The Poultry Show. "The biggest, best poultry show ever held in the South," is the verdict of all who saw the exhibit in Morganton November 20th to 23rd, and many of the jury have seen the biggest. Nearly a hundred prizes were awarded and all cash prizes were paid before the show closed. The handsome silver cup given by Messrs. Cook & Sons, of Scotch Plains, N. J., for best pen of Orpingtons, went to Athens, Ga. It is believed that Mr. Charlie Forney, of Morganton would have won this prize had he entered for it. All prizes and expenses of the show were paid from the proceeds and there was a little money left.

Cotton in Burke. Heretofore very little cotton has been raised in Burke, while in our neighbor counties Catawba, Cleveland and Rutherford it is one of the principal crops. But some of our farmers are now raising cotton, and at a profit, and next year will no doubt see increased acres in the staple. The Alpine Cotton Mills have a cotton gin and Mr. Ernest Erwin, the secretary and treasurer, tells us that he has already ginned about fifty bales of this year's Burke county cotton. He also tells us that the farmers who have tried cotton this year are so well pleased they will increase the acreage next year.

Big Metal Shingle Business. The Cortright Metal Roofing Company, of Philadelphia, Pa., whose advertisements of Cortright Metal Shingles have been running in THE NEWS-HERALD for nearly a year past, advise us that 1912 will show an immense volume of business in their line. It is gratifying to carry the advertising of so prosperous and successful a concern and to feel that THE NEWS-HERALD has had some part in creating such success. Any of our readers interested in roofing should call upon the company's local representative, the Morganton Hardware Co.

Glen Alpine News.

To-morrow is Thanksgiving and we have much to be thankful for. While other nations are at war we are at peace with all the world. For this and all other blessings let us give praise to the Giver of all good and perfect gifts and give thanks in a way that will be pleasing in his sight. Last Saturday 27 solid cars of live turkeys passed through here on one train to the markets of the north. Our people have been busy for the past several days killing hogs. Mr. Alfred Scott will take the ribbon. He killed a 13-months-old pig which netted 425 lbs. There will be very few if any to kill for Christmas. We have had war scares. This killing resulted from a hog scare. Over on Linville and other places farmers have lost their hogs, and in some cases some lost all they had. Our good friend Caleb Kincaid, who lost several, was over to Boney Mangum's and Boney called him a "hunter." Cale said, "Now, Boney, you stop that; I may be a hog hunter but one thing sure I am no 'Moose Hunter.'" Boney gave Cale a pig and once more the two friends were at peace. Capt. John Leonard, foreman for the Southern, has had a broad smile on his face and is giving the "glad hand" to all he meets. "Yes, sir, it is a boy—a 10 pounder." John will have him on the section soon.

PROVED A MAN OF HIS WORD Broker, True to Promise, Remembered Old Apple Woman in His Day of Rejoicing.

"Yes, I have my regular customers," said the old apple woman at a Wall street corner as she polished an apple, "and now and then I has one that lets me share in his good luck. When industrials was on the kite, along comes a broker who says: "'Good mornin' to ye, Aunt Sally, and how's apples sellin' today?'" "Two for five, yer highness," says I, "which is cheap for apples at this season of the year." "That's true," says he, "and I'll take along a couple fer luck. I'm in industrials to make or lose a hundred thousand. If I make, I'll remember ye." "Gord bless ye!" I says, as I gives the apples an extra polish and hands them over. It was three days before I sees him agin. Then he stops at me stand wid a look uv benevolence on his face, and money in his hand, and says: "'Aunt Sally, yer polished apples brought me luck, and I'm a man av me word. I cleared a hundred thousand that day.'" "'Gord be praised, yer worship!'" "And ye'll please accept this as a little token av love and esteem from yer true friend." "And wid that the dear, good-hearted man hands me a nickel and walks away wid the benevolence creeping down his shirt collar. And I was so affected that a boy stole two av me biggest apples whilst the tears was in me eyes. My husband says it ought to have been a dime at least. But, God bless ye, sir, that broker could have sold out his business and moved to Boston and dodged me altogether, ye know."

MORE WORK FOR THE SEXTON Church Authority Introduced to a Custom He Hopes Will Not Become Universal.

"Long ago I got used to receiving mail which strangers in town had directed in our care," said the sexton, "but last Saturday night was the first time this old church was ever used as a clearing house for dry goods. An out-of-town woman ordered a hat sent up here. She dropped in about 4 o'clock and told me it was coming. "I don't know just where I shall stay tonight," she said, "but I do know that I am coming here to church to-morrow morning, so I told the milliner to deliver my hat here. I'll come to church early and put the hat on back here in the chapel, if you don't mind." "If I didn't mind! What earthly difference did it make whether I minded or not? Instructions had been given for the delivery of the hat, the woman said she couldn't be seen inside the church without it; she expected to worship with us the next day, so what could I do but receive the hat?" "I hope, however, that the custom of having merchandise for the congregation delivered here will not become widespread."
