

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK.

The heart is its own fate.—Bailey.

A narrow mind begets obstinacy, and we do not easily believe what we can not see.—Dryden.

He that hath light within his own clear breast May sit in the centre and enjoy bright day.—Milton.

This life of mine Must be lived out and a grave thoroughly earned, So on I drive—enjoying all I can, And knowing all I can.—Browning.

As the rose tree is composed of the sweetest flowers and the sharpest thorns; as the heavens are sometimes fair and sometimes overcast, alternately tempestuous and serene; so is the life of man intermingled with hopes and fears, with joys and sorrows, with pleasures and with pains.—Burton.

SECRETARY BRYAN AT ASHEVILLE.

Saturday night was a great time for Asheville. She had as her guest the great Commoner, Secretary of State Bryan, the occasion being the formal opening of the magnificent new hostelry, Grove Park Inn. Hon. Luke Lea, Senator from Tennessee, was also a guest of honor, and the splendid banquet was attended by men of note from both Carolinas and also of national distinction. Four hundred guests shared with Secretary Bryan and Senator Lea the hospitality of Mr. E. W. Grove, the builder and owner of the Inn, which is considered the finest and most unique tourist hotel in the world. Built at an estimate cost of $750,000, it is located on the side of Sunset Mountain, two miles from the center of Asheville. It is a marvel in engineering and architectural skill, and in its construction money has been considered only a means to an end. Mr. F. L. Seely, a son-in-law of Mr. Grove, was the architect.

Sec. Bryan's speech at the banquet Saturday night was the chief attraction, and the whole affair was characterized by a flow of wit and eloquence quite fitting to the great occasion.

It is a sad thing to note that so many of the old landmarks of Burke are one by one crossing the "great divide". Some of their names are written indelibly on the pages of the county's history; some have lived quiet, unassuming lives and have in an unpretentious way made their influence count in the lives of many. For over three quarters of a century "Uncle" Allen Conley, of Linville, has been one of the dependable men of the county, a reliable, honest, God-fearing man, who in every way observed the Golden Rule, and lived a life beyond reproach. He gave an example worthy of imitation to all who came within the radius of his influence, always teaching by his excellent example, rather than by precept. There can be no measuring of the influence of such a life in a community, and "Uncle" Allen's quiet presence will be missed in that section, where he spent his life.

About the opening of the Grove Park Inn at Asheville last Saturday night, the folks were wondering if Secretary Bryan, the principal speaker, received pay for his talk. He has given it out that he did; that the salary of the Secretary of State was insufficient for his requirements. Congress on last Tuesday wanted to know of the President what salary Mr. Bryan would need for all of his time. He says his salary of $12,000 per year will not pay his expenses. Well, we do not think he should be lecturing too much for pay or without pay—it lowers the dignity of the office of Secretary of State of this great nation. It is too much like "handing around the hat." If he can't live on $12,000 per year, let Congress raise his salary.

NEW COLLECTOR IN CHARGE.

Mr. A. D. Watts Sworn in Yesterday—Three Democratic Deputies Commissioned—Others Retained Temporarily.

Statesville Landmark, 16th.

Mr. Alston D. Watts, the new collector of internal revenue, took charge of the office yesterday. Mr. Watts arrived in Statesville from Washington Saturday morning. The transfer of the office from the retiring collector, Mr. Geo. H. Brown, to Mr. Watts was made by Revenue Agent Shawhan and yesterday morning about 9 o'clock Mr. Watts took the oath of office before Mr. J. H. Hoffman, notary public.

The first business transacted by the new collector was to issue commissions to the deputies who will be retained temporarily and to three new men. The Democrats commissioned yesterday are Mr. James W. Wilson of Morganton, who will take a place in the office vacated by Mr. A. A. Chandley of Madison county; Mr. N. L. Cranford of Winston-Salem, who succeeds Mr. H. E. Nissen, in charge of the stamp office at Winston-Salem; Mr. J. H. Aiken of Hickory, who will succeed Mr. Jos. Bandy as division deputy in the division composed of Catawba and other counties. Mr. Wilson went on the job yesterday and Messrs. Cranford and Aiken were here to receive their commissions. It was the purpose to retain temporarily John F. Reynolds, assistant to the stamp deputy at Winston-Salem, but he notified Collector Watts yesterday he would not hold on.

The office force under Collector Brown, except Mr. Chandley, and the division deputies (five in all, including J. M. Davis of Iredell), except Mr. Bandy, were all re-commissioned temporarily, as were the deputies under Revenue Agent R. B. Sams who are commissioned by the collector. Mr. Sams was in town yesterday and also Mr. J. F. Miller of Hickory. The latter is a deputy under the revenue agent and is on duty in Florida, but is commissioned by the collector of this district.

The office force under Collector Brown, retained temporarily by Collector Watts, is as follows: F. T. Walsler, chief deputy, R. B. Roberts, cashier, J. L. Council, I. M. Gordon, Miss Zora Williams, stenographer, M. L. Troutman, messenger. Mr. Chandley, who is succeeded by Mr. Wilson, went to his home in Madison county recently for his vacation and notified the office that he would not return.

While all the men in this service are under the civil service it is a ruling of the Attorney General under the Taft administration that the commissions of all deputies expire with the commission of the collector. The old force retained as well as the new appointees receive temporary commissions. There is at present no list of persons who have passed the civil service examinations from which new appointments can be made in this district. That being so the collector is authorized to make temporary appointments until an eligible list is established. This means that all the Democrats appointed by Collector Watts will have to pass the civil service examination to be held August 16th if they are to hold their jobs; and others who pass the examination at that time will be in line for appointment.

Confirmation of Burning of Seres—Horrible Work of Bulgarians.

Saloniki Dispatch, 16th.

Full confirmation of the reported sacking and burning of the Macedonian town of Seres by the fleeing Bulgarian troops and of the crucifixion, hacking to death or burning alive of many inhabitants has been sent to the Austro-Hungarian Government by Consul General August Kral of Saloniki. Three-fourths of the formerly flourishing town of about 30,000 inhabitants is a mass of smoking ruins, says the Consul General, who has just returned here from Seres, where he thoroughly investigated the situation.

Another horrifying story of a massacre reached here today from Doiran, a town 40 miles northwest of Saloniki. Mussulmans there have made written declaration, countersigned by three local Bulgarian priests, that the Bulgarians slaughtered 30,000 Mussulmans who had sought refuge in Doiran from the surrounding districts.

JUDGE DECLINES TO SET ASIDE DAVIS VERDICT.

Frankly Says, However, He Would Not Have Found Anti-Saloon League Head Guilty Had He Been On the Jury.

Raleigh Dispatch, 12th.

Judge C. M. Cook this afternoon declined to set aside the verdict of guilty in the case of Rev. R. L. Davis and imposed the same fine, $10, as was imposed in the police court. From this Attorney Beckwith gave notice of appeal.

At the outset Judge Cook said frankly that he would have found Mr. Davis guilty had he been on the jury, but he could not say that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence, and he felt it his duty to let the verdict stand. He then gave the auditors a lecture on the prohibition law, saying that it was the best piece of legislation ever enacted and that the western counties would go to war before allowing it to be repealed.

Judge Cook urged the people of Wake county to stop fighting the prohibition question, like other counties. He said he felt in beginning the case that Mr. Davis was not on trial, but that prohibition was. Despite this feeling and his high regard for the defendant and his people, he could not set the verdict aside, he declared.

House to Investigate Mulhall Charges.

A lobby investigation of extraordinary scope has been authorized by the House of Congress to supplement the Senate probe already under way. The investigation was prompted largely by the allegations of M. M. Mulhall, regarding the legislative activities of the National Association of Manufacturers. The resolution finally adopted so enlarged the scope of the inquiry that all efforts to control members of the House or to influence legislation by any person or organization will be subject to the inquisitorial power of the committee.

The committee, appointed by Speaker Clark, is composed of Gaerett of Tennessee (chairman), Cline of Indiana, Russell of Missouri, Roddenbury of Georgia, Democrats; Wills of Ohio, Stafford of Wisconsin, Republicans; Nolan of California, Progressive.

Ambassador Wilson Hastily Summoned from Mexico.

Washington Dispatch, 16th.

President Wilson today, after an early conference with Secretary Bryan over the latest aspects of the Mexican situation, presented by inquiries of foreign powers as to the attitude of the United States, ordered Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, at Mexico City, to proceed to Washington immediately for a conference.

Ambassador Wilson will hurry north on either the battleship Michigan or Louisiana from Vera Cruz, if any delay would be entailed by waiting for a commercial steamer. Officials here believe that the almost total interruption of railroad traffic between Mexico City and the United States will force the ambassador to make his trip by water. He is not expected here before July 23 at the earliest.

It is believed in official and diplomatic circles that an important announcement of the attitude of the United States in the pending situation will be made after the ambassador's conference with the President and Secretary Bryan.

Arm in Arm? Well, Perhaps.

For better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, the female of a bygone century who flattered on a strong man's arm is very nearly extinct in America.

The mode of today is lucky if he is not wallowed on the tennis court, outswum, outgolfed and outwalked. On that most crucial of all occasions when old fashions come most to the fore, a bride sometimes succeeds in trembling like a leaf or looking faint or suggesting by some ingenious manner a posture or speech that she is a poor, weak, defenseless thing. But the attitude seldom lasts beyond the church door.

So the current pow-wow in Paris and London over the rules for arm-in-arm walking will have only an academic interest on this side of the ocean. Side by side, yes. But perish the thought of a strong woman clinging to anything save her own sure self confidence!

Some Personal Effects.

When the late J. Pierpont Morgan was in Washington as a witness during the Senate investigation of presidential campaign contributions last fall he dropped into the offices of the revenue service in the treasury department, and was met by a clerk.

"Well, what can I do for you?" asked the clerk, who did not know the great financier from a side of sole leather. "I'm thinking about moving some of my personal effects from my London town house to New York," said Mr. Morgan, politely. "I want to find out whether or not they are dutiable."

"Well," said the clerk, looking profoundly wise, "what is the value of the stuff?"

"Right there the clerk got the shock of his life. "Oh," replied Morgan, "something I should say, between seven and ten millions of dollars."

Solicitous for the Whole Family.

Living on Armour boulevard is an affable old German woman whose efforts to be friendly sometimes touch upon the ridiculous. As she came out of her house the other evening to pick up the Star their family physician chanced to be passing. "Good evening, doctor; and how are you?" she asked with a funny little inflection at the end of the line. "Oh, I am well, thank you."

"And how is your nice little wife?" "She is well."

"And how is your son, Looey? I don't never see him no more like I used to."

"Oh, Lewis is well, thank you."

"And how is the other mobebebe?" she inquired just as solicitously.

The doctor looked amazed. "It isn't well," he replied. "It is in the hospital for repairs."—Kansas City Star.

How Synges Gets His Material.

No mere man of letters ever knew the life of the Irish peasant better than Synges. Books about Irish life do not appear to have interested him. He went to the people themselves for his information. Wandering about the country with his rifle, he encountered some strange companions—farmers, tinkers, beggars, ballad singers—a motley crowd. He observed them closely, their mode of life, their manner of speech, and what he saw he reported faithfully. Unlike the majority of writers on Ireland, he is entirely free from mawkishness or sentimentality. There is no Celtic glamour in these pages. A cold peasant in his whitewashed cabin, who bewails the conquest on an alien tongue, may possibly exist, but Synges does not appear to have met him.

SEE and TRY a DE LAVAL Cream Separator

We do not believe that a farmer who knows anything about farm machinery could be induced to buy any separator other than a De Laval after he had seen the latest improved De Laval machine and had given it a trial.

It is a fact that 99% of all separator buyers who do SEE and TRY a DE LAVAL machine before buying, purchase the DE LAVAL and will have no other. The 1% who do not buy the DE LAVAL are those who allow themselves to be influenced by some other consideration besides real genuine separator merit.

If you are thinking about buying a cream separator we will consider it a favor if you will permit us to set up a De Laval for you on your own place and have you give it a fair trial.

You will be under no obligation to buy the machine if it does not make good all our claims, and should you decide to keep it and cannot conveniently pay cash, you may do so on such easy terms that it will actually save its cost while you are paying for it.
