GOOD FOR THE OLD LINERS.

Along with a great many people of the county, regardless of political faith, we admire the pluck of the old line Republicans in deciding to hold a county convention to nominate a Republican county ticket.

Mr. Roosevelt was not nominated by the Republican party and is now trying to disorganize that party. These Burke Republicans will show their colors in trying to keep him and his followers from doing it, and we glory in their spunk, even if the Democrats are going to beat the whole layout.

A POST CARD CAMPAIGN.

A post card with a picture of Bryan on the front and on the back a picture of Governor Kitchin and what Bryan said in his paper against Senator Simmons is being distributed broadcast over the State.

THE NEWS-HERALD has already had its say as to what it thinks about Mr. Bryan meddling in our senatorial contest and the smallness of his utterance against Mr. Simmons. We don't believe it will take any votes away from the Senator.

It is also said on the card that

"Mr. Bryan wrote the Baltimore platform; overthrew the bosses and reactionaries; led the fight for the nomination of Woodrow Wilson, and that he is chairman of Woodrow Wilson's advisory committee." Maybe this will gain for Mr. Bryan some friends that he did not have and needed when he was three times defeated for President, but Mr. Simmons, who was always in the thick of the fight for Bryan and the whole Democratic ticket, will hardly suffer from the unkind knock by the Commoner.

PARAGRAPHS.

Woodrow Wilson wears the smile that won't come off.

That is a great struggle between Taft and Roosevelt for second place.

Now is the cackle of the oyster heard in the land.

There is no silent partner in the firm of Roosevelt and Johnson.

Before a western audience the other day, Colonel Roosevelt indignantly refuted the charge that he desired to be king, convincing even the few skeptics present, by pointing out that kings don't have much power.

Col. Roosevelt expects to break the solid south, but it is difficult to see how he will even bend it.

Maryland figures that the Colonel will be third in the race, which would seem quite appropriate for a man who is running for a third term at the head of a third party.

Taft predicts calamity if the Democrats win in November. A calamity to the trusts and the protected interests, no doubt.

THEY MAKE YOU FEEL GOOD. The pleasant purgative effect produced by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the healthy condition of body and mind which they create make one feel joyful. For sale by all dealers.

Great crowds greet Gov. Wilson on his campaign tours and evidence of his popularity is more and more manifest. He was given a great ovation in Nebraska Saturday, especially in Mr. Bryan's home town of Lincoln. Gov. Wilson publicly thanked Mr. Bryan for his support at Baltimore and Mr. Bryan asked the people to do twice as much for Wilson as they had ever done for him.

A MARVELOUS ESCAPE.

"My little boy had a narrow escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Police Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

In Customary Parlance.

"There's only one fault I have to find with that financial backer," said the candidate in a tone of annoyance. "What is that?" "He keeps referring to our party platform as a prospectus."

Morgan Gave $180,000 Without Hope of Reward.

J. Pierpont Morgan told the Senate campaign contributions committee in Washington Thursday that while he had contributed $180,000 to the last two Republican presidential campaign funds, the gifts were made "without expectation of return." After saying he had contributed $150,000 to the fund of 1904 and $30,000 to the fund of 1908, Mr. Morgan turned to the committee and exclaimed earnestly: "I want it distinctly understood that J. P. Morgan & Company never made a single subscription to any election, with any promise or expectation of anything, or return in any way, shape or manner, and we never made it without we deemed it advantageous for the government and the people. We never had a communication from any candidate. We never had an application from any candidate for money, and anything that we did, or that was done under my suggestion—and we were all in harmony—was that it was necessary for the good of the country and the business of the people. There was never a commitment of any expectation of any return, and we never got any return, either, from anybody."

Simmons Will Sweep Field.

Major Samuel Telfair, of Raleigh, was a business visitor here yesterday. Major Telfair was private secretary to Governor Fowle and Governor Hilt and has always manifested a deep interest in things political. When asked about the outcome of the senatorial race Major Telfair said that he thought there was little doubt but that Simmons would sweep the field in the first primary. Major Telfair said that in the various sections where he had been and judging by reports from the other sections there was an overwhelming sentiment for Simmons. "As I look at the situation I hardly see a chance for the other candidates and think that Simmons will win 'hands down' in the first primary."

The poll of the New York Herald for the past week shows that Governor Wilson is still leading his two opponents in the presidential fight, but that Taft shows growing strength.

Vermont's Failure.

"The inefficient are necessarily the disorganizing," said a Murrey, apropos of a political leader who had failed. "A middle-aged failure got a summer job in a Vermont general store last month. A boy came in one morning and asked him for half a pound of melted maple sugar, the famous Vermont dainty, at the same time laying a peep on the man's shoulder. "The inefficient failure, without weighing the pot first, ladled a lot of the sticky syrup into it, then, of course, when he set the pot on the scales, it went down with a bang. Finally he ladled out all he could—but, again, bang went the scales. "When the man returned the boy the pot and said: "Go back home and tell your mammy, we can't make a half-pound of maple sugar."

Gift of Danes to Native Land.

Americans of Danish descent have purchased a tract of 300 acres of typical and virgin Danish heather landscape in the province of Jutland and have presented it to the Danish nation as a memorial of their love and good will. The park is to be known as "the Danish-American Park," and the only proviso in the deed is that on each Fourth of July the stars and stripes are to be hoisted over the park and the park turned over to Americans. The late king Frederick VIII had signified his intention of personally accepting the park on behalf of his people, but that duty will now devolve upon some representative of the royal government.

At a pellagra conference in Columbia, S. C., last week it was decided that the cause of the disease is unknown and that no remedy has been found for it. It was held, however, that suspicion against "spoiled corn" is sufficient to lead to legislative measures to prevent its use as food.

Church Bars Telephone User.

Henry Yoder, who is a member of the Mennonite religious clan here, has been requested by a committee of the sect to have the telephone removed from his home, otherwise he will be excommunicated. The church people contend a telephone is of the world and should be discarded. Yoder contends the telephone is a necessity, but will report his decision to the church committee in a few days.—Centrals correspondence St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

DICKENS' METHOD OF LABOR

Great Novelist Evolved Plots as He Walked, According to Testimony of Old Friend.

Marcus Stone, the veteran painter whose old-fashioned young men and maidens meeting or parting in old-fashioned gardens have for so many years delighted the British public, celebrated his 72nd birthday last week. He has been giving some of his reminiscences. Every Christmas and every summer for 20 years Marcus Stone used to visit Charles Dickens at his various homes, especially at Gad's Hill, near Rochester. "Dickens," says Stone, "was one of the greatest and kindest men I ever met. He was imbued with the true Christian spirit. What particularly struck me at Gad's Hill was the atmosphere of calm and comfort one felt at once on entering the house. "At 2 o'clock every afternoon we used to have a 20-mile walk in the country round. Dickens spoke but little while walking, and this after a time led me to discover the secret of his amazing industry. He sat only for a few hours at his desk, and I always wondered how he could be so prolific an author. "Well, owing to his taciturnity in our country walks I began to suspect that it was then he evolved most of the plots of his novels. His brain was active all the time and the task of reproducing on paper the things he imagined and thought about became more or less a mechanical process."

NOT LIKELY TO SPOIL SCENE

Actor Willing to Guarantee He Would Make Decent Corpse as the Dead Julius Caesar.

Speculation is rife along the New York Riario as to whether or not in William Pabstham's production of "Julius Caesar" Fuller Mellish, who has been cast for the part of Caesar, will actually appear in the oration scene. This is because of a quip retort of Sir Herbert Tree, which has just found its way across the Atlantic. "Tree is quite a stickler for detail, and although it is generally customary for the dead Caesar to be represented in the oration scene by a dummy, Tree, in his recent revival of the Roman drama, insisted that the actor cast for Caesar should actually appear upon the bier. "To Caesar of the play demurred, averring that he was subject to colds and that the drafts upon the stage might cause him to sneeze, thus spoiling the effect of the scene, to which Tree quickly and dryly retorted, "Never mind; in that case you'd be playing 'Julius Cæsar'."

Earning College Expenses.

Miss Florence McArdle, a senior at Boston university, is in charge of the girls' department of the students' employment bureau. This year about one hundred women students have been supplied with work. Boston university was one of the first colleges to realize the value of an employment bureau for its students. Miss McArdle says that one of the best ways for girls to work their way through college is to get into a family where in return for performing certain household duties they get room, board, laundry and car fares. Never before have so many girls been working their way by this method as this year, and the supply was not equal to the demand. Miss McArdle is working her way through college and in return for a specified number of hours at the bureau gets her tuition free. Before taking up this work she had tutored, done office work and many other things to support herself while getting education.

NEW VERSION OF WHAT IS DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Will Probably Agree on Slight Modification of Present Vote's Eligibility Ruling.

Indications are that there will be a modification of the recent ruling of the State Democratic Executive Committee as to what shall constitute "Democratic ticket" in qualifying to vote in the senatorial contest. It is reported that representatives of all three of the candidates for the Senate have agreed that there can be a modification on the basis that the national, congressional and legislative Democratic tickets must be voted and the elector must also vote not less than two-thirds of the State and county tickets, and vote for no candidate opposing those Democratic candidates on the State and the county tickets scratched.

Col. Roosevelt Testifies About Campaign Funds.

Theodore Roosevelt, for seven years President of the United States and candidate for re-election on the national Progressive ticket, occupied a witness chair for three and a half hours today before a Senate investigating committee, defending his administration, himself and his campaign associates against what he termed "infamous charges" and "hearsay evidence." He appeared before the committee at his own request, to answer the statements made in August by John D. Archbold that the Standard Oil Company had given $100,000 to the Republican campaign fund in 1904, under the impression that President Roosevelt knew of and approved acceptance of the contribution.

NOT ONLY DID COLONEL ROOSEVELT DENY THIS, BUT HE PUT INTO THE FORMAL RECORDS OF THE COMMITTEE A SWEEPING DENIAL THAT HE HAD EVER SOLICITED FUNDS FROM ANY ONE WHILE PRESIDENT; THAT ANY MONEY HAD BEEN RECEIVED BY THE 1904 CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE WITH AN EXPRESS OR IMPLIED PROMISE OR FAVORS FOR THE ADMINISTRATION; THAT EXCESSIVE FUNDS HAD BEEN USED IN HIS 1904 OR 1908 CAMPAIGN; OR THAT MONEY HAD EVER BEEN IMPROPERLY USED IN HIS BEHALF, SO FAR AS HE KNEW.

In reference to the Harriman fund of $240,000, raised in 1904, Colonel Roosevelt declared the statements of J. P. Morgan, George R. Sheldon and others had fully corroborated his earlier statements that this fund was raised expressly for the New York State campaign and had not been solicited by him for his own support in the fight for the Republican nomination that year. "There was not one word spoken by Mr. Harriman or by me having any reference to any collection of funds for the national campaign," he said, referring to his interview with Mr. Harriman in October 1904. "On the contrary, the request was from Mr. Harriman that, inasmuch as we had ample funds for the national campaign and as the national was safe, we could help him out in the State campaign."
