They are compelled to make clothes wringer and churn; washes the their living in isolated sections. Their dishes, carries out the refuse are isolation has been their handicap.

Yet this need not be. Highway lighting, say engineers of the General Electric Company, will function as well for the rural districts as street matter are how the rural consume: lighting has functioned for the cities. and with the necessary lines in operelectric equipment and the operating ation across rural districts, lighting up the highways, other electrical conveniences will follow as surely as night follows day, installed highway lighting systems are but forerunners -they are but a hint-of the broader

Yet a lighted highway, as such, is at all. Highway lighting units, stretched mediate points.
