RUTHERFORD COLLEGE

Hot weather, plenty of rain, town force working the streets, no preaching here Sunday, nothing unusual going on, and news as scarce as hen's teeth.

You should have seen President Hinshaw acting the carpenter Mon-day morning. He said he wanted a little exercise, and it did not take him long to get all he wanted. Rev. J. W. Bennett preached twice

Sunday for the pastor of the West Hickory circuit while the latter gave himself to the revival he is now holding at the central church.

Mrs. R. S. Abernethy is on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Smith, in Forest City. Rev. J. M. Lowder preached at Bollinger's chapel Sunday and said there was a considerable increase in the congregation.

Next Sunday is President Hinshaw's time to preach here—at 11 a. m., but as he is likely to be away another brother will occupy the time, and Pastor Elliott will preach at night.

What about those Rutherford College bonds? And when are we to get the electric light line? A more important query is, when is work to begin on the new church?
