, it is said, every arrangement for the biggest Fourth of July celebration ever held in North Carolina and are expecting thousands of visitors on that day. Among the attractions booked are band concerts, reel races, speakings, reading of Declaration of Independence, mule races, races by some of the fastest horses in the State for handsome purses, baseball and other features. A monster parade of two divisions will take place at 10 o'clock. Work of getting up this great event has been in progress two months and neither time nor expense is being spared to make it the star celebration of the year in North Carolina.

If you are not satisfied after using according to directions two-thirds of a bottle of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, you can have your money back. The tablets cleanse and invigorate the stomach, improve the digestion, regulate the bowels. Give them a trial and get well. Sold by all druggists.

"WILD JOHN" IS NO MORE.

Cont acts Pneumonia and Dies—Herm in Woods for Forty Years.

Gaffney, S. C., Dispatch, 19th.

One of Cherokee county's greatest curiosities is no more. "Wild John" Starnes, otherwise and better known as the "Wild Man of Cherokee," is dead. It became known several days ago that Starnes was sick and a party went in search of him, going down into the most secluded portion of the county where he lived and finding him. He was brought to the county home near here, suffering from pneumonia, and was kept there until Saturday night, when he died.

SHOT STONEWALL JACKSON.

"Wild John" has long been a curiosity. Many have gone into the forests in search of him, only to be disappointed, while there are some few who have seen and talked with him. He had been living the life of a hermit for something like forty years. It is stated that when a young man of some twenty years, Starnes, for some reason, became mentally unbalanced and took to the woods. He constructed a hovel of goods boxes, a very inadequate shelter, and there he has dwelt for the last forty years. Many conjectures have been indulged in as to what caused this strange action, but it is supposed that he was disappointed in love and took this action, although it has been rumored that Starnes was the man who accidentally shot General Stonewall Jackson and that this unbalanced his mind. He was as shy as a deer; hard to get a sight of and harder yet to talk to.

The Seaboard and C. & O. railroads will shortly get control of the Clinchfield, says the Columbia State. This means the extension of the road. The value of the Clinchfield road to the Chesapeake & Ohio and Seaboard Air Line is that it is by far the shortest route between the Ohio valley and the South Atlantic States. The road is only 243 miles long, and the largest town north of Spartanburg is Johnson City, Tenn., which has only about 10,000 people, but the Clinchfield has a strategic importance and taps the rich Virginia coal fields.

TEN BEST HYMNS.

A New York Methodist Church Selected the Ten Best Hymns That Have Been Written.

Biblical Recorder.

What are the ten best hymns? No universally approved list has yet been made out. Individuals, churches and denominations have their preferences, and any given list, however excellent, would be subject to revision. Suggestive lists, however, are interesting. For instance a New York M. E. church, after balloting on the ten best hymns found the following to be their choice: "Nearer My God, to Thee"; "Abide With Me"; "Jesus, Lover, of My Soul"; "I Love to Tell the Story"; "Lead Kindly Light"; "Rock of Ages"; "Onward Christian Soldiers"; "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Four others were tied for the tenth place: "Love Divine, All Love Excelling"; "Just As I Am"; "Faith of Our Fathers Living Still," and "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

Preacher Says St. Paul Would Have Been Baseball Fan.

Richmond Times-Dispatch.

One Sunday in each year is devoted by the Presbyterian church of Brooklyn to a sermon about baseball. The services are held under the auspices of the New York League of Y. M. C. A. baseball teams. This year's sermon was preached by the Rev. Edward H. Young. That St. Paul, if preaching in America this summer, would "undoubtedly be an enthusiastic fan and would attend all games," was the rather sensational statement of the Rev. Mr. Young in the course of his preaching on the national game. He said: "Paul was an enthusiastic sportsman. So close was his friendship with the presiding officers at the great games of Western Asia as to excite very active solicitude on their part in his behalf when Paul seemed in danger—so recorded in the Book of Acts. He uses athletic terms frequently, speaking of him self as a runner and boxer and figuratively applying the term 'the Nearly all women suffer at times from female ailments. Some women suffer more acutely and more constantly than others. But whether you have little pain or whether you suffer intensely, you should take Wine of Cardui and get relief.

Cardui is a safe, natural medicine, for women, prepared scientifically from harmless vegetable ingredients. It acts easily on the female organs and gives strength and tone to the whole system.

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Verna Wallace, of Sanger, Tex., tried Cardui. She writes: "Cardui has done more for me than I can describe. Last spring I was taken with female inflammation and consulted a doctor, but to no avail, so I took Cardui, and inside of three days, I was able to do my housework. Since then my trouble has never returned." Try it.
