OUT OF SORTS

When you feel lazy, stretchy, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged look to the liver. It is torpid.

SIMMONS RED Z LIVER REGULATOR

IS THE REMEDY YOU NEED
It is not only an invigorating tonic for a torpid liver, but it extends its cleansing and restorative influence to the stomach and bowels. Helps purify the blood and food assimilation, the habit of regular daily bowel movements. When the stomach, liver and bowels are active, biliousness, flatulency no longer obstruct functional processes, the result of which is renewed energy, mental activity and cheerful spirits.

Sold by Dealers
Price, Large Package, $1.00
Ask for the genuine with the Red Z on the label. If you cannot get it, remit to us we will send it by mail, postpaid. Simmons Liver Regulator is also put up in liquid form for those who prefer it. Price, $1.00 per bottle. Look for the Red Z label.

COMMUNITY SERVICE WEEK.

December 3rd, 4th and 5th Set Aside by Governor as Community Service Days.

Governor Locke Craig last week issued a proclamation designating December 3rd, 4th and 5th as days to be observed throughout North Carolina as Community Service Days, stating in the proclamation that they are appointed as days wherein every man, woman and child in the Commonwealth shall lend heart, hand and brain to the service and development of North Carolina and of its every community and county, and as days wherein the people shall meet, confer and work together for advancement along the three-fold lines of investigation, united labor for the immediate improvement of the community and wise planning for its future.

All classes of people are urged to aid in making these great days for the Old North State.

Thursday, December 3rd, is designated as Public Roads, Grounds and Buildings Day.

Friday, the 4th, is appointed School and Neighborhood Day, and Saturday as County Progress Day.

The plan for the last named day is for a great public meeting at each county seat, when all the people shall meet together to discuss "The Needs and Possibilities of Our Country."

The entire week is set aside by the Governor as Home Coming Week, when all former citizens of each North Carolina community shall be asked to return to their old homes.

The plan is to be commended and no doubt all our people will enter heartily into the movement.

Trains No. 15 and 16 May Be Discontinued.

Raleigh Dispatch, 3rd.

Presenting a report of a gross decline in revenues of $320,000 in the two war months, Vice-President and General Manager E. H. Coapman of the Southern Railway has asked the corporation commission for permission to take from service several passenger trains.

The railway official declared in the outset that the company is seeking no permanent discontinuance of the trains, but that it is guided solely by desire to meet the vanishing revenues which he thinks must have accompanied the outbreak of the war.

If the company finds that its curtailment does not meet the popular demand, it will voluntarily restore the train, Mr. Coapman says.

"Our July receipts were normal," he declared, "and were substantially the same as the July, 1913, revenues. Our figures extend over August and September. During that time our freight receipts fell off $230,000 and our passenger $90,000. The Southern is one of the very few roads that do more passenger than freight business. I don't think there are half a dozen others in the country."

On the main line the company would very much like to take off Nos. 13 and 14, between Charlotte and Danville; and abolish second section on Nos. 37 and 38. Nos. 13 and 14 are the trains that pass Greensboro southbound at 3 o'clock a. m. and 6 p. m., respectively. On the western division outgoing No. 15 and incoming No. 16 would be abolished temporarily.

On the Greensboro-Goldsboro, the general manager does not specify but it is not improbable that his company would discontinue No. 108.

He insists that this is not to be construed as anything but a concession to receding revenues. He prepared a table for the commission and left it with request that it act as soon as possible, as it is hoped to announce the changes about October 17.

During his discussion of the Asheville early morning train Mr. Coapman urged as a cause for falling funds and decline of travel, the closing of Grove Park Inn after October 15. Of course, this is not to be permanent and it is understood that extensions are to be made on that great hotel.

It is reported that the Cannon Cotton Mills at Concord have recently filled a big order for 300,000 dozen of towels for the British government. The British wanted one million dozen towels for use in their armies, but the Concord and Kanawha mills were unable to furnish on such short notice such a large lot, but shipped 300,000 dozen direct to London.

It has been stated that Great Britain is in the market for a million undershirts, which are made partly of cotton, and also for a million top shirts. The latter are made of wool. Cotton mills throughout the section are looking forward to large orders from the war zone.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

The Harvest Moon full last Sunday.

Miss Alva Kistler attended campmeeting at Wesley's Chapel, Catawba county, last week, and visited relatives and friends in that county.

Delavan's comet is now visible in the early evening. It can be seen soon after sunset just below what is known as the Big Dipper, but is not very bright and is hard to locate.

Rev. W. K. Houk, who has been conducting a tent meeting near the State Hospital has asked us to announce that on account of the interest manifested the meeting will continue through next Sunday.

Married last Sunday at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. S. Hass, of Kings Creek, Miss. Kate Sherrill, of Charlotte, to Mr. James Laney, of Morganton. Rev. Geo. Bumgarner officiating. They will make their home in Morganton.—Lenoir Topic.

Mr. S. M. Asbury, of Lovelady, tells us that the Central Highway is almost completed to his home, near Drexel, the only thing necessary to completion being the layer of top soil over a couple of miles. This will be put on in the next week or two.

Little Miss Ruth Corpening, the eleven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pink Corpening, of John's River, was taken to Dr. Long's Sanatorium, Statesville, by her father Sunday for an operation for appendicitis. It is hoped that she will soon be able to return home.

From Monday's Charlotte Observer we learn of the death of Mr. Gustav A. Knabe, of Knoxville, brother of Mrs. Ralph Laxton, of Charlotte, formerly of Morganton. Mrs. Laxton went to Knoxville Saturday to attend the funeral. Mr. Knabe died rather suddenly in M. Mt. George, Ala.

Miss Sallie Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Martin, of Hickory, will be married to Mr. Hickory to Mr. Rowell Holt, of Montgomery, Ala. The Martin family is well known in Morganton. Mr. Martin's father having been one of the early proprietors of the Walton House.

Mr. W. E. Walton, until recently farmer at the State Hospital, purchased last week from Gaither and Collett, the local agents, a handsome Studebaker seven-passenger touring car. He and his family left Sunday in the car for Miami, Fla., near which place Mr. Walton will be engaged in business. Mr. Ernest Simmons drove the machine on the overland trip to Miami.

Mr. Hugh Hallyburton and family who have been residing in Julietta, Idaho, returned to Morganton last Saturday, and will make their home here. Mr. Hallyburton is a son of Clerk of the County Court, Mr. W. F. Hallyburton, and he and his wife, who was Miss Claudia Sudderth, daughter of Mr. R. A. Sudderth, were reared in Burke. Morganton is glad to welcome them back home.

In the mountain sections the galax season is now in full swing. Gathering the galax leaves for northern markets is one of the chief occupations at this season with a large number of the mountain people. A steady gatherer is able to earn from three to four dollars a day. The green and bronze leaves are tied in separate bunches, the latter bringing a better price. Gathering the leaves has of late years become an industry which gives employment to hundreds of men, women and children in Western North Carolina.

Mr. Hardie Turner, Morganton's especially gifted musician, is receiving the congratulations of his friends on the publication of "Apple Blossom Rag," recently composed by him. The composition is proving very popular, already several hundreds of copies having been sold, and prospects for the sale of many more when it becomes better introduced. This rag and a few other musical compositions are among Mr. Turner's first efforts at composing for public sale, and there is no doubt but that he will win fame as a composer to add to his already enviable record as a musician.

THE HOME OF GOV. STOKES

The Historic Mansion in Wilkes County is Offered to the State.

Wilkesboro Patriot.
About four miles west of Wilkesboro, near Brown's ford, on a hill that commands a magnificent view of the Yadkin river valley, stands the old mansion built by Governor Montford Stokes, and occupied by him for many years, during his eventful and distinguished life. The building for many years has been more or less neglected, but is yet in an excellent state of preservation. M. H. J. Steelman is the present owner of the property and he proposes to turn the property over to the State, if it in turn will care for it and take active steps towards its future preservation.

This proposal was made last week, when the historical mansion was visited by Col. Fred A. Olds, a well-known citizen and writer of Raleigh, who paid the place a visit while returning from a visit to Watauga county. Col. Olds proposes to take the matter up with the State Historical Society in an endeavor to have the State or some society take over, restore and preserve the property. In an old garden, near the mansion, lies buried the body of Gov. Stokes' gallant son, Col. Montford Sidney Stokes. The grave, it is said, has been much neglected, so much so that its exact location was, if indeed, it is not now, in doubt. The plantation upon which the mansion stands originally embraced nearly ten thousand acres. Governor Stokes fell heir to practically half of this vast body of land through his wife, Rachael, one of the twin daughters of Hugh Montgomery, the titled Englishman who took over the Moravian lands in this county. The other twin daughter, Rebecca, became the wife of Gen. Wellborn, who, too, had a distinguished civil and military career. Governor Stokes, it is said, was fond of his home here, and took much delight in tilling the fertile acres of his farm, which he styled "Morne Rouge." It is to be hoped that the movement to preserve the building may be fully matured and that the mansion may, at this opportune time, be secured and handed down as public property.

Work is being rapidly pushed forward on an additional building at the Appalachian Training School, a State institution at Boone, the new building to be known as Women's Hall. It is hoped to complete the building and have it ready for occupancy before cold weather.

A double burial service was held at Fairview church, at Mt. Mourne, Iredell county, a few days ago. They were Mrs. T. I. Nixon and Miss McCorkle, both of Mt. Mourne. Mrs. Nixon was first to die and two days later her sister, who had for many years made her home with her, also died. They had been ill for some time.

Concord did herself proud in her home-coming week and attendant celebration last week. It was a big time not only for Concord but for the whole of Cabarrus county, and was greatly enjoyed by those who attended. Editor Sherrill, of the Concord Times, and also editor of the Tribune, did much toward making the celebration a success.

Secretary John W. Suttle of the Western North Carolina poultry show expects between 1,200 and 1,500 birds here on exhibition December 1, 2, 3, and 4. $100 in cash prizes will be given above the regular prizes. It will be remembered that last year the Cleveland, Rutherford and Lincoln associations combined, so Shelby can expect to see the biggest show ever.—Shelby Star.

Avery, Mitchell and Yancey counties this year combined in holding at Spruce Pine the Toe River Fair, the first ever held in that section. Governor Craig yesterday made the opening address of the fair which will extend through Friday. Every indication is that the fair is a big one. It covers some of the best mountain territory in this section. No doubt the fair will be a great event in the lives of the people of those three counties.

A county poultry show will be held in Lenoir this fall.

Friday will be the Governor's day in Statesville. Gov. Craig will speak and a barbecue will be served.

The Shelby Star says that cotton in Cleveland was quoted last Thursday at 7 1-2 and cotton seed at 27 cents.

Gov. Craig put his automobile on the market a few days ago. He says he never needed it but has spent $3,000 on it and decided to quit.

Governor Craig has ordered a special term of civil court for McDowell county two weeks beginning November 30 with Judge J. L. Webb presiding.

Grove Park Inn, Asheville, will close on the 15th to make changes and provide more accommodations. The Inn has been a popular resort since it opened.

A Warsaw correspondent to the Charlotte Observer says that the huckleberry crop in Duplin county brought the farmers of that county $250,000, despite the dry weather of the summer months.

The cabbage wagons are now busy transporting that mountain product to Lenoir. Mr. Will Hayes tells us that so far he marketed $100.00 worth of his patch, and is still hauling. The crop so far as we can learn, is not as good as usual by a great deal.—Watauga Democrat.

On last Wednesday night Mr. H. T. Hoyle's saw mill and shingle machine, (Cleveland county) together with 75,000 to 100,000 feet of lumber and 40,000 shingles were burned. Fire was of unknown origin. There was no insurance and the loss was heavy to Mr. Hoyle.—Shelby Star.

The Boone & Blowing Rock Turnpike Co. is now having some splendid work done. The road drag is being used and the road bed made highest in the middle; all sags are being filled with stone, the bridges thoroughly repaired, and the road is being put in first-class shape.—Watauga Democrat.

Richard W. Sears, founder of Sears-Roebuck & Co., of Chicago, who died Tuesday Sept. 29, at his summer home near Waukesha, Wis., left a fortune estimated at $25,000,000.

Mr. Sears, according to business associates, was the originator of the mail-order enterprise. He began his business career in 1884 while working as a railroad telegraph operator, making a purchase of a dozen watches. He was then 21 years old, and retired at the age of 45. He was 51 years old at the time of his death.

The Sears fortune was helped along in the making by hundreds of orders sent from this section of North Carolina to that well-known firm. How much better it would have been to have kept those thousands of dollars in our own county and State.

Hard Times in Mexico. Charlotte Observer, 3rd.

There are plenty of men living in North Carolina to-day who can remember the time they paid $600 for a pair of boots, and many a woman who remembers having paid $10 a yard for calico and glad to get it at that price. The situation in Mexico at present will be appreciated by all survivors of war-time conditions in the South. Reviewing the financial situation in Mexico at present, the New York Post says the country "is flooded with counterfeit money; the issues of various chieftains are still in local circulation; and as the authorized paper money is worth about one-fifth of American money, while Mexican silver is worth about one-half, all metallic currency is being hoarded." There is no reason why this condition should long continue, and there is no expectancy that it will last long. The United States will shortly be teaching the Mexicans the art of re-financing a country. American money will before a great while bring the Mexican dollar up to the point where it will count for 100 cents.

Semi-Weekly Observer—Important Announcement.

The Charlotte Semi-Weekly Observer makes the important announcement this week that beginning with January 1, 1915, payment will be strictly on the cash in advance basis.

This paper is undoubtedly one of the best Semi-Weekly newspapers in the South, and this announcement will be of much interest in this section. At the same time they are making the announcement that from the present date to January 1, they will accept subscriptions on the basis of three years for $2.00. In this way they expect to collect all old subscription accounts and bring the present subscription list to the point where it is all paid in advance.

This is an unusual proposition for such a high-class paper and should certainly bring them some fine returns.

MARVELOUS DIVIDEND ACHIEVEMENTS

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York paid in dividends in 1913 the sum of $17,201,730.49, an amount without precedent in this country or in any other. Indeed, of more than 200 companies doing business in the United States, only 13, including industrial, had, up to January 1st, 1914, paid during their entire existence as large a total in dividends as the sum paid by The Mutual Life in 1913 alone. The company has also apportioned for payment of dividends in 1914 the still larger sum of 18,078,540.88, an amount nearly three millions greater than any other company has ever paid in a single year.
