OLD AGE.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. It stands for experience, good sense, wisdom, contentment. Old age as it should be but that is old age as it is, means poor digestion, torpid bowels, a sluggish liver and a general feeling of listlessness and misery. This is the most every first step to a wholly unnecessary. One of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets taken immediately after supper will improve the digestion, tone up the liver and regulate the bowels. That feeling of dependence will give way to one of hope and good cheer. For sale by all dealers.

Dr. W. H. Wakefield, of Charlotte, will be in Morganton at the Walton House on Friday, Feb. 28th, one day only. His practice is limited to the medical and surgical treatment of diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat and Fitting Glasses.

Great White Father Remembers Indian.

Ground Broken For Memorial to the North American Redmen - Taft Makes Last Public Appearance From Capital.

New York Dispatch, 22nd.

President Taft, making what is his final public appearance outside of Washington before retiring from the White House, spent one of the most eventful days he has ever passed in this city. Arriving here from Washington in time for breakfast, the President was taken here and there about the city by an automobile and tubgoat, attending several functions as guest of honor, and retired late to-night, planning to return to Washington to-morrow afternoon. During the day he broke ground for an Indian monument overlooking the harbor, dedicated a "light-house" settlement for the blind, after watching sightless children drill, attended a private reception of the Sons of the Revolution at the tavern where Washington read his farewell address and to-night spoke at a dinner of the American Peace and Arbitration League, which presented him with a gold medal in recognition of his efforts in behalf of universal peace.

INDIAN WARRIOR STATUE.

A band of Indian chiefs from Western reservations watched their "great white father" overturn a patch of earth with a spade and at the spot where a 60-foot statue of an Indian warrior, the North American Indian memorial will arise, at Fort Wadsworth.

The "red men" signed an oath of allegiance to the United States after President Taft, in a brief speech, referred to the North American Indian as a "force with great and immediate and direct influence upon the settlement and development of this country by the white races."

NATIONAL SALUTE GIVEN.

The guns of the fort roared a National salute of 21 guns at the moment the President placed his foot on the spade. As he stepped back, Chief Hollowhorn Bear of the Yankton Sioux came forward from the group and upturned a second bit of earth with the high bone of a buffalo. That done the chief replied with a speech.

As Hollowhorn's speech died away, the Stars and Stripes were run up a great flagpole nearby, to the rhythm of Indian folk songs, sung by the chiefs. When it reached the top the band broke out with "The Star Spangled Banner." The gathering of the Indians marked the last time, perhaps, that so many native chiefs will assemble in the East. Most of them are between 75 and 80 years old. Some of them fought against Custer, among these being Chief Hollowhorn Bear, who stands 6 feet 4 inches tall, and Chief White Man Runshim, more than 70 years old, tall, straight as a pine tree and one of the finest specimens of the Indian alive today.

HENCEFORTH CITIZENS.

Hollowhorn said he and his companions considered themselves, from this day forward, citizens of the United States.

"To the end of our days," he said, "we will encourage our children to take the advice of the white man. We ask him to join us and help us get out of the rut, in which we have existed so many years. We thought that when the white man came, he came as a visitor, but we found he came to rule us. We see now that he was fated to come and to improve our country and to teach us civilization."

Murder Of Madero Brings Death List Of Rulers to 7.

New York Dispatch, 24th.

With the killing of Madero and Suarez, the deposed heads of the Mexican republic, in Mexico City, the death of those who have paid the fatal price for ruling in Mexico is increased to seven names. Just a little more than a century ago, Michael Hidalgo Y. Costilla, the parish priest of Dolores arose as the "liberator" of Mexico and clutched control from the feeble hands of the Spanish Viceroy.

An obscure country priest, Hidalgo, conspired with his own parish in the state of Guanajuato in 1810 and in the fall of that year when he rang the bell of his church to call the people to war, an army of 5,000 rallied to his standard. He pressed on toward Mexico City with constantly increasing numbers until he had a following of 100,000 of patriotic but undisciplined men.

A force of only 6,000 veteran soldiers of Spain delivered a crushing defeat in January, 1811, and drove Hidalgo to the mountains where he waged guerilla warfare until he was caught and shot in July, 1811.

The list of emperors of Mexico who have "listened last to the rifle's speech," thus opened, is as follows:

Michael Hidalgo Y Costilla, liberator, 1811.

Jose Marie Moelos Y Pavon, president, 1815.

Francisco Xavier Mina, president, 1817.

Agustolin de Iturbide, emperor, 1824.

Maximilian, archduke of Austria, emperor, 1867.

Francisco I. Madero, president, 1913.

Jose Pino Suarez, vice-president, 1913.

Washington Will Take No Chances This Year.

Despite the fact that the weather bureau has promised Washington clear and bright weather for inauguration day, the street cleaning department of the city proposes to be prepared for a repetition of the blizzard that marred the inauguration of President Taft four years ago. A large force of men has been thoroughly organized.

Besides 300 men regularly employed, an additional 300 men will be available should conditions make it necessary to keep the line of march free from snow.

These men will be held in readiness on the morning of the parade. They will be massed near the beginning of the line of march and if necessary precede the marchers and sweep the streets, at the same time brushing cleared space as dry as possible. The line of march this year is nearly two miles long and the entire distance will be watched and kept clear and free from all obstructions.

The isolation of Washington which made the inauguration of President Taft four years ago such a memorable one, cannot occur this year according to information obtained from the telephone and telegraph companies here. Within the last few years he companies have installed a complete underground system of wires that extends from the capital to New York and Boston through Baltimore and Philadelphia.

The Fate of Taft.

New York World.

There are good Republicans in the United States who will perceive in the fate of William H. Taft a resemblance to the judgment that overtook Francisco and Gustavo Madero in Mexico. The law of flight was not invoked in his case, but he was forced out of his party leadership by an insurrecto and he was shot in the back.

Gives Seat on Train to Woman and S'ands in Aisles.

Princeton, N. J., Dispatch, Feb. 22nd.

The next President of the United States gave up his seat on a train to-day to a woman, who was standing in the aisle. She was not near him at that, but at the other end of the car when he spied her, arose, bowed and beckoned for her to take the seat he vacated. She smiled, thanked him and took it.

Governor Wilson made the trip here from New York on an accommodation train. A holiday crowd was aboard and the President-elect stood for nearly an hour. Scarcely was he settled down in his seat when he saw the woman standing and promptly surrendered it. Many of the other seats in the car were occupied by men.

He requested that the North Carolina Guards be first designated for this service.

Vaughn Bible Class Gives Webb an Ovation.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Representative Webb, father of the Webb liquor bill, was given an ovation last night when he appeared at Vaughn Bible Class banquet at the Calvary Baptist Church. The Vaughn class is one of the oldest and by far the largest Sunday school classes in the United States. Ten thousand or more members of the class pledged the ninth district congressman their support in upholding the Webb liquor bill. When Mr. Webb had finished his speech he was cheered for 15 minutes.

A Girlish Scheme.

"Your daughter plays some very robust pieces."

"She's got a beau in the parlor," growled Pa Wombat, and that loud music is to drown the sound of her mother washing the dishes."

The Major Changes Base Often.

It will be of interest to North Carolinians to know that Major Hemphill, formerly of this State, is now stationed in Washington as special writer for the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Why the Southern Farm Boy Hates Milking.

Progressive Farmer.

A friend asks: "How is it that Southern boys dislike milking cows so much, when those raised on Northern farms do not look upon milking as more disagreeable than many other kinds of farm work?"

There are several reasons which may account for the difference. The writer has often asked himself the same question. He began milking cows before he was ten years old, and preferred milking to many other forms of farm work. In fact, he regards milking, as he did it when a boy, as by no means more disagreeable than the general run of work on the farm.

But there is a difference. The is the greatest of modern-time helps to perfect cake and biscuit making. Makes home baking pleasant and profitable. It renders the food more digestible and guarantees it safe from alum and all adulterants.

likes milking for the following reasons:

1. He is taught, by precept and example, that it is disagreeable work. This plays an important part in forming his opinion.
2. He does not know how to milk, because so little of it is done and it is so cordially disliked that he has never been taught to milk properly. We like to do the things we do well, and per contra, dislike to do the things we do poorly.
3. Milking is not profitable to the Southern boy. A profit goes a long way towards removing the disagreeable features of any business.
4. Milking is done under the most adverse and disagreeable conditions in the south. The cows are not properly trained, and the milker is never in sympathy with his work.

Recently the writer heard a lawyer give as one of the reasons why he left the farm, that he was made to milk cows when a boy. He related, with the innocence born of ignorance, what a terrible task milking was, with the cow restless and a lusty calf fighting for a part of the scanty supply of milk afforded by the mismanaged cow.

I could not help feeling that the boy did right in leaving the farm for the law; for a boy taught to milk a cow while being fed in a filthy stable, and at the same time compelled to engage in an unequal struggle with a vigorous and determined calf for the scanty supply of milk, was scarcely likely to find dairying, or any other farm work, agreeable or profitable.

When our cows are properly weaned from their calves, are trained to stand quietly and enjoy the process of milking without being fed; when milking is done amid clean and pleasant surroundings, and when good cows are milked by boys taught to do the work properly, then, and not until then, will milking cease to be regarded as disagreeable work by Southern farm boys. In fact, not until then will it really cease to be disagreeable work.

Read What These Women Say!

Bluffton, Ohio.—"I wish to thank you for the good I derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound sometime ago. I suffered each month such agony that I could scarcely endure, and after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely cured."

"Then I had an attack of organic inflammation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am cured. I thank you for what your remedies have done for me and should anything bother me again, I shall use it again, for I have great faith in your remedies. You may use my testimonial and welcome. I tell every one what your remedies have done for me."—Mrs. Ritona WRIGHT, Box 395, Bluffton, Ohio.

Pentwater, Mich.—"A year ago I was very weak and the doctor said I had a serious displacement. I had backache and bearing down pains so bad that I could not sit in a chair or walk across the floor and I was in severe pain all the time. I felt discouraged as I had taken everything I could think of and was no better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am strong and healthy."—Mrs. ALICE DARRING, R. F. D. No. 2, Box 77, Pentwater, Mich.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONSERVATIVE) LYNN, MASS., for advice, and answers to all questions. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
