LONGEST LINE IN THE WORLD.

Some Facts About Great Electrical Transmission.

Durham, N. C.

The immense hydro-electric development in North Carolina and the piedmont section is attracting the attention of the entire country. North Carolina is said to be the first State in which water power generated electricity was used for lighting and power purposes. Since this beginning, the State has kept in the lead in the utilization of this most important industrial force of the twentieth century. Of about 400 textile mills in the State, one-fourth use electricity as a motive power. With the completion of a number of lines now under construction, this number will be largely increased.

The placing of this electrical energy within the reach of the farmers to churn their butter, pump their water and to do a hundred other things, that were formerly accomplished by the wearisome expenditure of muscular energy, is making farming in the piedmont section the most enjoyable occupation in the world. With the completion of the interurban electrical railway system now under process of construction, the pleasures of the farm life will be doubly increased. The increasing application of this subtle mysterious energy to various industries will in time make the piedmont section of North Carolina a center of industrial activity. Investigations of expert engineers have disclosed the fact that there is a total of more than 2,000,000 horsepower of this energy available in North Carolina. The utilization of this amount of energy would bring upon the State an era of industrial development that cannot readily be conceived.

Within a few days the lines of the Southern Power Company will have been completed to Durham. The steel towers have been erected for some time, and the wires have been strung to within a short distance of the city. This line is said to be the longest electrical transmission line in the world. The energy will be conveyed from a point on the Catawba river a dozen miles below Charlotte to turn the wheels of the cotton mills of Durham. The prediction of such 25 years ago would have gotten the prophet into an insane asylum.

THE GOOD ROADS TRAIN MORGANTON JULY 18TH.

The citizens of this section will be given a fine opportunity to learn about the importance of good roads and the best methods of building and keeping them in repair, when the "Road Improvement Train" being operated by the Southern Railway and affiliated lines working in conjunction with the United States Office of Public Roads, visits Morganton on Tuesday, July 18th, at 2 p. m.

The train consists of lecture and demonstration coaches equipped with a stereopticon exhibits and working models, and is accompanied by Messrs. D. H. Winslow and W. N. Fairbanks, two government road engineers, who from wide experience are qualified to give the most valuable information on good roads building. W. J. Hurlbut, of the Land and Industrial Department of the Southern Railway, goes with the train.

It is the object of the "Road Improvement Train" to not only stimulate interest in the good roads movement but to give practical instruction in the building of roads and their repair. President Finley of the Southern Railway is an ardent good roads advocate and realizing the vast economic importance of a system of improved highways to the people of the South, made it possible to have this "Good roads school on wheels" visit all the territory served by the Southern Railway and allied lines in order that the people might have the opportunity to receive the information as to the improvement of roads which it affords.

The Southern Railway, at great expense, is handling this train without charge to the government or the people and all the lectures and demonstrations are free. The lectures and exhibits are bound to prove helpful to all interested in good roads and the experts will be ready to answer all questions whose solution may be puzzling the individual as to how best to improve his road.

The working models will be shown in actual operation, the motive power furnished by a gasoline engine installed for the purpose, and with these the experts are enabled to explain what materials make the best roads and how they are made and repaired at the smallest necessary cost.

The "Road Improvement Train" will be on the road continuously all the summer and fall, completing an extensive tour over the whole South at Richmond, Va., at a good roads convention to be held there in October. The tour began at Mobile, Ala., May 1st and a warm reception has been accorded the train at all stops.

Those in charge of the train extend a cordial invitation to the people of this community to attend the exhibition. All county officials and road supervisors are asked to take part and the ladies will be especially welcome.

DOOM OF WAR SOUNDED.

Signing of Arbitration Treaty Regarded as Long Step Towards Era of Brotherhood of Man.

Washington Dispatch, 8th.

Within a week or ten days at the latest the signatures of the Secretary of State, Philander C. Knox, and the British ambassador, James Bryce, will be placed on the treaty between the United States and Great Britain which will provide for the arbitration of all questions arising between the two countries, including even matters of vital importance and national honor.

The signing of the treaty will bring to an end the notable negotiations begun at the instance of President Taft and Ambassador Bryce early this year and will make what many believe to be the greatest step toward international peace ever taken.

The convention has been reduced to writing and to-day was sent to the government printer to be put in type so that proofs can be drawn. Some changes remain to be made, mainly in the phraseology, to which the greatest attention is being given with the purpose of avoiding any ambiguity or possible chance of misconstruction when the treaty comes to be tested by actual recourse to its provisions when an issue arises between the two countries. It is to be a model from which general arbitration treaties between the United States and other nations will be drawn.

Only one point of substance remains to be adjusted and the State Department is awaiting the last word of the British Foreign Office open that subject. There are two ways in which the object sought to be covered in this provision of the treaty can be attained; either of which would be acceptable to the State Department, so there is no reasonable doubt of a complete agreement. The next step, therefore, will be to correct the proof to comprise these slight changes and reprint the convention, ready for the signatures of Secretary Knox and Ambassador Bryce.

Lightning struck a cotton house four miles from Cherryville, Gaston county, on the 4th and killed Miss Mary Coster aged 18, and in addition Sylvanus Mauney and Charles Neil were severely injured and twenty others less severely shocked but none seriously injured. A horse driven by one of the party was also killed.

Solving the Fresh Air Problem.

Everyone feels more like work and does better work on a brisk October morning than in the "dog days." Weather conditions thus exert a powerful influence on the quantity and kind of work that one is able to turn out. Yet some factory managers see to it that dog-days last the year round in their plants—and then complain of the small output. The workman in the factory is its most sensitive machine and extraordinary sensitive to surrounding conditions.—Literary Digest.

In many of the more progressive factories air humidifiers and what are called air-washers are solving the fresh air problem. One contrivance purifies the air with a water screen and gives it the proper percentage of moisture. The single humidifiers are sometimes hung at intervals along the ceiling and keep in the air the moisture that is necessary for the workmen.

State Senator Theodore Bilbo, candidate for Lieut. Governor of Mississippi, was attacked and severely beaten while on a railroad train near Starkville, Miss., by J. J. Henry, whose character had been impeached in a campaign speech recently delivered by Bilbo at Blue Mountain, Miss. The first reports had it that his skull was fractured in the encounter but the latest are that he will recover. Henry was arrested under the charge of attack with intent to kill.

Dr. J. B. Carlyle Passes to the Great Beyond.

Raleigh Dispatch, 11th.

Dr. John Carlyle, one of the best known college professors of this state, died about 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his home in Wake Forest after an illness of some months. He was for 23 years professor of Latin at Wake Forest College and for several years was president of the State Baptist Convention.

Surviving are a widow, formerly Miss Dunn, of Tennessee, and two sons, Irving, aged 15, and Jack, aged 11.

Dr. Carlyle was one of the moving spirits of Wake Forest College, an institution that he loved dearly. He was active until a collapse came last spring, and he was taken to Black Mountain, but it was to late for the mountain air to throw off the grip of the deadly disease, which had fastened itself upon him.

Dr. Carlyle was one of the chief movers in raising an endowment of over $100,000 for Wake Forest, besides more than $16,000 for the Alumni building and $9,000 for another.

Besides being prominent in college work he was a great Sunday school worker, a devoted Christian and one of the state's leading citizens. He was prominent in Masonic circles.

The funeral will be held at Wake Forest.

Keep 'Em at Home.

Greensboro Record.

The tag business and the tax business have been tried in a number of places, among them Greensboro. Years ago the dog catcher with his net was abroad in the land. He landed dogs and impounded them; if not claimed and the tax paid the dog was shot, but the whole thing was a nuisance as ever.

There is only one way to work it. Make the owner of a dog keep him at home. The moment he is seen on the streets his owner is yanked up and fined $10. Our neighbor, High Point, has this law in effect and you can walk all over the city and never see a dog unless he is on his master's premises.

A man has a right to keep a dog, but he has no right to allow that dog to roam around and depredate on another's premises.

SAFE ROBBERS AT MARION.

The C. C. & O. Station Wrecked by Dynamite—Suspects Fire Upon Sheriff, Injuring Him.

Asheville Citizen, 11th.

The station of the C. C. & O. railroad situated at the junction of the C. C. & O. and the Southern railway track near Marion, was dynamited yesterday morning between midnight and daybreak and practically wrecked, the safe having been demolished, the windows shattered, the roof torn off and the tables, seats and telegrapher's instrument totally demolished. The safe was robbed of $4, the amount of money which was in it, but nothing else of value was taken, so far as can be learned.

From all indications the wreckers placed dynamite on top of the safe and blew a hole in it, then filling the hole with dynamite, which, when set off, blew the safe open. About three-fourths of a case of dynamite was used by the robbers.

The county officials placed bloodhounds on the trail of the guilty persons, but they lost the scent and returned.

There is no clue as to who committed the robbery, though three men were seen to come into Old Fort on a freight train last night, two of whom are said to have gotten off at a wood pile, the other alighting at the depot and going to the rear of it. Sheriff H. S. Mashburn, of McDowell county, and others, presuming that the men were the robbers of the depot at the junction, pursued the man who ran behind the depot and opened fire on him. Numerous shots were exchanged and Sheriff Mashburn was shot in the ankle. A carrier boy received a bullet in the arm. The supposed robber made his escape into the woods near the station, followed by almost the entire population of Old Fort. The two men who accompanied the man who was pursued made their escape.

Catawba Tax Listers Make Most Complete Books on Record.

Newton Special, 5th, to Charlotte Observer.

Monday will be a busy day here. Court for the trial of criminal and civil cases convenes and the board of equalization holds its meeting to put the climax on the tax listing for the year. Catawba will show not less than a halfmillion increase in assessed valuation and probably more. The tax listers have made the most complete books that have ever been made in the county. The work is not only much more accurate than is the usual case, but it is very neat and also gives the address of each taxpayer. Register of Deeds Gamble offered a prize in gold for the most accurate book and Sheriff Hewitt the same for the book giving the most postoffice addresses of taxpayers, and this influenced the listers to do their best, although they would have turned out an unusually fine lot of books anyway.

Charlotte Votes Bond Issue of $815,000.

HOMICIDE AT JONAS RIDGE.

J. T. Vance Killed by Therman Wise—Account of the Killing Furnished by the Trial Justice.

The following account of the killing of J. T. Vance by Therman Wise, at the home of Lucinda Barrier, near Ginger Cane mountain in Burke county, on Sunday, the 2nd inst., is given in a letter from the trial justice, W. M. Shuffler, of Jonas Ridge, to Clerk of the Court L. A. Bristol in the transmission of the papers in the case:

Therman Wise had gone home from church with one of Lucinda Barrier's daughters, J. T. Vance and E. C. Wise also went along. The parties were drinking. Trouble arose over a kiss. Vance drew his pistol and attempted to shoot Wise. Then Wise drew his pistol and Vance caught hold of the pistol and tried to twist it from Wise's hand. In the scuffle the pistol fired, the ball passing through Vance's body. This was in the afternoon and the news of the shooting soon spread over the community. Parties went to the scene and Vance was gotten home by next morning. He died about 12 o'clock noon Monday. The parties to the homicide were from the new county of Avery. There was an examination of five witnesses for the State who saw the whole trouble and who made the same statement, that the shooting was either accidental or in self defense. Thereupon the justice allowed Therman Wise to give bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the next term of the criminal court for Burke county, to be held on the first Monday in August. Other witnesses will be summoned for the State to testify as to Vance's statement after he was shot.

So far there is no provision for private examinations.

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good point nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eye, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So mild and gentle do they act that a hardy realist who has taken the Daily and Sunday Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and dizziness. Sold everywhere.
