SAY IT NOW.

A little preachment on the little kind things that we might say to each other and more often neglect to say than we say is one that all of us can well take to ourselves.

This line of thought was suggested by a little poem that appeared in a daily newspaper the other day. In reading it there came the remembrance of a man who came more nearly carrying out in his life, naturally, and sincerely, this idea of not neglecting the word of praise or the cheerful greeting than any other man possibly who ever lived in Morganton.

Why can't more of us be like that? Our lives are short and the best. Are we making the most of our opportunities and when we are gone will anyone think of the little things we did to brighten the lives of those around us?

This is just a small instance along this line but it carries out the same thought. Not long ago a business establishment did some work for a man and, of course, tried to please him. However none of the workers knew that it did please until the check in payment came in and across the bottom were written three words: "For excellent service."

MORE LOCAL NEWS.

At a little group meeting of editors in Asheville last week the informal discussion drifted around to the things that make the weekly newspaper more interesting. Practically all present agreed that the more local news that could be put into our columns the stronger hold we have on our readers.

Realizing that it is impossible for one or two—or even half a dozen people—to keep up with the news of a big county like this, we would acknowledge our indebtedness to those who give us news from different sections and also to those who put themselves to the trouble of telling us "things to go in the paper."

A newspaper is a sort of "commonly-owned" institution. By that we mean that every citizen of the county is interested to a greater or less extent in his county paper and the greater interest he shows the greater service the paper can render.

OUR BAND.

We Morgantonnians do not appreciate our band as we should. We take it too much for granted and do not give the boys who from this splendid organization as much encouragement as we should, not realizing the real asset that the town has in a good band—the best in the State—or what it would mean to us to do without it.

The News-Herald would like to see a movement started right away to do something in a substantial way for our band. No word of complaint has come from any of them and this suggestion on our part is absolutely unsolicited. We should do something for them. Why delay?

THE "BIG" IDEA.

After the Community Sing was over last Thursday night somebody asked "What was the 'big' idea of all this anyway?" And the same person went on to remark: "We had a good time I enjoyed it, but I haven't been able yet to see the object of it."

It is contradictory to say so, but there was a big object and yet no object at all in the gathering. By that we mean there was no object as such things are usually counted. The only idea that ever prompted it was that folks are happier in singing than in doing anything else in the world.

"A good hotel, good streets and a good newspaper can make any town a good town," was a remark overheard the other day in another town. We have the good hotel, we are gradually getting the good streets and The News-Herald is trying all the time to be a better newspaper.

A wag remarked that the Community Sing was a "howling success." Anyway, the "howling" seemed to go all right and "we all" enjoyed it. Here's hoping it was the first of many succeeding—"howlings."

The Morganton Laundry deserves all the home patronage it is possible to give it. It is an institution that has been needed for a long time and we want to see it succeed.

* SEND YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER THE HOME PAPER * Send the home paper to the boy or girl who has gone away to school. You could not spend $2.00 in any way that would give more real pleasure than to give them the news from home. It costs very little more in the long run to have us send it direct than to wrap your copy and mail it. Come in and give us the address and start the weekly visits of the paper with the opening of school.

NOTICE.

The registration books will be opened for the registration of voters in all the various precincts on Saturday, October 7th, 1922, and will close Saturday, October 28th.

"It Must Have Been Dead at Least 6 Months, But Didn't Smell."

"Saw a big rat in our cellar last fall," writes Mrs. Joanny, "and bought a 35c. cake of RAT-SNAP broke it up into small pieces. Last week while moving we came across the dead rat. Must have been dead six months, didn't smell. RAT-SNAP is wonderful." Three sizes, 35c., 65c., $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Davis Drug Co. and Morganton Hardware Co.—Adv.

CURRENT COMMENT.

After going over the record of the Sixty-seventh Congress one may be in doubt about the age-old charge that women are the talkers.—Owensburg, Ky., Messenger.

A good rule works both ways, but the trouble with the golden rule is it is hard to get people to work it either way.—Asheville Citizen.

The man who says the newspapers don't tell all the news is the man you can't tell anything.—Asheville Citizen.

More proof of the greatness of our great country: One chewing gum manufacturer spends $11,000 a day every day advertising his stuff.—The Greensboro News.

Judge Ray and Solicitor Clarkson after Mecklenburg court united in declaring that there is necessity for a rural constabulary. Indeed they say "rural policemen are imperative." The Legislature will be called upon to consider how to afford protection to the rural districts.—News and Observer.

It is generally supposed that Western North Carolina is the apple-growing section of the State. The New Bern Sun Journal notes the fine specimens brought to that market from Craven and Onslow and says "there is no reason my Eastern North Carolina should not be one of the greatest apple growing sections of the country." Orchards require attention and properly cultivated will give good returns.—News and Observer.

The French police have discovered a way of tracing criminals through the air they breathe. In this country the police have made a good many arrests on the strength of breath.—High Point Enterprise.

Just as long as North Carolina continues to send $235,000,000 each year out of the State for food and feeds, just so long will we fail to secure those comforts of life which living at home would bring.—News and Observer.

Newspaper readers are destined to learn a lot of new geography from events in the Near East. And they are thankful that the Near East is no nearer.—High Point Enterprise.
