

THE CONFEDERATE MONUMENT.

The Confederate monument in Court Square is about completed, with the exception of the bronze statue to be placed on the top. This statue will be a likeness of some Burke county soldier. Who it shall be has not yet been decided upon by the committee.

The committee is now busy in an effort to secure a majority of the qualified voters of the county on a petition to the county commissioners authorizing them to appropriate half the cost of the monument, this being required by an act of the last Legislature—Mr. Spainhour's bill. Under this bill, when the commissioners have a petition signed by a majority of the qualified voters, they are to appropriate to the monument fund $500 each year for three years when a like amount has been subscribed and paid by the people.

The subscription by the county does not require the levy of any tax whatever, but the payment by the county is to be made each year out of any surplus fund already collected by the general levy and not appropriated to any particular purpose. It is now believed that more than the required number of signers to the petition will be secured, and that the necessary private subscriptions will be forthcoming and the monument paid for at the end of the term prescribed.

Many adopted sons of Burke who had no direct relatives in the war from this county—among them this writer, the editor—but who are proud of the record of their ancestors from other sections of the South, and in many cases of Burke ancestors by marriage, take pleasure in signing the petition to the commissioners and in giving of their means to the committee to help pay for the monument, and when they see men whose fathers' and other relatives' names are on the monument slabs refusing to sign the petition or to give a penny to the cause, it makes them justly sick.

But, happily, there are enough patriotic people—people with the right kind of pride—to erect and pay for this monument, which should have been placed there a long time ago without so many little "hitches" and "requirements."

THIRTY-ONE YEARS OF NEWSPAPER SERVICE.

We trust we will be pardoned for laying aside our modesty for a moment to say that next month marks thirty-one years of newspaper service for the editor of THE NEWS-HERALD, all of this time, with the exception of two years, being spent in Morganton, and most of the time as editor and manager of the paper. He has had his "ups and downs," as the elevator boy would say—his seasons of reasonable prosperity and smooth sailing and his times when the wolf came very near the door—when the printers' pay-roll and other bills could hardly be met at the time—when he has stayed up nights to "squeeze in" something that was worth far more to the other fellow than to himself or the paper, receiving many times as compensation only a smile and a pat on the shoulder, and perhaps a "cold shoulder" later on—when it seemed he received the least patronage from those he did the most for—but, after all, we are thankful that we are still living and getting along as well as we are. There is not now a cent of encumbrance on the paper—it is all paid for—and a few of the back subscriptions which we ought to have would set the little incidentals straight and perhaps place a balance in bank. The numerous good friends and appreciative patrons of the paper is an inspiration to us to press on. We now have no other inclination.

Penny Ping-Pong Picture at Webb's Studio from Oct. 1st to Nov. 1st only.

Our genial postmaster seems to have made quite a hit by his address at the postmasters' convention at Asheville last week. His subject was "The Village Postmaster and His Relations to the Public." The Asheville Citizen said it was "a most pleasing and entertaining talk," the Charlotte Observer that it was "witty, instructive and eloquent," while a lady from Waynesville wrote him that they had heard so many nice things about his "village postmaster" speech, they wanted him to go to Waynesville and repeat it. An Asheville subscriber writes about the address on the first page of this issue of THE NEWS-HERALD. In addition to these compliments to our friend, the ornate and scholarly Banks of the Hickory Democrat said last week: "Charlie McKesson, pet of the Muses, godson of the Demosthenes, and as fine on tracing the etymology of a word as old Archbishop Trench." High praise this, and we all feel that our fellow citizen is worthy of it.

Mouday Instead of Saturday For School Holiday.

There are many schools that have adopted the new and better plan to keep Mondays for the off day, rather than Saturdays. There is a good reason for it that the scholars are better prepared for school on Tuesday morning than they are on Monday morning. Sunday is not the day when children, as a rule, prepare their lessons, and Monday they are generally unprepared for the best services in school. Let Sunday be observed as the Sabbath, and Monday they can have the entire day for out door exercises, and the evenings for study. The children, by going to school on Saturdays will the better observe the Sabbath day, and Monday they can use for getting in better shape for the following school days. This is a suggestion I offer absolutely free of charge, and given because I have the best interest of the children at heart. I, as a parent, prefer my children attending school on Saturdays, and give them Mondays to get ready for the following week days in school.

I believe the children will make better progress if this plan is adopted here. It has proven a success wherever tried.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation. For I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my left leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. S. M. MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drug out of a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

WHAT TO DO IN CASE OF AC CIDENT

If skin is broken apply Dr. Bell's Anti-Pain at once and the wound will heal quickly and never get sore. Used internally and externally.
